Digitized by the Internet Archive
in 2025 with funding from North Carolina Digital Heritage Center

https://archive.org/details/universityofnort00univ_39

JOSEPH
THOMAS
BARON
MARSHALL
HARRISON
EDUARDO
CHRIS
HELENA
MADISON
GABE
AIDAN
ABBEY
MAEVE
GARY MALCOLM
LOGAN
JOSH
DUSTIN
DIEGO
AIYANA
ALANA
GRANT
ISHMAEL
ISABEL
IRMA
JOHN
ELLIE
EZRA
JJ
NARADA
KP
WILL ROHIT
SPENCER
CHLOE
GILLIAN

Editors' Vision

The senior editors, Lina, Beth, and Lydia, wanted to create a yearbook that would reflect how time spent at UNCSA can change your perspective, as well as you as a person. UNCSA is unlike any other place and you experience a lot of things that you would not have elsewhere. These things, whether good or bad, alter your perspective and understanding of life. We've seen people's entire world views shift because of the people they've met, the challenges they've endured, and the community that has supported them. This observation led us to this year's theme: "Caught in the Kaleidoscope." One of the definitions for kaleidoscope is "a constantly changing pattern or sequence of objects or elements." The editors think that this phrase captures the constant change and development that students at this highschool undergo. Like looking through a kaleidoscope, UNCSA can change the way you see the world.

Artist's Vision

This year's artist is Anna Hendrick. When asked about what her vision was, she said, "When I was presented with the opportunity to design the cover for the 2020 Yearbook, the yearbook committee was interested in a design that followed the prompt 'Caught in the Kaleidoscope.' I went back and forth between several ideas, all of which I found to be overly cluttered and complex. It wasn't until I started drawing a detailed, funny looking pickle man that I knew how to fulfill the prompt in a way that projected my style. I turned him into a regular pickle and then repeated the pickle all over the page, just like how a kaleidoscope repeats shapes. I felt as though the more graphic design of the pickle lent itself well to being repeated, the texture on its surface mimicking the simple shapes in a kaleidoscope. Then, I added a multi-colored gradient in the background to further imply the idea of a kaleidoscope."

Table of Contents

8-9 Summer Reflections

10-11 The Turn of the Decade

12-13 2019 Spirit Week... Reflects Our Spirits!

14-15 Turning into a New Semester: Orientation Week

16-17 Turning it Back to Prom

18-19 Clubs and Organizations

20-21 Humans of UNCSA

22-23 The Yearbook and Dill

24-25 Student Government

26-27 The Many Colors of Friendship

The Art Schools

28-29 Movement in the Mirror: The School of Dance

30-31 Rubato and Refractions: A Look Into the School of Music

32-33 Through the VA Lens

34-35 Portraying Others' Perspective: The School of Drama

Life at UNCSA

36-37 From Artist to Student: Inside the Academic Hall

38-39 Welcome to Our New Teachers
Farewell to Mrs. Thompson

40-41 A Show of Color

42-43 Arts Training

44-45 A Flashback to Our Artists' Past

46-47 Why We're Here

48-49 Four Years and Still Standing

50-51 Our Friendly Faces

The Artists Themselves

54-55 The Freshman Class
56-59 Freshman Portraits
60-61 The Sophomore Class
62-65 Sophomore Portraits
66-67 The Junior Class
68-73 Junior Portraits
76-77 The Senior Class
78-103 Senior Portraits
104-107 Senior Superlatives
108-129 Senior Ads
130-131 A Little Surprise

UNCSA Yearbook Presents...

Caught in the Kaleidoscope

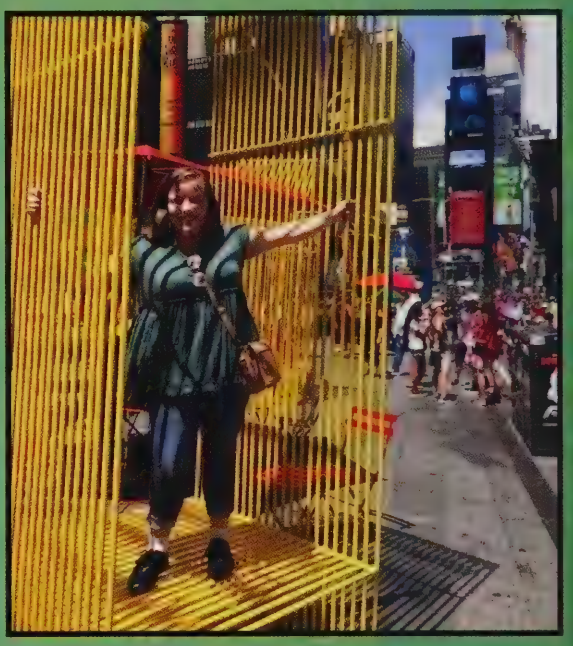
Summer Reflections

UNCSA students work hard both during the school year and the summer! Here we explore some of the ways we have grown, learned, and developed as artists and people.

Gary Harris helping to repair houses on the coast after they were affected by a hurricane.

Alexis Ward explores methods of recording and songwriting through a UNCSA summer intensive.

Ruth Kelley finds time to pose for a photo in between the crazy concert schedule of National Youth Orchestra.



"Going to NYU helped me grow as an independent person and artist, away from the UNCSA bubble, and has driven me to work on bettering myself for the benefit of my passion and discovering who I am, who I want to be, and how I am going to become that person." -Sara Gordon

"Dance has consumed my life for the past 16 years. This extremely intelligent and creative art form has shaped me into the person I am today. As a dancer, I have learned how to respect others and myself, how to collaborate while also being comfortable working alone, how to be daring but humble, to perform, to release, and to express. Through dance my physical body and mind have become conditioned, my stamina and awareness are heightened, and I feel prepared to face any challenge someone throws my way. I am so proud of my dancer identity, but moving forward, I want to challenge myself to grow in directions never thought possible. The intellectual stimulation and growth I saw in myself this summer helped me make the exciting decision to switch gears and pursue musical theatre! While dance will always be my core, the Performing Arts Project guided me to this new door and I can't wait to open it." - Bella Exum (right)

Jane Ferry makes a splash both at the beach and at UNCSA.

In between rehearsals, Rachel Fontenot soaks up some sun in Central Park.

Ash PC enjoys a tranquil moment on the beaches of Australia.

Jojo DiNorcia, Sydney Urmston, and Ada Walker found a moosey friend!

"I spent my summer at SSP Biochemistry, eight hours in the lab every day for six weeks. The 36 of us biology aspirants were characterizing phosphatases, fungal enzymes that had shown potential for pesticide targeting. By the end of camp, we were chanting the title of our professor's seminal work on phosphatases, "Cdc14 Phosphatases Preferentially Dephosphorylate a Subset of Cyclin-dependent kinase Sites Containing Phosphoserine." It became our daily pledge, a quirky and rather lengthy one, too. Besides becoming more comfortable operating SDS-PAGE, calculating enzyme dilutions, running linearity assays and the like, SSP helped me confirm my passion for biological research. Although this passion is distinct from and rarely intersects with my music studies, it is a uniquely challenging and rewarding pursuit, and I intend to continue biology in college. In the picture, I am receiving an SSP paper plate, the camp's version of a superlative award. I'm hiding the side inscribed with "Mycology Monet," but it was beautifully adorned with colorful mushroom drawings by my favorite TA. I had gained a reputation for hunting fungi on campus and holding up field trip hikes if I eyed a new species (Geoglossum was a particularly irresistible find!)" - Monet Jowers (left)

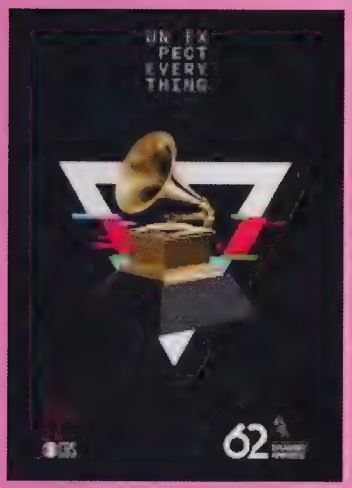
The Turn of the Decade

Since September of 2019, when the fires in Australia first began, at least 27 million acres of Australia have been caught by a massive brush fire. The fires have killed at least 29 people and destroyed some 2,500 homes. The destruction to the country's land and biodiversity is even harder to fathom. An estimated 1.25 billion animals have been lost, and scientists are afraid of the long-term damage to the ecosystems.

On December 18, 2019, the House of Representatives approved the articles of impeachment on the 45th president of the United States. Donald Trump was accused of abuse of power and obstruction of Congress. However, he was later acquitted on these two counts of impeachment by the Senate on February 5, 2020.

On Thursday, October 26th, 2019, the founder and leader of ISIS, Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi was confirmed dead, and ISIS appointed Abu Ibrahim al-Hashimi al-Quraishi as his successor shortly after. In ISIS's announcement, Baghdadi was claimed to be a martyr. The ISIS announcement came four days after President Trump stated in a nationally televised service that U.S. forces brought "the world's No. 1 terrorist leader to justice." Baghdadi's ashes were buried at sea.

Tik Tok has been dominating the high school halls in 2020. Founded by Zhang Yiming in 2012, the app has developed a userbase rivaling big names like Netflix and Facebook. Now found in 150 markets worldwide and 75 languages, this app allows people to make videos that showcase everything from comedy to lip syncs to dog grooming tips that users can create and share on their phones.



Billie Eilish won Record of the Year, Album of the Year, Song of the Year, Best New Artist, and Best Pop Vocal Album, making her the second person in history to win all four of the top awards in one night; nonetheless her first Grammys. Other winners were Lil Nas X and Billy Ray Cyrus for Old Town Road, Lizzo, and Koffee, who was the first woman to ever win a Grammy for Best Reggae Album.

"Parasite" was the biggest winner of the night with four Oscars and was also the first foreign language film to win the largest award of the night, Best Picture. The other big winners were: Joaquin Phoenix as Joker for Best Actor, Renée Zellweger as Judy for Best Actress, Brad Pitt in "Once Upon a Time... in Hollywood" for Best Supporting Actor, and Laura Dern in "Marriage Story" for Best Supporting Actress.

In late February, a new microorganism was discovered that does not require oxygen to breathe. Named Henneguya Salminicola, the parasite does not contain any mitochondria, making it impossible for it to process oxygen. Scientists believe the parasite somehow gets nutrients from its host.

2019 Spirit Week...

Sadie Grace represents the Junior class in her green sweater.

Davin, Ruth, and Lilliana show off their spirit.

Seniors go all black on grades color day.

Triplets are the new twins with these flannel covered VAs.

Mr. Woosley takes his own spin on twin day with his double leopard ties.

Every year UNCSA students go above and beyond in showing their school spirit, and this year was not different! Here's how the week went down:

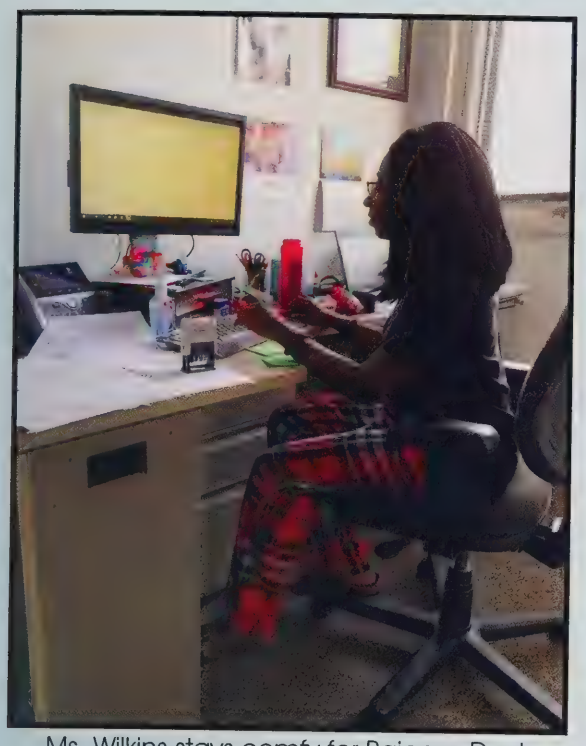
Monday - Pajama Day
Tuesday - Tacky Tuesday
Wednesday - Excessive Accessories Day
Thursday - Twin Day
Friday - Class Color Day

Breaking all the rules with confidence, Bella Exum slays on tacky Tuesday.

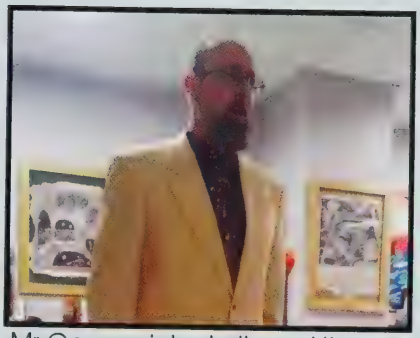
Mr. Bo and his sleepy students struggle to keep their eyes open on Pajama Day.

Meredith and Jane have the ultimate tacky apparel.

Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. George are very spirited in their themed jammies.



Ms. Wilkins stays comfy for Pajama Day!

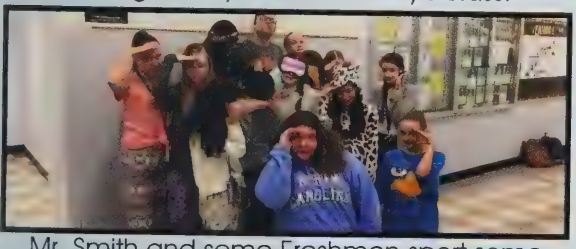


Mr.George joins in the spirit week fun with his fancy tie.

Erika Bradley on pajama day.

Mixing patterns like a pro, Karen shows off her tackiest outfit.

Aron, Sadie Grace, Jessie, Josh, Rachel, and Sara get cozy for Mrs. Harvey's class.



Mr. Smith and some Freshmen sport some fresh looks in their pjs.

How would you describe your Spirit Week?

"Festive with much revelry and hilarity."

- Mr. Smith

"Joyful, successful, and entertaining."

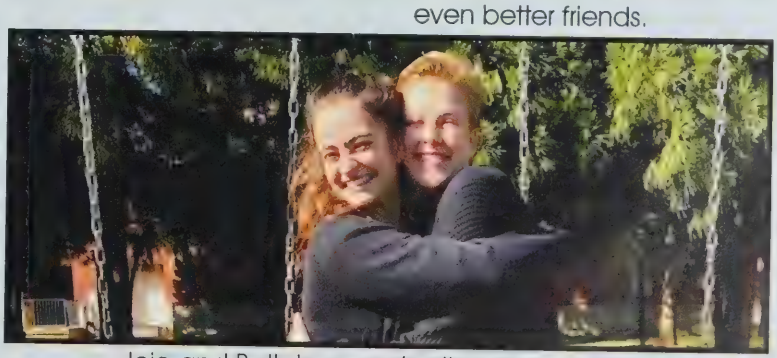
- JoJo

"Sexy and fun."

-Erika

Rae and Ruth make great twins and even better friends.

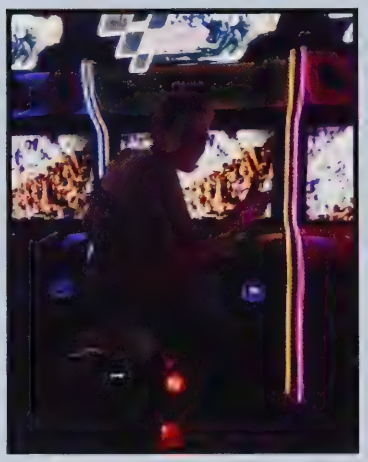
Lorelei and Thomas show us how it's done in their twinning outfits.



Jojo and Beth hug each other on twin day!

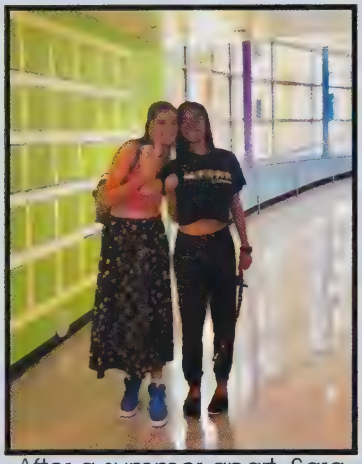
Reflects Our Spirits!

Commuter Peer Leaders decorate the Gray 3 bulletin board with their pickle personas.



Beth hops on a motorcycle for a scavenger hunt.

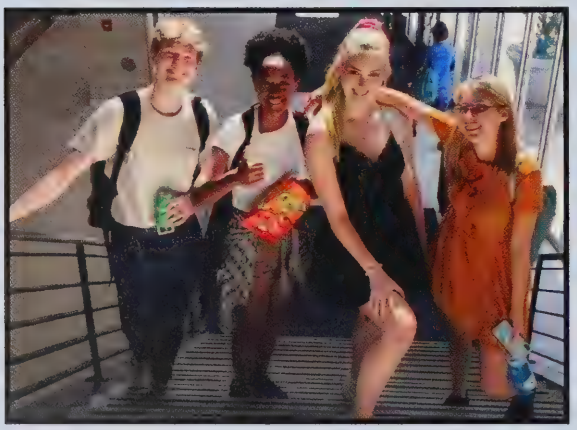
Everyone gets a little closer at the Dave and Buster's team building



After a summer apart, Sara and Lina are reunited.

Sara and Jane get creative with Sanford 3's decoration.

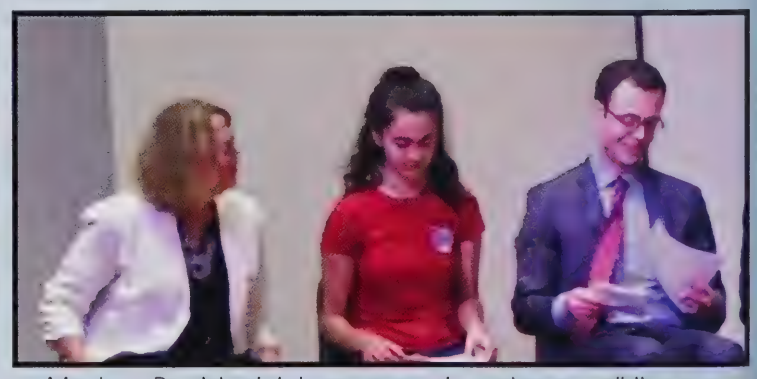
Sydney, Amanda, Xia, and Jojo dance exuberantly after Color Fun Run.



Jackson, Ruthie, Cat, and Rae grab a snack on their last first day of high school.

Student leaders take a second to relax as MaKayla reads a story.

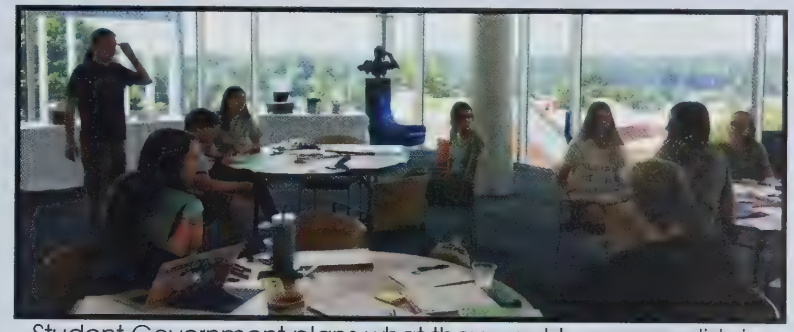
Michael, Caleb, Quinn, and Sean make their debuts at the first Who! of the year.



Madam President Jojo prepares to welcome all the new students to school!

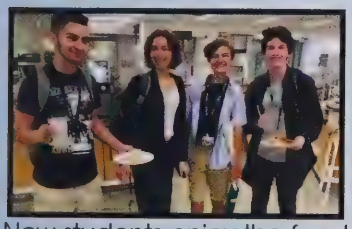
Turning Into a New Semester: Orientation Week

The start of the school year is a big deal at any school, but it's extra special at UNCSA. Student leaders move in a week early to brainstorm ideas for the semester, decorate halls, participate in team building, and attend various trainings for the roles they are about to fill. Things get really exciting once all the new students arrive. The first day is hectic, as students check in, set up their dorm rooms, and begin to meet each other. Plenty of fun activities ensue, and friendships are forged that will last for years. UNCSA has a very unique environment that fosters deep connections, and there is no better place to feel that than orientation week. Everyone is excited and welcoming, ready to enter the UNCSA family and make some great memories. Before the hectic academic and art schedules start, orientation week is a time to gear up for all of the adventures that the semester will hold.



Student Government plans what they want to accomplish in the 2019–2020 year.

In between the hectic schedule of student leader training, students take a moment to reflect on their privilege.



New students enjoy the food during orientation week.

Harrison and Jiacheng get colorful after the Color Run.

Ensemble 14 gets as much color as they can before they have to don their black uniforms.

The sun and sweat didn't stop student leaders from smiling.

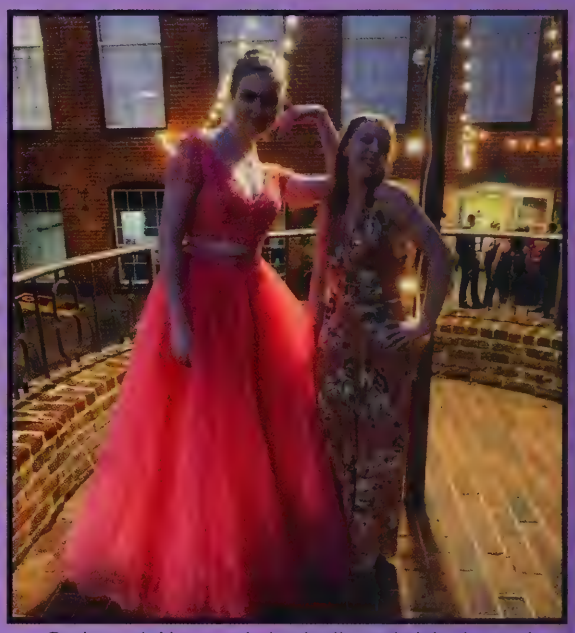
Emma, Abbey, Carolina, and Emma pose with their new plushies.

Student leaders and RHCs assemble to start move-in day.

Turning it Back to Prom

Daniela, Grant, Mikayla, and Lydia strut around Old Salem before prom.

Isabel and Rachel take a break from dancing to snap a photo.



Cat and Alayna take in the night air and starlit skies outside the venue.

The "Night Under the Stars" prom was a colorful way to mark the end of the year. People wore their prom best: from fairy-princess dresses to full tuxes to flower crowns to clown noses. Prom was complete with a tasty dessert bar, which included roast-your-own marshmallows. People sat at beautifully decorated tables and ate mini cheesecakes as they chatted, laughed, and complimented each other's outfits. Once the food portion of prom was over, everyone hit the dance floor, listening to all music from rap to pop to rock and screaming the lyrics at the top of their lungs. It was extraordinary, and truly a night to remember.

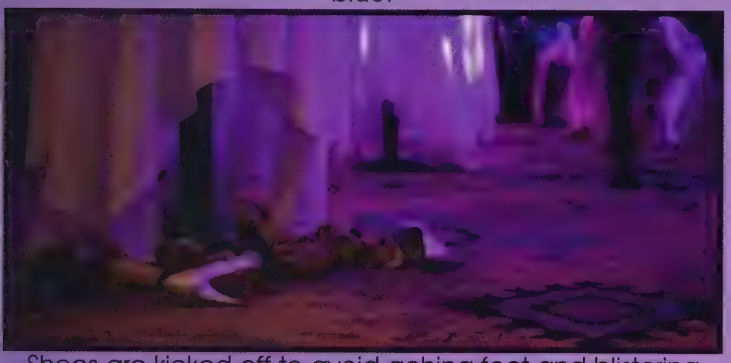
Charlotte and Ash share some smiles for a photo upon entrance to the dance.

Prom guests dance under the stars.

Sophie and Abbey are caught in a photo before they hit the dance floor.

Margaux and Maddie both look stunning in shades of blue.

Lane and Evelyn charm the camera with their stunning smiles; stars aren't the only things shining tonight!



Shoes are kicked off to avoid aching feet and blistering toes in favor of the dance floor.

Ruth, Alexis, and Jojo looking glamorous in their photo together.

The decorations reflect the glow of a night under the stars.

Beth and Lina capture the magic of their junior prom.

These three gentleman look dapper for the camera.

There's no better way to end the year than with a dance!

Two Saras means double the power on the dance floor.

Clubs and Organizations

American Sign Language Club

Every other Wednesday, this club meets to teach its members new signs and help guide them to proficiency in American Sign Language.
President: Chase Mclean

Artists Reaching Out

This club participates in outreach activities in the community at large and within the school. From making holiday cards for the US military to helping run a blood drive, ARO makes sure to reach out as often as they can.
President: Lane Dallape
Vice Presidents: Rachel Fontenot and Cat Harris
Secretary: Sophie Lehman

Political Action Club

This club helps educate students on the political situation of the nation by watching debates and having discussions.
Executives: Cora McAnulty, Hami Trinh, Lorelei Lin, and Lucy Calaway

Environment Club

Spreading awareness about environmental issues, this club helps students stay conscious of the issues facing our climate and the things they can do to help.
Executives: Alexis Ward, Bella Exum, and Jake Genderson

Spectrum

This club helps with inclucisivity and education on the LGBT+ community on campus. With meetings that range from coming out stories to clothing swaps, Spectrum helps UNCSA's students have pride in who they are.
Executives: Ash P.C., Cora Therber, Marshall Moore, Leslie Harker, and Sara Gordon

Meditation Nation

This club helps students relax and focus their minds by hosting regularly scheduled meditations for anyone to stop by and participate in.
President: Bill LI
Vice President: Harrison Wells

Shakespeare Club

This club keeps Shakespeare's work alive with bi-weekly meetings to read through his timeless plays and other works.
President: Jessie Burdette

Bible Study Club

Things like Bible study and holiday celebrations help this club allow students to participate in Christian traditions.
President: Heather Blake

Jewish Student Union

This club gives students the opportunity to learn about and participate in Jewish holiday traditions and culture.
President: Sara Gordon

Lily Beth Senkowski

"My experience at UNCSA has opened me to a new world of opportunities, challenges, and an inspiring community. This school has offered me many great things that I need to become successful, like great training; supportive teachers, friends, and other artists who share the same love and dedication as me; and a safe place to grow as a person and find myself."

Olivia Frederiksen

"I haven't fed my Tamagotchi in three days, and I don't know what day it is, but I'm happy to be here."

Erin Davis

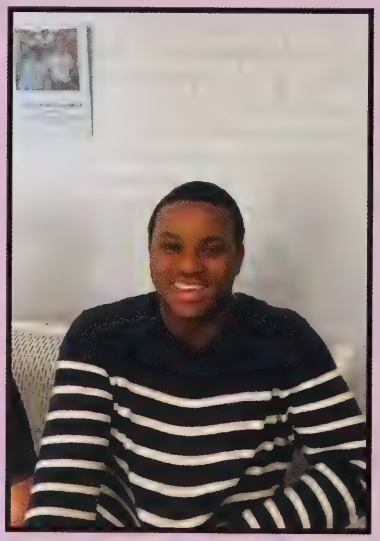
"It's impossible for things to be bad forever. At some point the universe has to throw more good your way."

Joseph Jarrett

"This is a picture of me in a hole. My experience at this school has been, as certain people say, surreal. There have been ups and downs, like when I was in that hole, but overall I'm better for them. This school helped me grow out of the hole."

Benjamin Burson

"Artists are the most selfish, yet selfless people there are. How could this be possible? We work every day to improve ourselves and our capabilities. All of our focus is on taking care of ourselves and growing. But in the end, we do it all for those in the audience. We do it to touch even just one individual who may experience the very art that we love. That's what makes artists special."



Amir Webb

"Without rain, nothing grows."

Hami Trinh

"Going to an art school is so metaphorical."

Rileah Byrd

"My past year at UNCSA has been an otherworldly experience altogether. I've learned more about myself, what I love about my art, and what kind of person I want to be, both as an artist and a person in the world. I've made some amazing friends, and I've never had anyone like them before. So while my past year at UNCSA hasn't always been the easiest, it's been what I needed and an experience I wouldn't trade for anything."

Michael Cornwell

"I practice a lot, usually in class on my desk, but still."

Elizabeth Hernandez-Gomez

"I'm in a constant state of exhaustion."

Luna-Liang Murphy

"My time at UNCSA has been enlightening, being surrounded by such diverse minds is constantly inspiring. Living in an atmosphere that forces me to challenge myself has been the most rewarding thing this year. I am truly so grateful to have spent my senior year at UNCSA and value every person who has shaped my year!"

Keira Holland

"Coming to UNCSA this past year has provided me with so many opportunities for growth. I have been fortunate enough to learn from so many great teachers, and I have made a lot of amazing friendships."

Humans of UNCSA

Our thoughts and expressions throughout the year.

Grant Develle

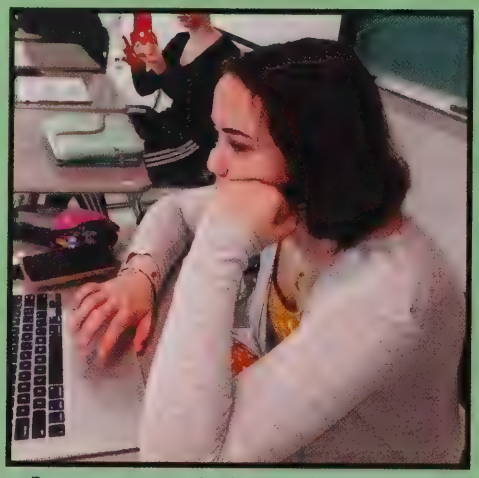
"My experience at UNCSA has provided me many challenges that had their ups and downs, but one thing that I will take with me is the confidence and musical enrichment this institution and the people in it have given me."

Ishmael Huntley

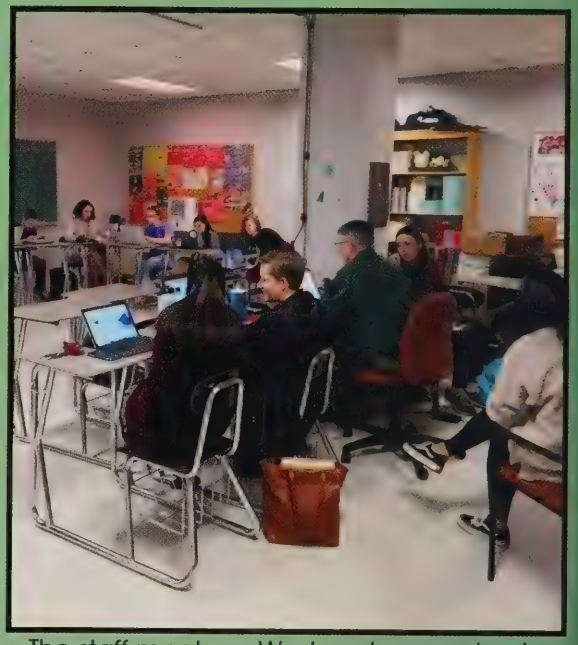
"My UNCSA experience was different from old school to say the least. I learned that I like making art and I made good friends in the trade. My only worry is not seeing them any more."

The Yearbook and Dill

Kira, Katherina, and Alayna work on their spreads during a meeting.

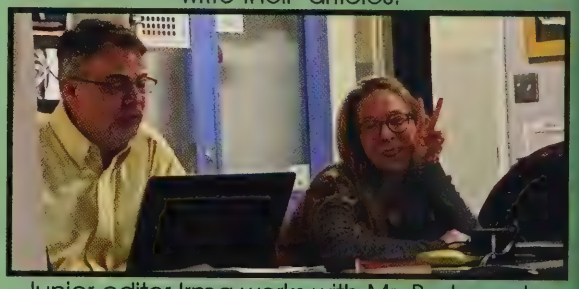


Brynn concentrates on her spread during class.



The staff meets on Wednesday morning to write their articles.

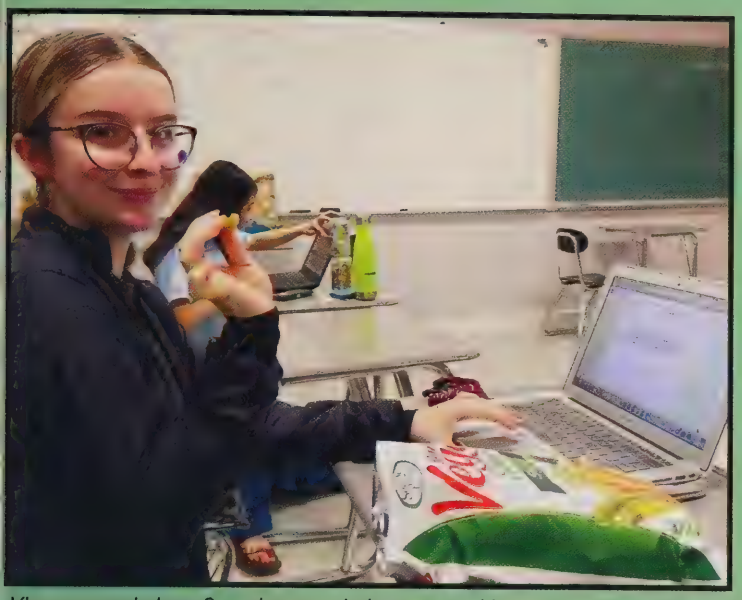
On Wednesday mornings and Thursday afternoons, a group of students meet in Mr. Bo's room to collaborate on an exciting part of student life - the yearbook and the Dill. This creative group of students devotes an hour each week plus time outside of class to develop the extraordinary book of memories you presently hold in your hands. Filled with memories and pictures from the year, the yearbook is a fun way to remember our time in high school. Not only did these students work on a yearbook, but they also reported news inside and outside of the school. As staff members of the Dill, UNCSA's high school newspaper, they wrote articles for the paper throughout the year, learning about their peers, other performances, different art classes, and general news outside of campus.



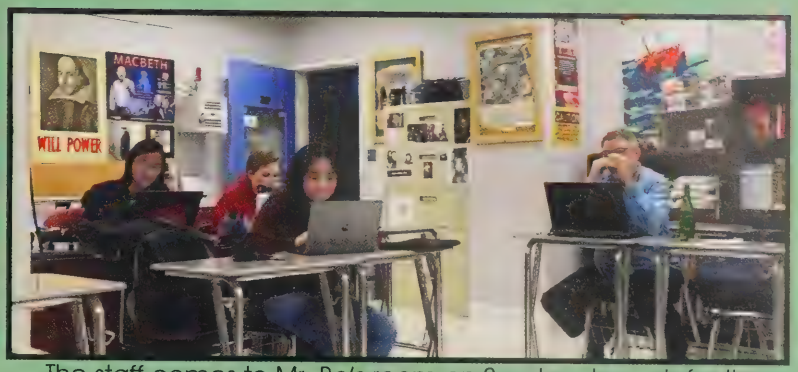
Junior editor Irma works with Mr. Bo to make some changes to the yearbook.

A group of students spend time collaborating during class to enhance their work.

Staff members Hami, Beth, and Elaine work alongside Mr. Bo during a yearbook session.



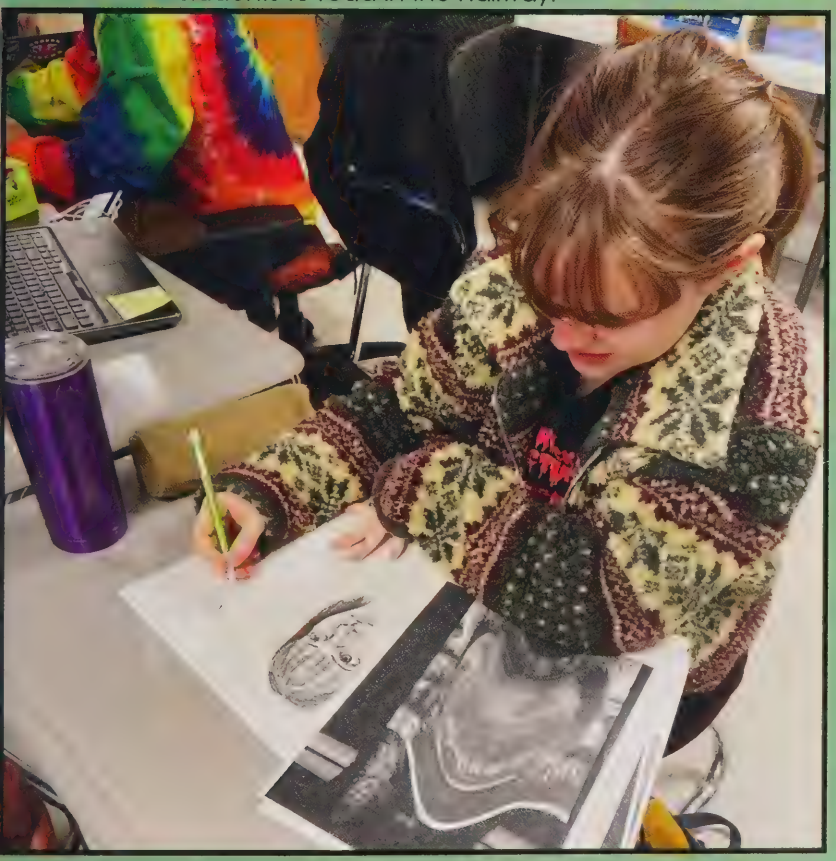
Kira spends her Sunday workdays snacking and formatting.



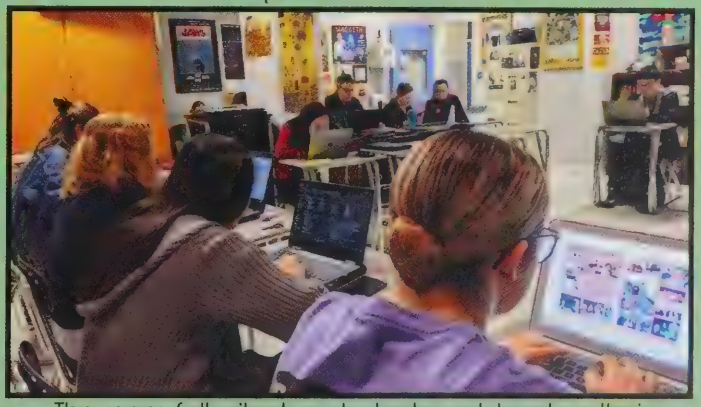
The staff comes to Mr. Bo's room on Sundays to push for the yearbook's final deadline.

Staff put their monthly articles up on the wall for other students to read in the hallway.

Alayna and Irma focus on choosing quality pictures for their spreads.



Abigail spends some time perfecting her art during a break on a Sunday afternoon.



The room falls silent as students work hard on their spreads.

Ben and Jiacheng try to create the best yearbook possible during a Wednesday morning meeting.

Student Government

The entire Student Government body! From left to right: Sara Lockett, Lana Quander, Elaine Guo, Noah Allemeier, Mikayla Durham, Irma Nelson, Lydia Schneider, Alayna Fisher, Jiacheng Li, Preston Simon, Abbey McWhirter, Beth Henson, Jojo DiNorcia, Lorelei Lin, Grace Lee.

Grace serenades Jojo in a bonding moment.

Irma, always on that practice grind, even on the SG retreat.

Senior music representative, Beth Henson listens to some concerns from other seniors.

Ring ring - oh! It's the concerned citizens of UNCSA high school. Elaine is always there to listen.

Although their numbers were diminished, SG still had a great fall retreat.

Mikayla, our Public Relations officer, is always on the lookout for a good photo opportunity.

"Hi Pickles. I've had an amazing year serving you all as your president. I'm going to miss being able to see all of your faces every day. SG loves and appreciates all of your cooperation with us this year, and we wish you the very best as you move toward the future."

- Jojo DiNorcia

JoJo, Lydia, and Jiacheng serve in a soup kitchen.

UNCSA VAs put their painting skills to the test on the faces of young students.

VA 1s travel to a local elementary school to do face painting.

SG organized a trip for some students to attend a TEDx event at Wake Forest!

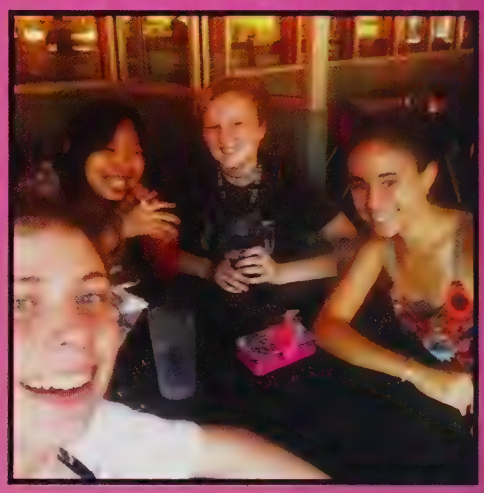
Do you have problems with the cafeteria food? Issues with the curfew hours? A desire for more support academically? Your Student Government works tirelessly to address these issues and bring about positive change in the UNCSA community. From attending meetings with faculty and staff, to holding public forums (complete with snacks), to brainstorming creative ways to make your voices heard, Student Government works hard to advocate for the entire high school. None of this would be possible without the dedication of all of our students, faculty advisor Mr. Smith, and of course, President Jojo DiNorcia. This organization goes above and beyond to make sure that the high school is fairly represented in all UNCSA matters. Your representatives have all had fun working together this year, and they cannot wait to either return next year to continue the hard work or to pass the torch on to other UNCSA members who are equally dedicated and passionate.

Student Government conducts their annual meeting with Dining Services to share student feedback on the food across campus!

The Many Colors of Friendship

The two Graces hug it out!

AC and Heather soaring into Hanes Student Commons.



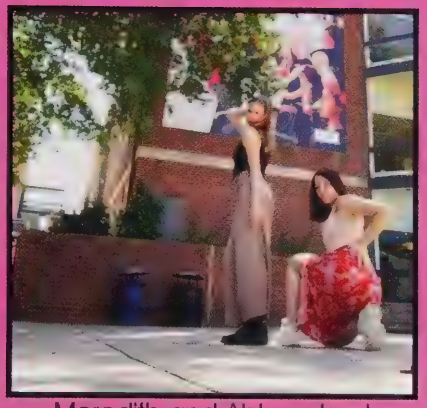
UNCSA's high school composers enjoy lunch at Mellow Mushroom.

Dancers love petting the therapy dogs.

The people around us change our mood and dictate the atmosphere. One moment we're mellow and the next we are bursting out laughing. Throughout our hectic schedules, we still have time for our friends, whether it's one o'clock in the morning or one in the afternoon. Yes, they can be distracting at times, but sometimes it's for a good cause. Friends boost happiness and reduce stress. When we're overwhelmed by rehearsals and homework, it's good to have someone that can distract you for an hour or two in between study periods. Friends can also help you to focus on your schoolwork and be an inspiration to you in the arts. Although our busy schedules change rapidly, our friends stay close to us during these times and can show us different perspectives on our lives.

Freshmen get messy at the annual UNCSA color run!

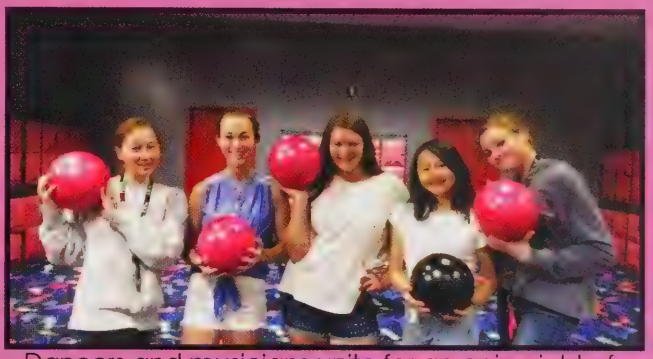
Everyone knows Abigail and Mr. Bo are the friendliest family duo.



Meredith and Abbey: best friends slaying in Daniel's Plaza.

Alicia and Matilda find time for a hug in the library.

Keira, Emma, and Jenny dress to impress before seeing Dean Jaffe interview Misty Copeland.



Dancers and musicians unite for an epic night of bowling.

Sophia and Katherine get their usual during their weekly run to the libray cafe.

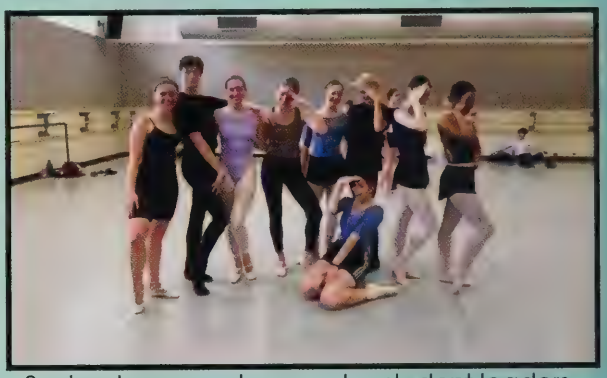
Students are excited to roller skate together, and to hopefully stay standing.

Ruth, Beth, Alexis, Rosie, and JoJo get out in the sunshine.

Movement in the Mirror:
The School of Dance

The School of Dance enjoys a Halloween party showing off their class dances.

Emily reaches for new experiences.



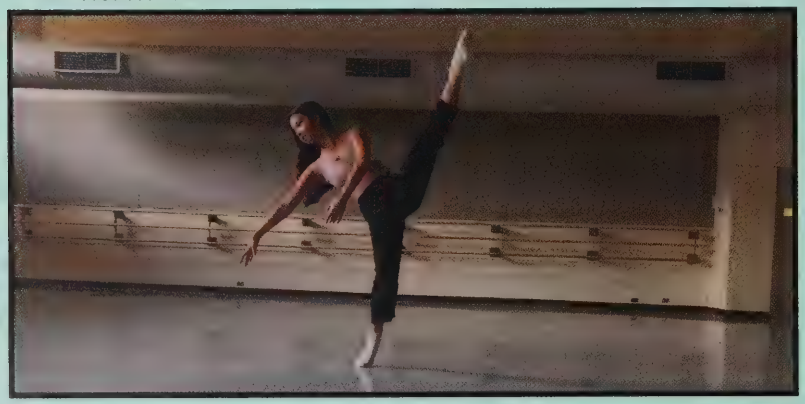
Senior dancers, who are also student leaders, take class before the school year starts.

Sara explores the limits of her movement.

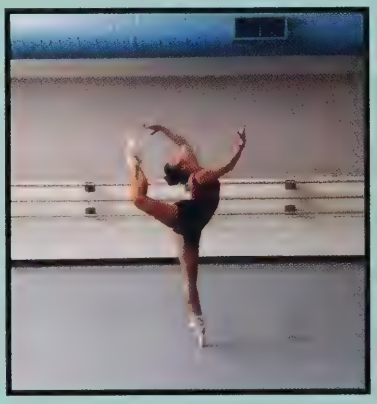
Jackson on the road to success.

Eleanor, reaching and growing, practices in her free studio time.

Lilly prepares for class with Ming.

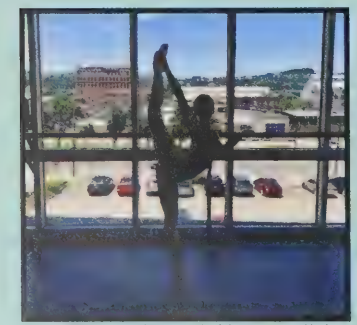


Lily Beth spends her spare time striving for improvement in the studios.



Madison reaches for the sky.

Abigail pushes herself in the studio.



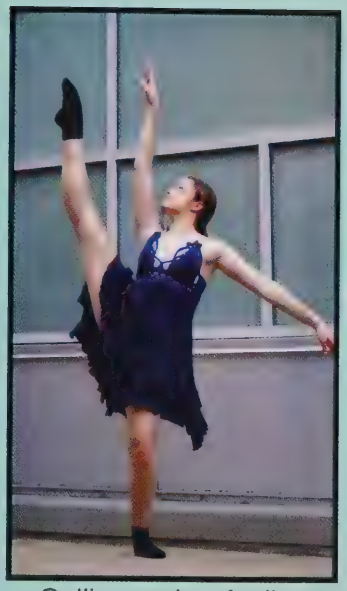
A silhouette of Alayna this summer at Pittsburgh Ballet Theater.

Samantha and Klara take pictures after a B3 class.

Katherine and Keira stretch after a long day of academics.

Grace has a positive attitude by the ocean.

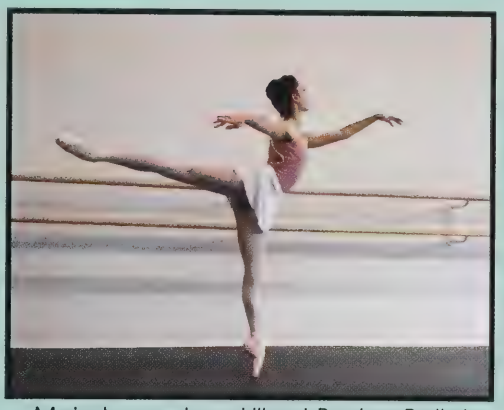
Daniela feels at home on the stage.



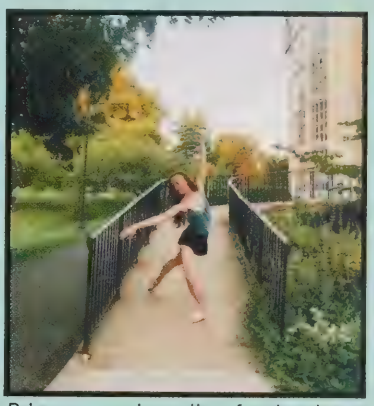
Caitie reaches for the stars.

Meredith and Isabel dance through Winston Salem.

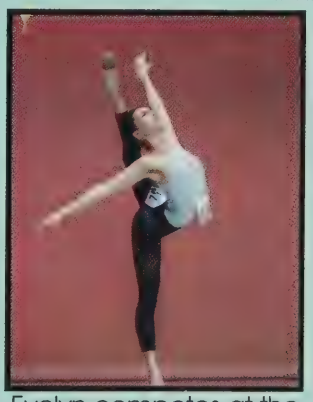
Everyone in the dance program comes from unique backgrounds with different styles of dance training and experiences. The program offers an in depth exploration of complex technical movement, fresh views on artistry and composition, and an overall development of passion for dance. UNCSA, while intense and challenging, changes how we look at dance, allowing students to have guidance and individual instruction to further their dance education and technique. From storytelling to abstract movement, dancing here makes us look at our art from wildly different perspectives. It is astonishing to witness the amount of growth within every student in even just a year at UNCSA. From studio to stage, it is fascinating to see dancers change their point of view on dance as a whole art form and how that transforms their movement quality.



Maia hones her skills at Boston Ballet over the summer.



Brianna enjoys the fresh air on a sunny day in Carlisle, PA.



Evelyn competes at the Prix de Lausanne.

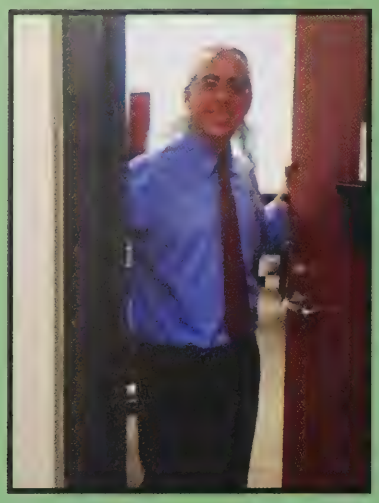
M1B celebrates Halloween as hippies, enjoying a day not wearing dress code.

Aidan feels the music while improvising in a studio.

Eleanor and Grace pose in their Chameleon Activewear leotards.

Erin basks in the sunlight.

Katherine jumps for joy.



Dr. Winkelman, the associate dean of the school of music.

The Jazz Band rocks the stage at the Ramkat.

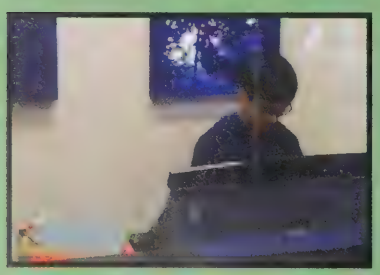
Watson Recital Hall

Grace practices on a piano during her music theory class.

The colours change as they reflect the time in which we stand. The instruments voice the thoughts that rush through the minds of artists. Patterns change as new phrases start; nothing is ever the same. UNCSA musicians practice their instruments to shape their voices and the colours of the world. Rhythm changes with the era, texture changes with the season, but the hearts and minds of focused musicians stay sharp all year long.

The students at UNCSA work to integrate music with the changes of their lives. Much of the sound we create here amplifies the power of the voices of the young, who are ready to make a change in the world. The impact of a concert cannot be measured with a ruler; its impact can last for just a second or for a lifetime. Artists practice to reach perfection, but more importantly they practice to inspire communities and leaders.

Musicians at UNCSA hope to change the colours, textures, and rhythm of the society they live in. The grind never stops and neither does change. The change that artists ignite lights the fire to a brighter and better future. The strength of their voices delights the ears of change.



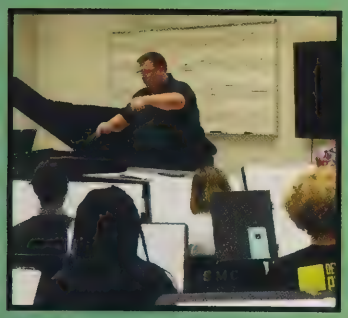
Jiacheng focuses on his music from inside the maze.

Gray 1 - where all the music students hide out and spend hours practicing.

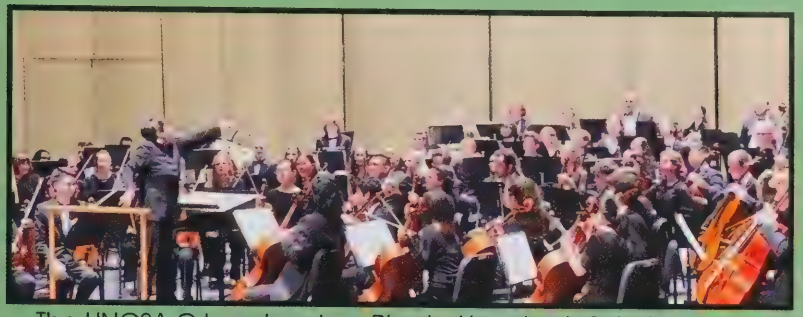
Music students Sara, Jojo, Leslie, and Jimmy hang out together at the library cafe.

Rubato and Refractions

A Look Into the School of Music

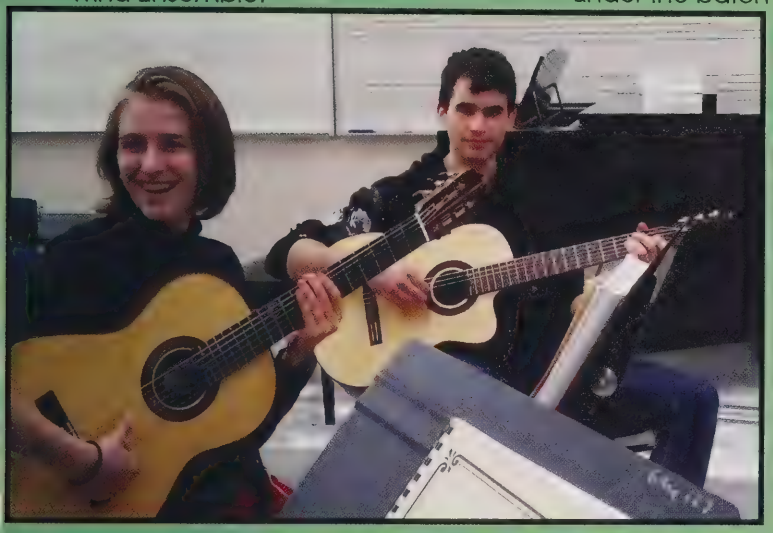


Dr. Norman conducts the Wind Ensemble.

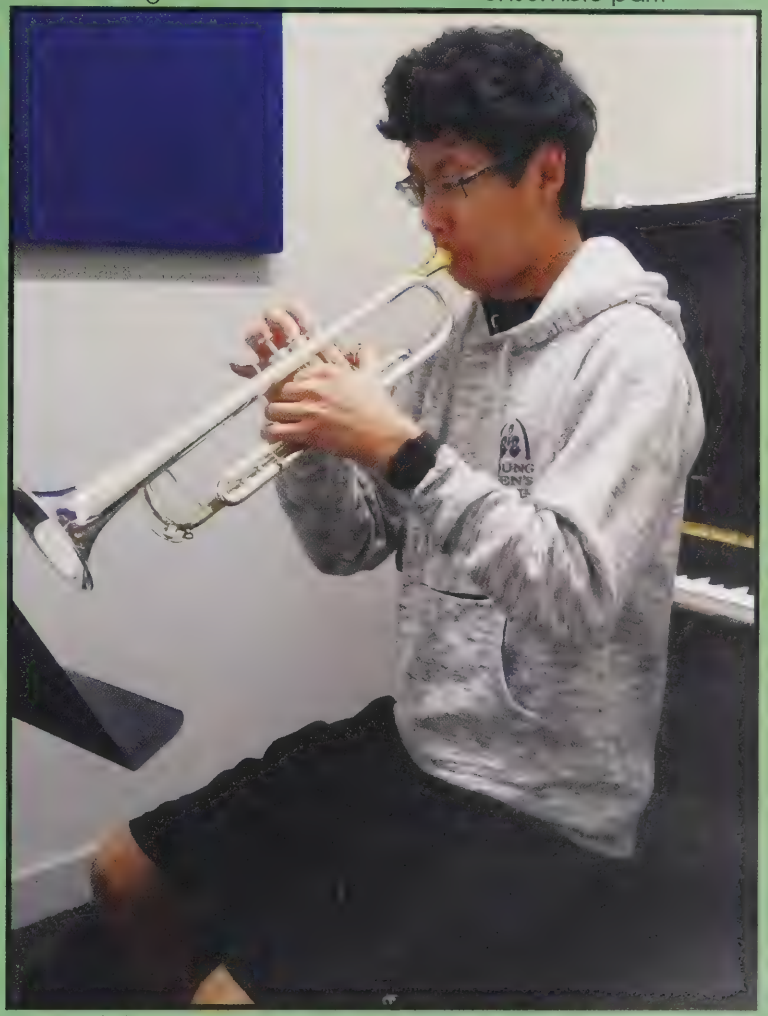


The UNCSA Orhcestra plays Rimsky Korsakov's Scheherazade under the baton of Xian Zhang.

Montgomerie studies his wind ensemble part.



Josie and Nicholas collaborate in the guitar studio class.



Ian puts in the hours honing his technique and shaping his musicality.

Thomas, a trombonist, rehearses in Crawford Hall.

Michael stays alert while counting through some rests.

Rosie refines her sound on the viola.

Through the VA Lens

The VA 2s try casting their faces during Sculpture Class.

The gorgeous Drawing Studio has the best light.

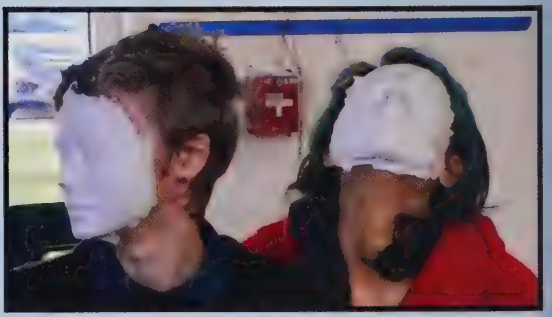
VAs stay up until the middle of the night to work and study.

Eyebrows + art supplies = break activity.

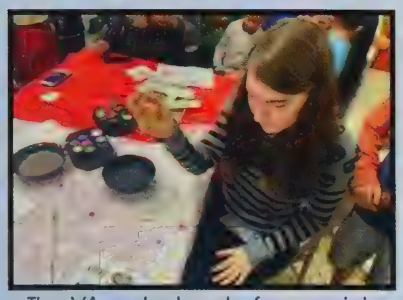
Alana and Maya pass out on the floor.

Will, the drawing teacher, tries on a luscious wig.

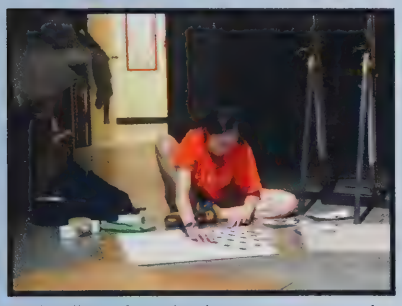
The VAs spend a long night in the Design studio.



Arbor and Xia with full drama after casting their faces.



The VAs volunteer to face paint.



Grinding for design never ends.

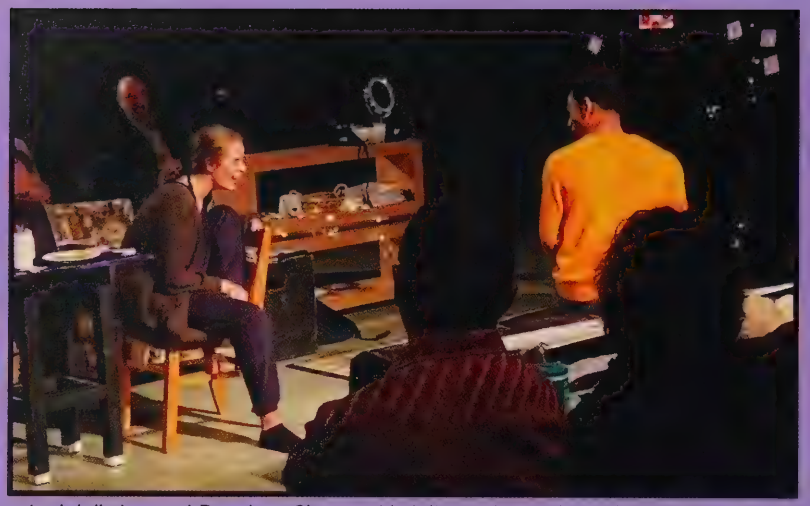
Face casting with natural lighting.

Abigail and Will twin for Spirit Week.

Art can always get a little messy.

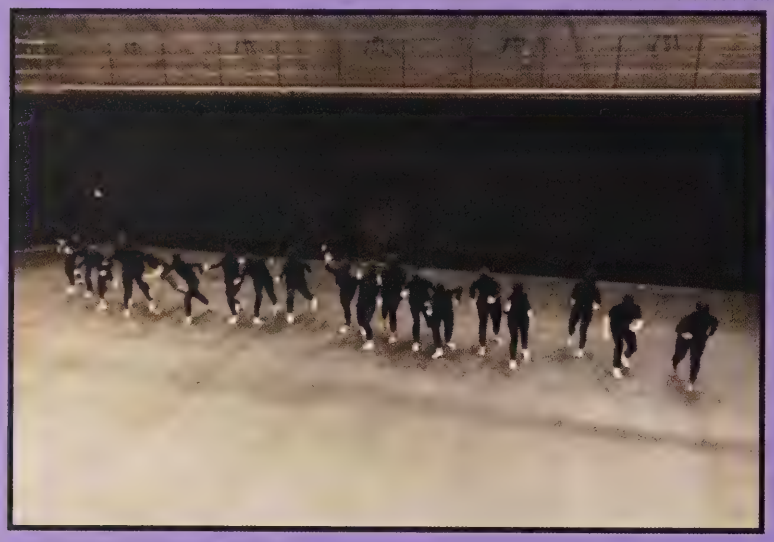
The VAs have had a very exciting and productive year filled with projects, panels, and all-nighters. The VA 1s started their first year at UNCSA as the VA 2s enjoyed new opportunities as second-year students. Although our lives as VAs may be hectic and busy, we are thankful for the opportunity to develop our talents here at UNCSA. We will be forever changed by our art teachers and the steps we took here towards our artistic careers. We are exposed to so many different techniques and art forms here that inspire new interests and develop skills that will aid us in our future artistic endeavors. Without this school, our lives would be very different. Here's to another successful year in Visual Arts!

The Design studio the night before critique. Chaos has ensued!



Grace Ficara (left), Hailey Meyers (middle), and Preston Simon (right) exchanging lines in Modern Scenes for Parents' Weekend.

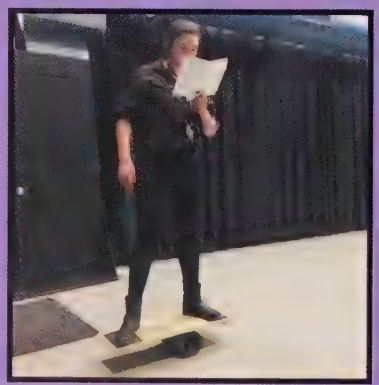
Hanging out before class.



Ensemble 14 takes a bow! A year of hard work deserves an encore. These students gave their everything, showing up for rehearsals every day until late at night, memorizing lines, working through blocking, and reaching deep inside themselves to awe their audiences. Needless to say, their schedules stay packed. Yet, they still manage to balance it, having fun with their new drama family. There is no experience like this, and every student who passes through the program grows in ways they could never have imagined.

"Theater has been a place where I can express myself and talk about the things that I care about and that are important to me. It has really taught me how to put my emotions out and to be raw in front of both myself and every audience member. Having to be personally connected to yourself and your emotions 24/7 has made me very aware of who I am, which has changed and formed me as a person. Doing theater, especially at UNCSA, has made me appreciate different art forms, because I see how much work I put into my art in order to make it look effortless, so as I watch performances and see other art pieces I realize that I can start to look at it technically and realize the amount of effort that goes into everything they create."

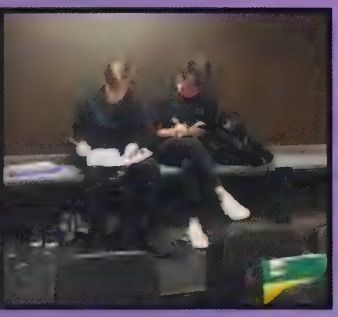
-Sierra Corcoran (above, right)



Rileah shows off her multitasking skills by juggling and rehearsing lines while keeping her balance.

Before class begins, students decide to have an impromptu dance session.

Portraying Others' Perspectives
The School of Drama



Jeffrey and Josh review their lines.

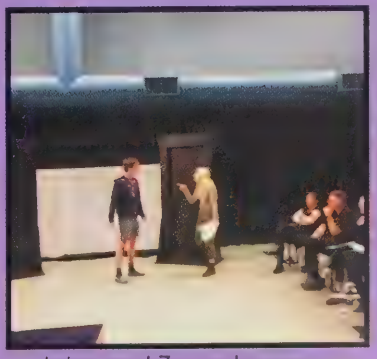
One, two, three, four drama students on the floor.

The dress code can't be found on Halloween - Ensemble 14 gets spooky!

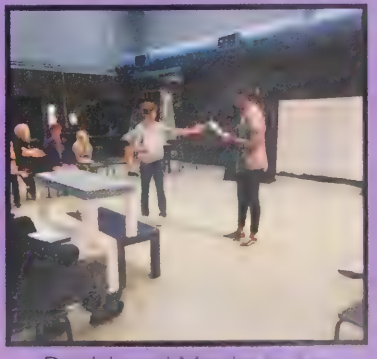
Class is in session with Mrs. Molly Maxner. Other than classes in acting, drama students also take voice, dance and yoga classes. These will prepare them for whatever their future holds, and for any performance scenario they might find themselves in.

A successful Fall Cabaret means everyone gets to take a bow!

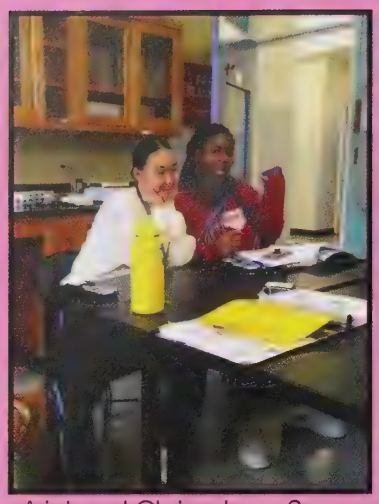
Ensemble 14 actually wearing color at the start of this year.



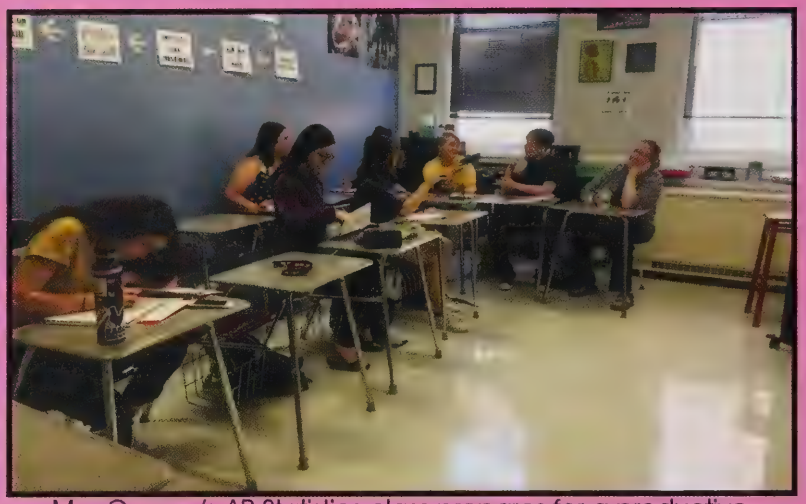
Jake and Zoe rehearse a scene from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."



David and Monique run through some lines from "The Tempest."

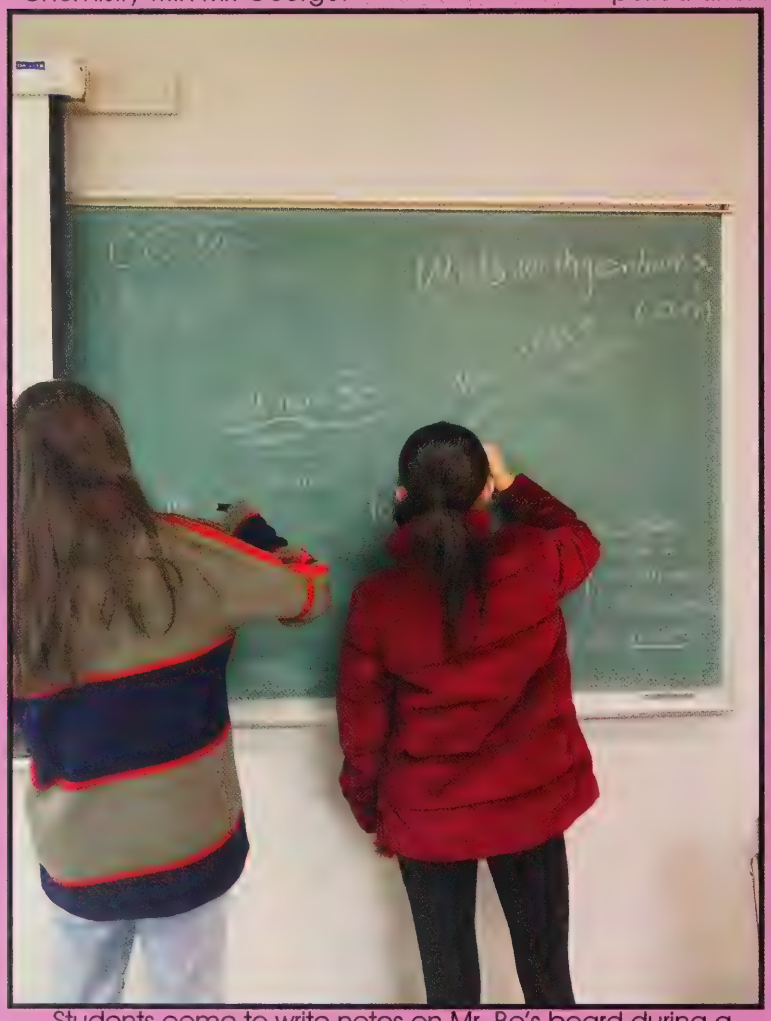


Ariel and Claire share 9 am Chemistry with Mr. George.



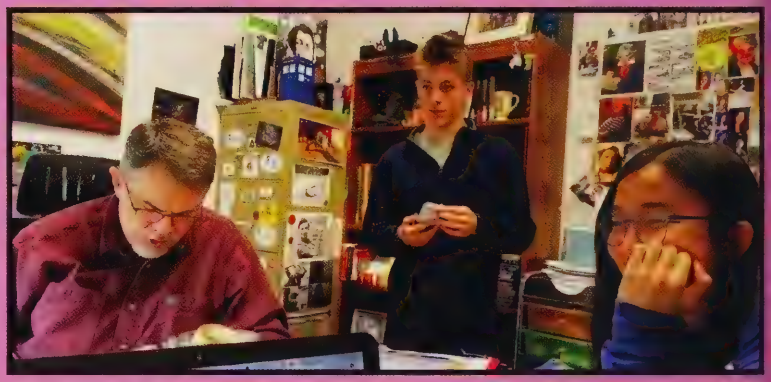
Mrs. George's AP Statistics class prepares for a productive period after their lunch break.

Mr. Woosley helps Grace with AP Calculus.



Students come to write notes on Mr. Bo's board during a break.

Students bustle down the long hallway, stopping to chat with friends, smiling at their teachers, and hastily drinking their coffee. This is how a typical morning in the Grey 3 Building starts. By 8 o'clock, students are sitting in their classes, waiting with anticipation for their day to begin. Students at UNCSA take a variety of courses, from science, to social studies, math, and English. There is a class for everybody's unique interests. While UNCSA's high school students cherish their time developing their talents as budding artists, academic classes are certainly an important part of each person's UNCSA high school experience.



Students like Lina and Nick hang with Mr. Bo in his eclectic office between classes, building relationships with one of their favorite teachers.

Madison and Kira find joy in what they do.

Alayna listens to music before APUSH with Mr. Pfefferkorn.

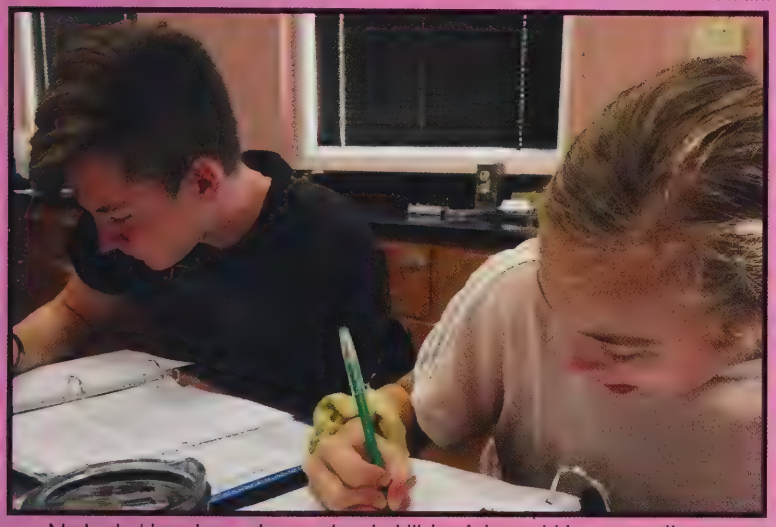
Marshall and Ila coming to conclusions.

From Artist to Student:
Inside the Academic Hall

Josie is always prepared for APUSH class!

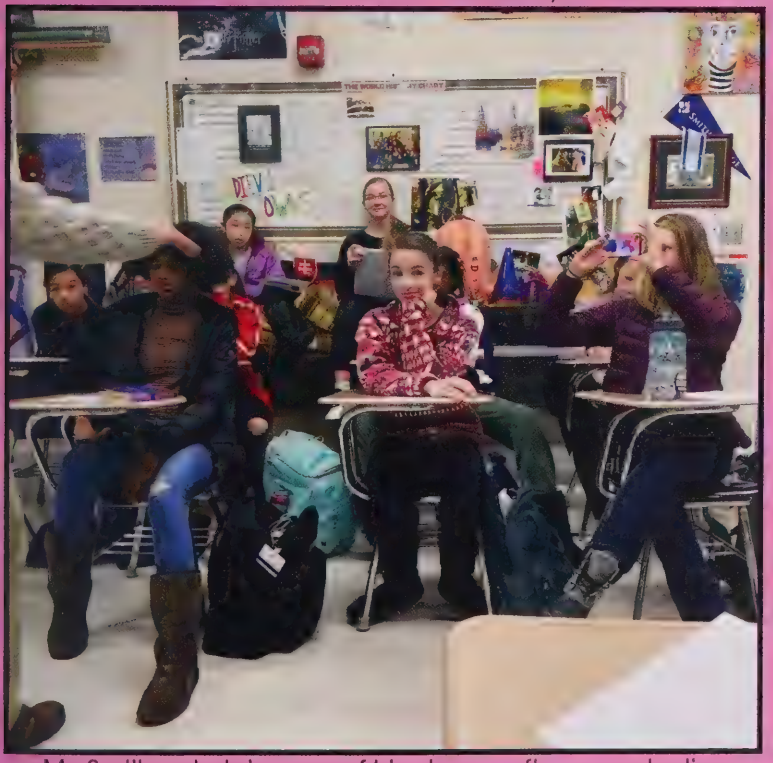
Mrs. Willey and the BRED class apply their learning outside of the classroom venturing into Salem Creek.

Freshmen always love Mr. Bo's debate unit in English I.

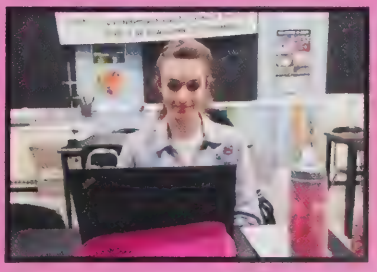


Note taking is an important skill to AJ and Hope as they work to succeed in Chemistry.

Meg studies her book, "First They Killed My Father," by author Loung Ung.



Mr. Smith entertains one of his classes after a productive lecture. He always finds ways to make learning fun!



Sadie Grace smiles through the pain of 8 am physics.

Emma and Kiera share a laugh before AP Lang class.

Welcome to Our New Teachers

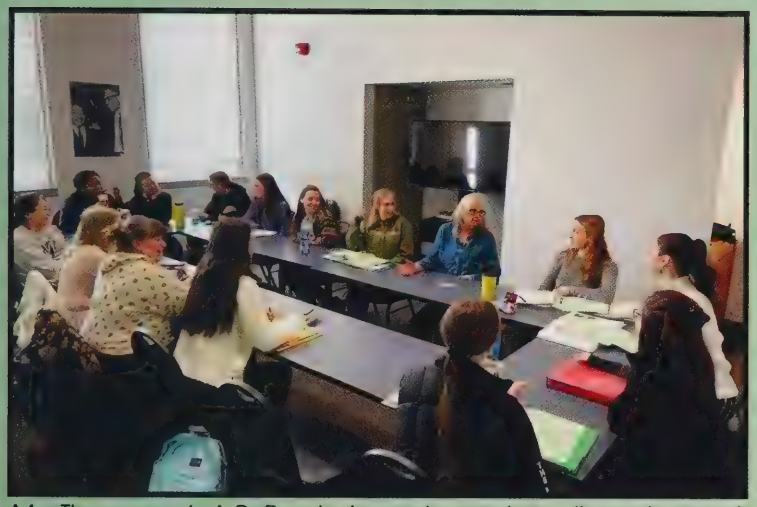
Mr. Sabolcik
AP Literature and Senior Seminar

"I have enjoyed my first year at UNCSA so much! UNCSA has always been a part of my experience living in Winston-Salem, and this place is an absolute gem. Even before being hired here, I always came to UNCSA events like the Nutcracker, orchestra concerts, and drama performances. I've always infused the arts into literature, so when I heard there was a position open here I thought it would be a great opportunity to continue that arts integration. I see my teaching approach in a lot of ways, but one of the most important things that I try to do in my classes is to inspire people to find their own voice and an aspect of the world they would like to change and make better. I think that art has such a transformative, transnational, transcendent power to be able to reach people. Maybe if we can encourage people to think about new, interesting things and philosophies or injustice or aesthetics, and be able to present that to other people, that the world would be transformed. I find the students here to be so inspiring, not only in the classroom but just in the hallways, and most importantly just in the people that they are. You can tell that there's a culture that has been very carefully cultivated around valuing each other and I feel like I belong to a part of a community that is greater than myself, which is just like, what else can you ask for in life?"

Mrs. George
AP Statistics and Algebra II

"I taught at RJ Reynolds High School here in Winston-Salem from 2003-2016 and at RB Glenn High School in Kernersville from 2016-2019. I've taught math (darn near all of them) and science, specifically Physics. I was a Chemistry major and a Math minor in college. I always feel like that gives me an advantage in teaching math because I'm coming from a practical applications standpoint – like, how will you actually use this material in real life or at least in another subject? I have always been interested in the arts and I love working on integrating the arts into my classes. In fact, one of the things I do in my spare time is teach other teachers how to do arts integration. So, coming to teach at an arts school felt like a natural progression. I've been lucky enough to be a spectator of UNCSA for the last five years while Mr. George has been a teacher here. I've known how special a place this is and I knew I'd love to be here. I have loved my first year at UNCSA! The staff and students have been so welcoming. I love my classes. I once won a ribbon at the local fair for a scarf I knitted. Likes warm hugs, but is not named Olaf."

Farewell to Mrs. Thompson



Ms. Thompson's A.P. Psychology class values discussion and collective exploration.

A Few Words about Ms. Thompson...

"Ms. Thompson's psychology class is an amazing exploration of the human mind, and taking her class senior year was so informative to how I live and will live my life. She's just one of those people who refuses to grow older. Every day I felt like we made new discoveries together, and she made learning about psychology applicable to our daily lives and fun to experience each day." - Sara Gordon

"Although I've never taken one of Ms. Thompson's classes, she has still been a lovely part of my UNCSA experience. We initially bonded over our names, and I have enjoyed discussing literature or other subjects with her. Her love for teaching and for the students here is obvious, and we will all miss her very much." - Beth Henson

In between discussing literature and writing essays, Ms. Thompson's Senior Seminar class recharges with some donuts.

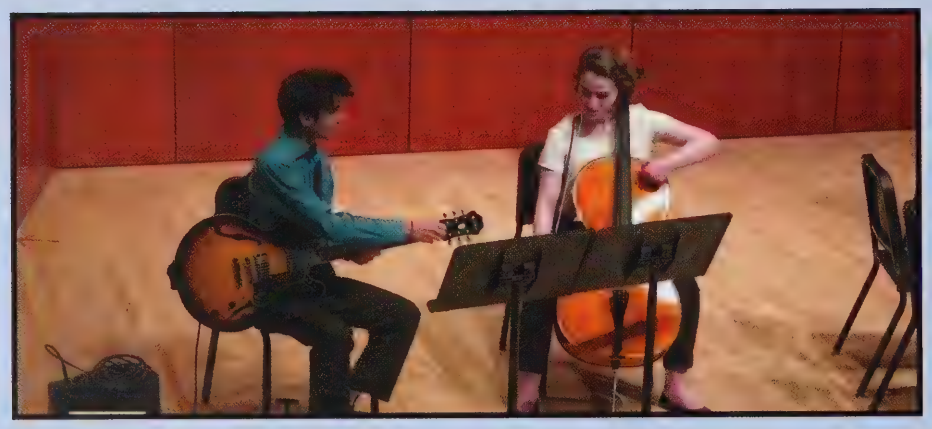
Ms. Thompson

"I've been here since 2003 and I've really loved it. I really love the moments here where you get to see the students lead. A conservatory by nature is not student focused, but there is a strong student initiative and unity that comes out sometimes that is really powerful. I've mostly taught Juniors and Seniors here because I really like teaching older students. I'm an English teacher by nature and training, but learning how to teach psychology has also been a fun challenge that I have enjoyed! I'm not exactly sure what's next for me, but I know I'll always be a teacher of some kind."

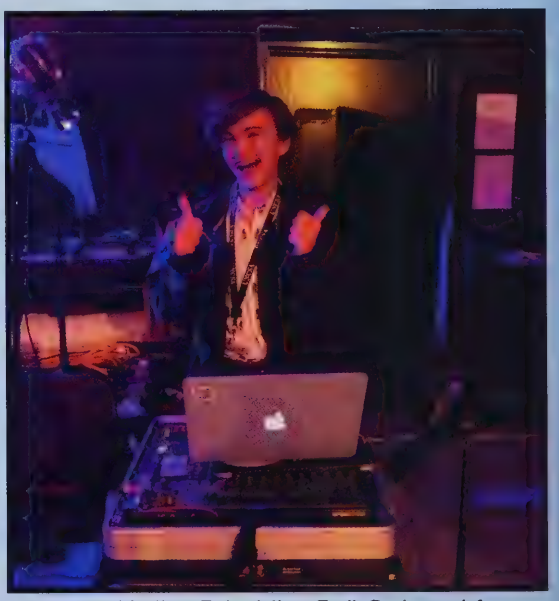
Ms. Thompson's artistic endeavors have not been limited to just the classroom - last year she starred in the high school drama's production of Macbeth!

A Show of Color

Molly, Bella, Maddie, Tatum, and Hope looking fierce in Emerging Choreographers.



Aron and Phoebe performing at the 2020 Cello Studio Recital.



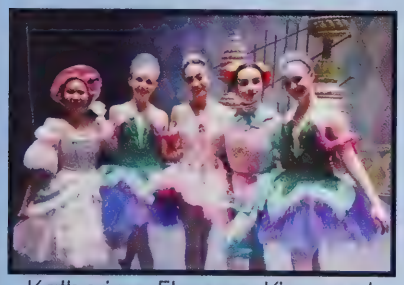
David is the DJ at the Fall Cabaret for Ensemble 14.

Isabel captivates the audience.

Ava Grace and Jenny perform Flowers during The Nutcracker at the Stevens Center.

An excited group of dancers before their performance.

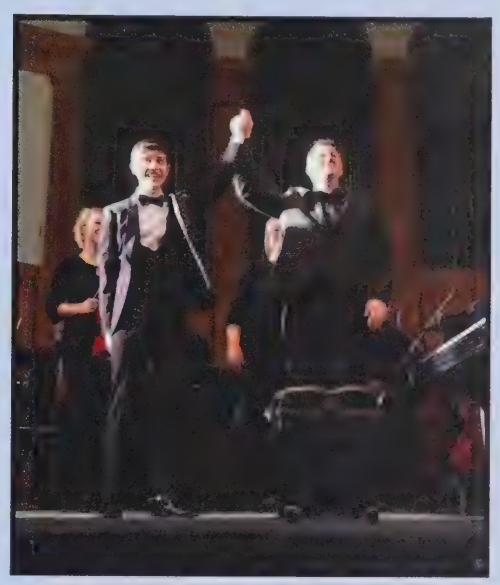
Gary and Jake share an intense moment in Fall Cabaret.



Katherine, Eleanor, Kira, and Lane with guest artist Stella Abrera.

Abigail models Jane's dress entitled "Dress of a Nymph" for Intensive Arts.

Evelyn and Lina are ready to crack some nuts!



Cristian performs the Liszt Concerto with the Winston-Salem Symphony.

Whether it be a troupe of actors taking their audience to another world or a simple string quartet filling a room with familiar melodies, UNCSA's artists are everywhere. As a community, they fill the world's senses with an endless dose of creativity. Behind their large smiles, hours of dedication fuel their passion. Artists are strong minded, ambitious, motivated, and so much more. They dedicate themselves to their craft all to positively affect even just a single person. Not for the faint of heart, being an artist can feel nearly impossible at times, but these feelings of hopelessness or despair fade away during moments like these when our art is shared with those around us.

Violinists AC and Heather are all smiles after their orchestra concert.

UNCSA Orchestra warms up before a perfromance of the Nutcracker.

Arts Training

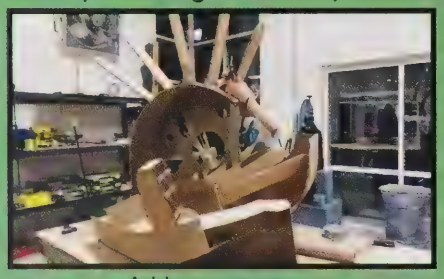
Trumpet player, Jimmy Jackson-Cabaniss, practicing in the busy winter season.

Hailey Meyer, Daniel McNeill, and Grace Ficara performing "Uniform," their creation, with themes of gun violence in the Fall Concert.

Xia Raburn focuses on creating what she sees in her head.

Olivia Frederiksen working in sculpture.

Grant Kennedy practicing with line and abstract shapes.



Art in progress...

The Drama ensemble rehearses for an upcoming performance.

Sara Green training balance and shape.

Voice majors, Quinn Albinus and Leslie Harker, at the UNCSA Cantata Concert.

Aron Stornaiuolo and Cristian Makhuli experimenting with piano and light shadows.

Zoe Renyolds practicing her tecnique.

M2's Grant Kennedy and Sophie Lehman.

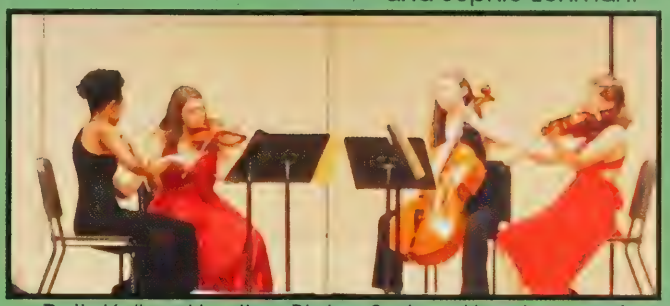
The art of practicing, training, and dedication is just as important as the final performance itself. We're not in it for the performance and the glory alone. The process is what counts. it's what we live and breathe through every single day. Artistic practice goes beyond the physical activities of making artistic products. Our art is our daily inspiration, our life's influence, and our purpose.

"To practice any art, no matter how well or how badly, is a way to make your soul grow. So do it."

- Kurt Vonnegut

"All of the best ideas come out of the process; they come out of the work itself."

- Chuck Close



Ruth Kelley, Heather Blake, Sydney Urmston, and Amanda Harrell perform "Smetana" in the fall recital.

Drama students reviewing a script during a group read through.

Isabel Clements rolls through a combination.

VAs Charlie Herron and Sarah Gerics creating art outside during the warm weather.

M1's Macy Alday and Sadie Grace Shelburne practicing teacher Brenda Daniel's 7/11 combination.

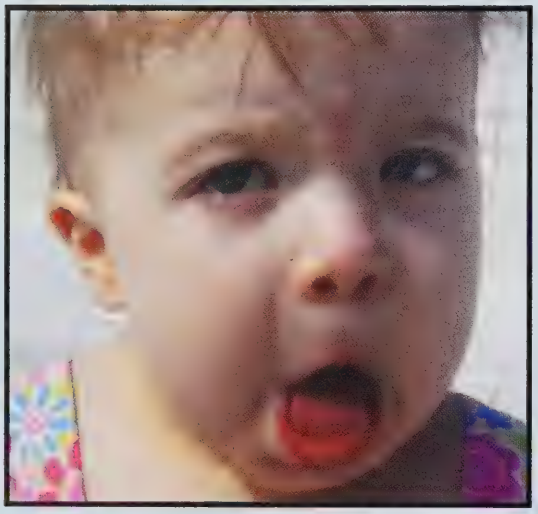
Harrison Wells rehearses his tuba music.

A Flashback to our Artists' Pasts

Alayna Fisher gives face while watering her plants in the backyard.

A dreamy Katherine Nettles already imagining herself as a ballerina.

Logan Phelps flaunts his unique personality from day one.



Madison Dabravalskie takes a different approach to posing at the pool .

From our first words to our first steps, we have been on a lifelong journey to pursue our passions. Some of us danced our first step, finger painted our first painting, played our first note, and acted in our first play before we can even remember. Since then, we have all grown up into the artists we are today, finding each other in this crazy world we call UNCSA. Now, we all get the opportunity to grow together and, as we change, we are able to help ourselves and each other become the artists and, most importantly, people we have always wanted to be.

Evelyn Robinson giggles alongside her mom at the beach.

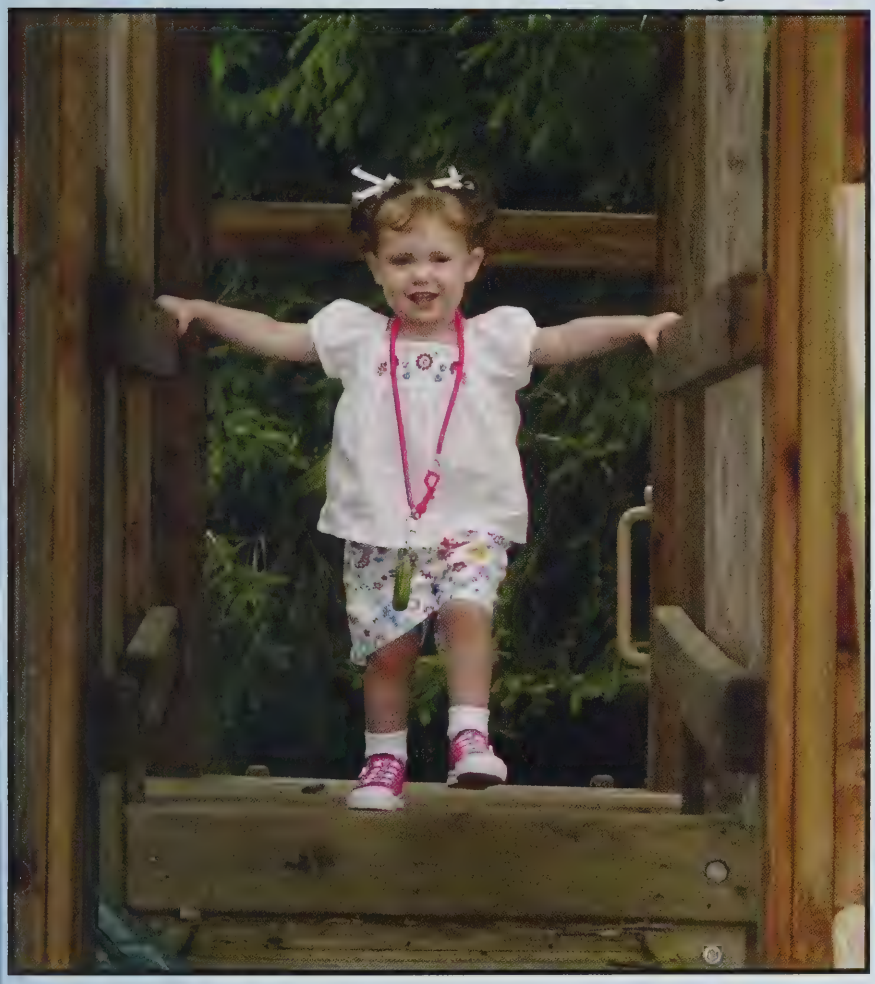
Kira Wilkerson doing what she loves most: sitting on the couch and contemplating life.

Sara Gordon smirks at the papparazzi; she has been handling fame since birth.

Young and spritely Alexis Ward displays a shy smile.

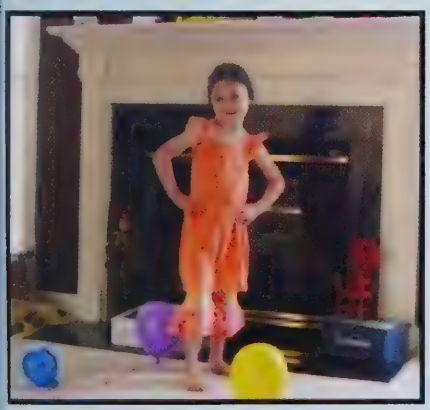
Brynn McKay grins for a picture after her swimming lessons.

A big-eyed Abbey McWhirter shows the camera her best side and her best smile.



A small tot, Molly Hefner, plays on the playground.

Irma Nelson attends her first wedding as an honored guest.



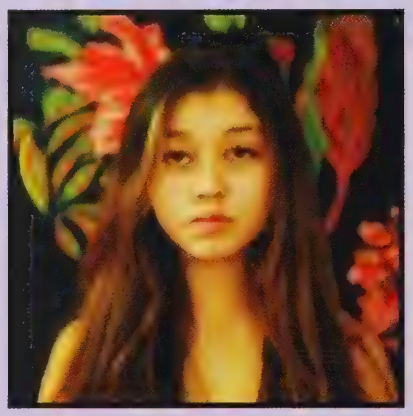
A sassy Lydia Bloomfield parties on her 5th birthday.

Emily Bealer has always taken warming up for ballet class very seriously.

Alexis Dawson enjoys a day at the aquarium.

Abigail Fox
Freshman, Guitar

"I came to UNCSA becuse the moment I stepped foot on this campus, I knew it was where I was meant to be. I took a tour and it was so clear that everyone was so happy to be here, and I knew I would feel the same way. I've learned a lot that I wouldn't have if I wasn't at this amazing school."



Carolina Centenera
Sophomore, Ballet

"I love this school so much, it has helped me grow as both an artist and as a person. The people here are so inspiring, they are all so kind and welcoming to everyone. I'm so grateful to be at a school that powers creativity, motivating me to be the very best dancer I can be!"

Audrey Graham
Junior, Visual Arts

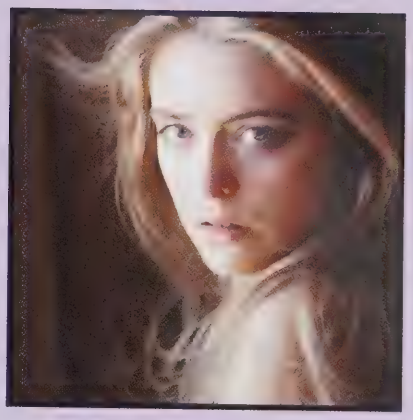
"I chose to attend UNCSA to follow my passion in visual art! I was also ready to live on my own to grow into a better artist and into myself. I'm so grateful to have so many amazing people around me who make this experience better than I could've imagined."

David Schell
Senior, Drama

"I knew that UNCSA would be the place that would give me the most growth oppurtunity and it is one of the top five drama schools in the world. So, it was kind of a no-brainer; if I got in I would have to go because there is such amazing training and it would be a huge step up from where I was before."

Why We're Here

Jane Ferry
Senior, Visual Arts



"I'm at UNCSA because I want to be surrounded by an amazing, supportive, and creative community of people, who always keep me going."

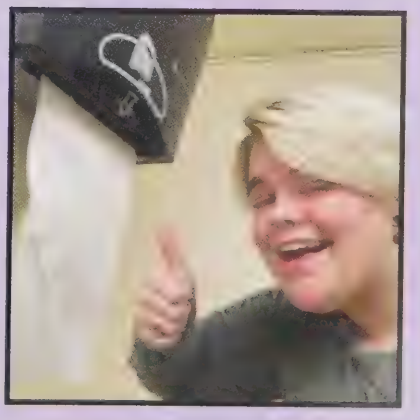
Lucy Calaway
Senior, Voice

"I came to UNCSA because I needed to fully dedicate myself to studying music, and to go to school in an environment that valued music as more than just an extracurricular. UNCSA offered me a place to immerse myself in voice and to truly prepare for studying music in college."

Claire Mee Eun Schiffer
Senior, Contemporary Dance

"Back in Florida there was no dance studio or conservatory that challenged my technique as well as my artistry. I was homeschooled too, so my circle of friends and my social life wasn't the greatest. I needed a change. I'm thankful that I found UNCSA, because it's the perfect mix of the high school experience and dancing in a more professional environment. The teachers are supportive and the opportunities are even greater than I could have imagined."

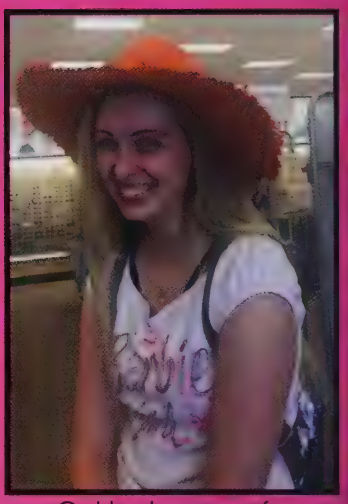
Marshall Moore
Senior, Visual Arts



"I'm at UNCSA because throughout my life I have searched to find a place where I felt accepted for who I was. I had no idea that when I came here I'd not only grow as an artist, but also find my family."

Jimmy has always enjoyed hands-on learning.

Jojo and Beth have twinned every twin day since freshman year!



Cat is always up for adventure.

Picnics on Saturdays after the farmers' market have been a fun tradition continued into Senior year.

At most high schools, being there for four years is not an unusual experience. At UNCSA, however, attending all four years is atypical, causing a special bond to be formed between the nine of us who survived it. We all came in as bright-eyed freshman, unsure of what the next four years would hold. We have shared experiences that no one else can remember, such as the intense debates in Mr. Bo's freshman English class, knowing the wonderful Mr. Todd Hoover, or the Daniel's Plaza Protest after the 2016 election. The 21 students who originally began freshman year have now dwindled down to nine, as some people decided that they wanted to pursue different paths in life or that this school wasn't the right fit. For the rest of us, this final year of high school has felt surreal in a lot of ways, and it's been a powerful thought to reflect on. The four years of high school are some of the most formative of our lives, and this small group has played a very important role in creating who each of us are today and who we will continue to be. Many of us found some of our best friends freshman year, friends we will stay in touch with long after this year is over. Watching each other grow up, discover who we are, and where our passions lie has been transformative and rewarding, and there is no experience quite like it.

Alexis Appreciation Day was established in Sophomore year!

Lydia and Jackson at the end of their freshman year dancing around Film Village.

Four Years and Still Standing (The 4 Year Club)

Jimmy always has a smile on his face!

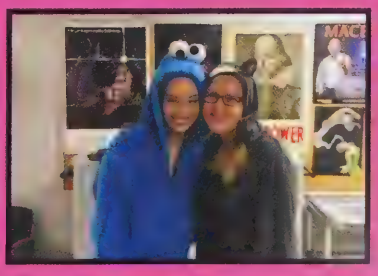
Alexis and Lydia share a sunny Saturday morning at the farmers' market.

Jackson has had a dramatic flair since freshman year.

Lydia and Mikayla crack up while walking around Old Salem.

Jimmy has always gone on lots of trumpet adventures!

Jackson and Mikayla twin like professionals.



Pajama day calls for onzies!

Ruth, Beth, and Jojo form a trio in freshman year.

Our Friendly Faces

Olivia paper machés like a pro.

Mack and Sara get their groove on.

Josh and Hailey hug it out at pride!

Beth and Lina rock some ugly sweaters with guest conductor Karin Hendrickson!

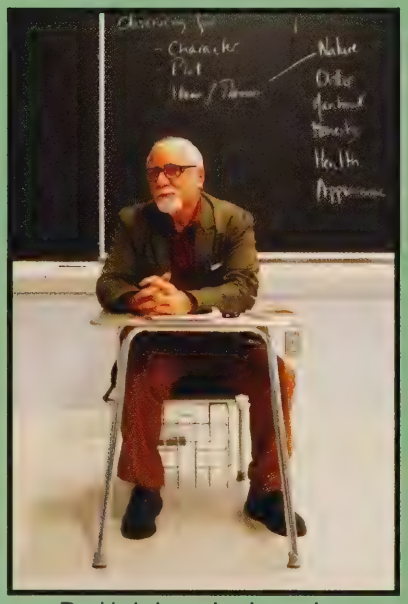
Chipotle time is the best time.

Cobi practices his craft.

Class is in sessin with Cameron.

Sara met a viking impersonator!

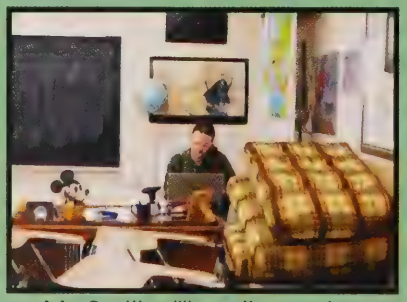
Living in the dorms means every night is a sleepover!



Dr. Haigh gets down to business in his classes.

Who's ready to roller skate?

Everyone rushes to get to class on time.



Mr. Smith diligently grades assignments from behind a pile of cushions.

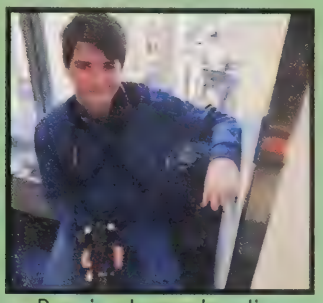
Jane and Sarah share a hug on a sunny day.

"Yeehaw!"

Pickles at Pride!

Assemblies have gotten pretty wild! Harrison, Jake, and Preston engage in an intense lightsaber battle.

Sara is often found in Mr. Bo's comfy chair.



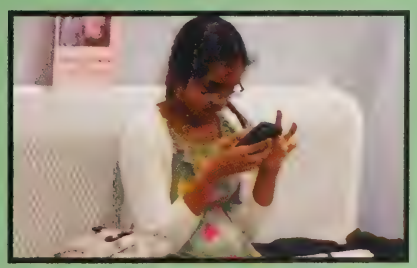
Ben is always hunting creative photos.

Vivian, Audrey, and Ila spread some love.

If you ask anyone on the campus what makes UNCSA so special, there's one answer that is usually given. UNCSA is what it is because of the people that are here. Where else can you find a community filled with artists from many different disciplines? Where else is there the same collective spirit of creativity? Being a student here means you become part of a much larger family. We all come together to support and cheer each other on. We all also know what it feels like to struggle and even fail. When this does happen, though, there are always plenty of caring friends ready to help us get back up. Each person here is so unique, so talented, and has so much to give to the world. To be among the beautiful souls here is such a privilege, and we all will look back on the people here with fond memories.

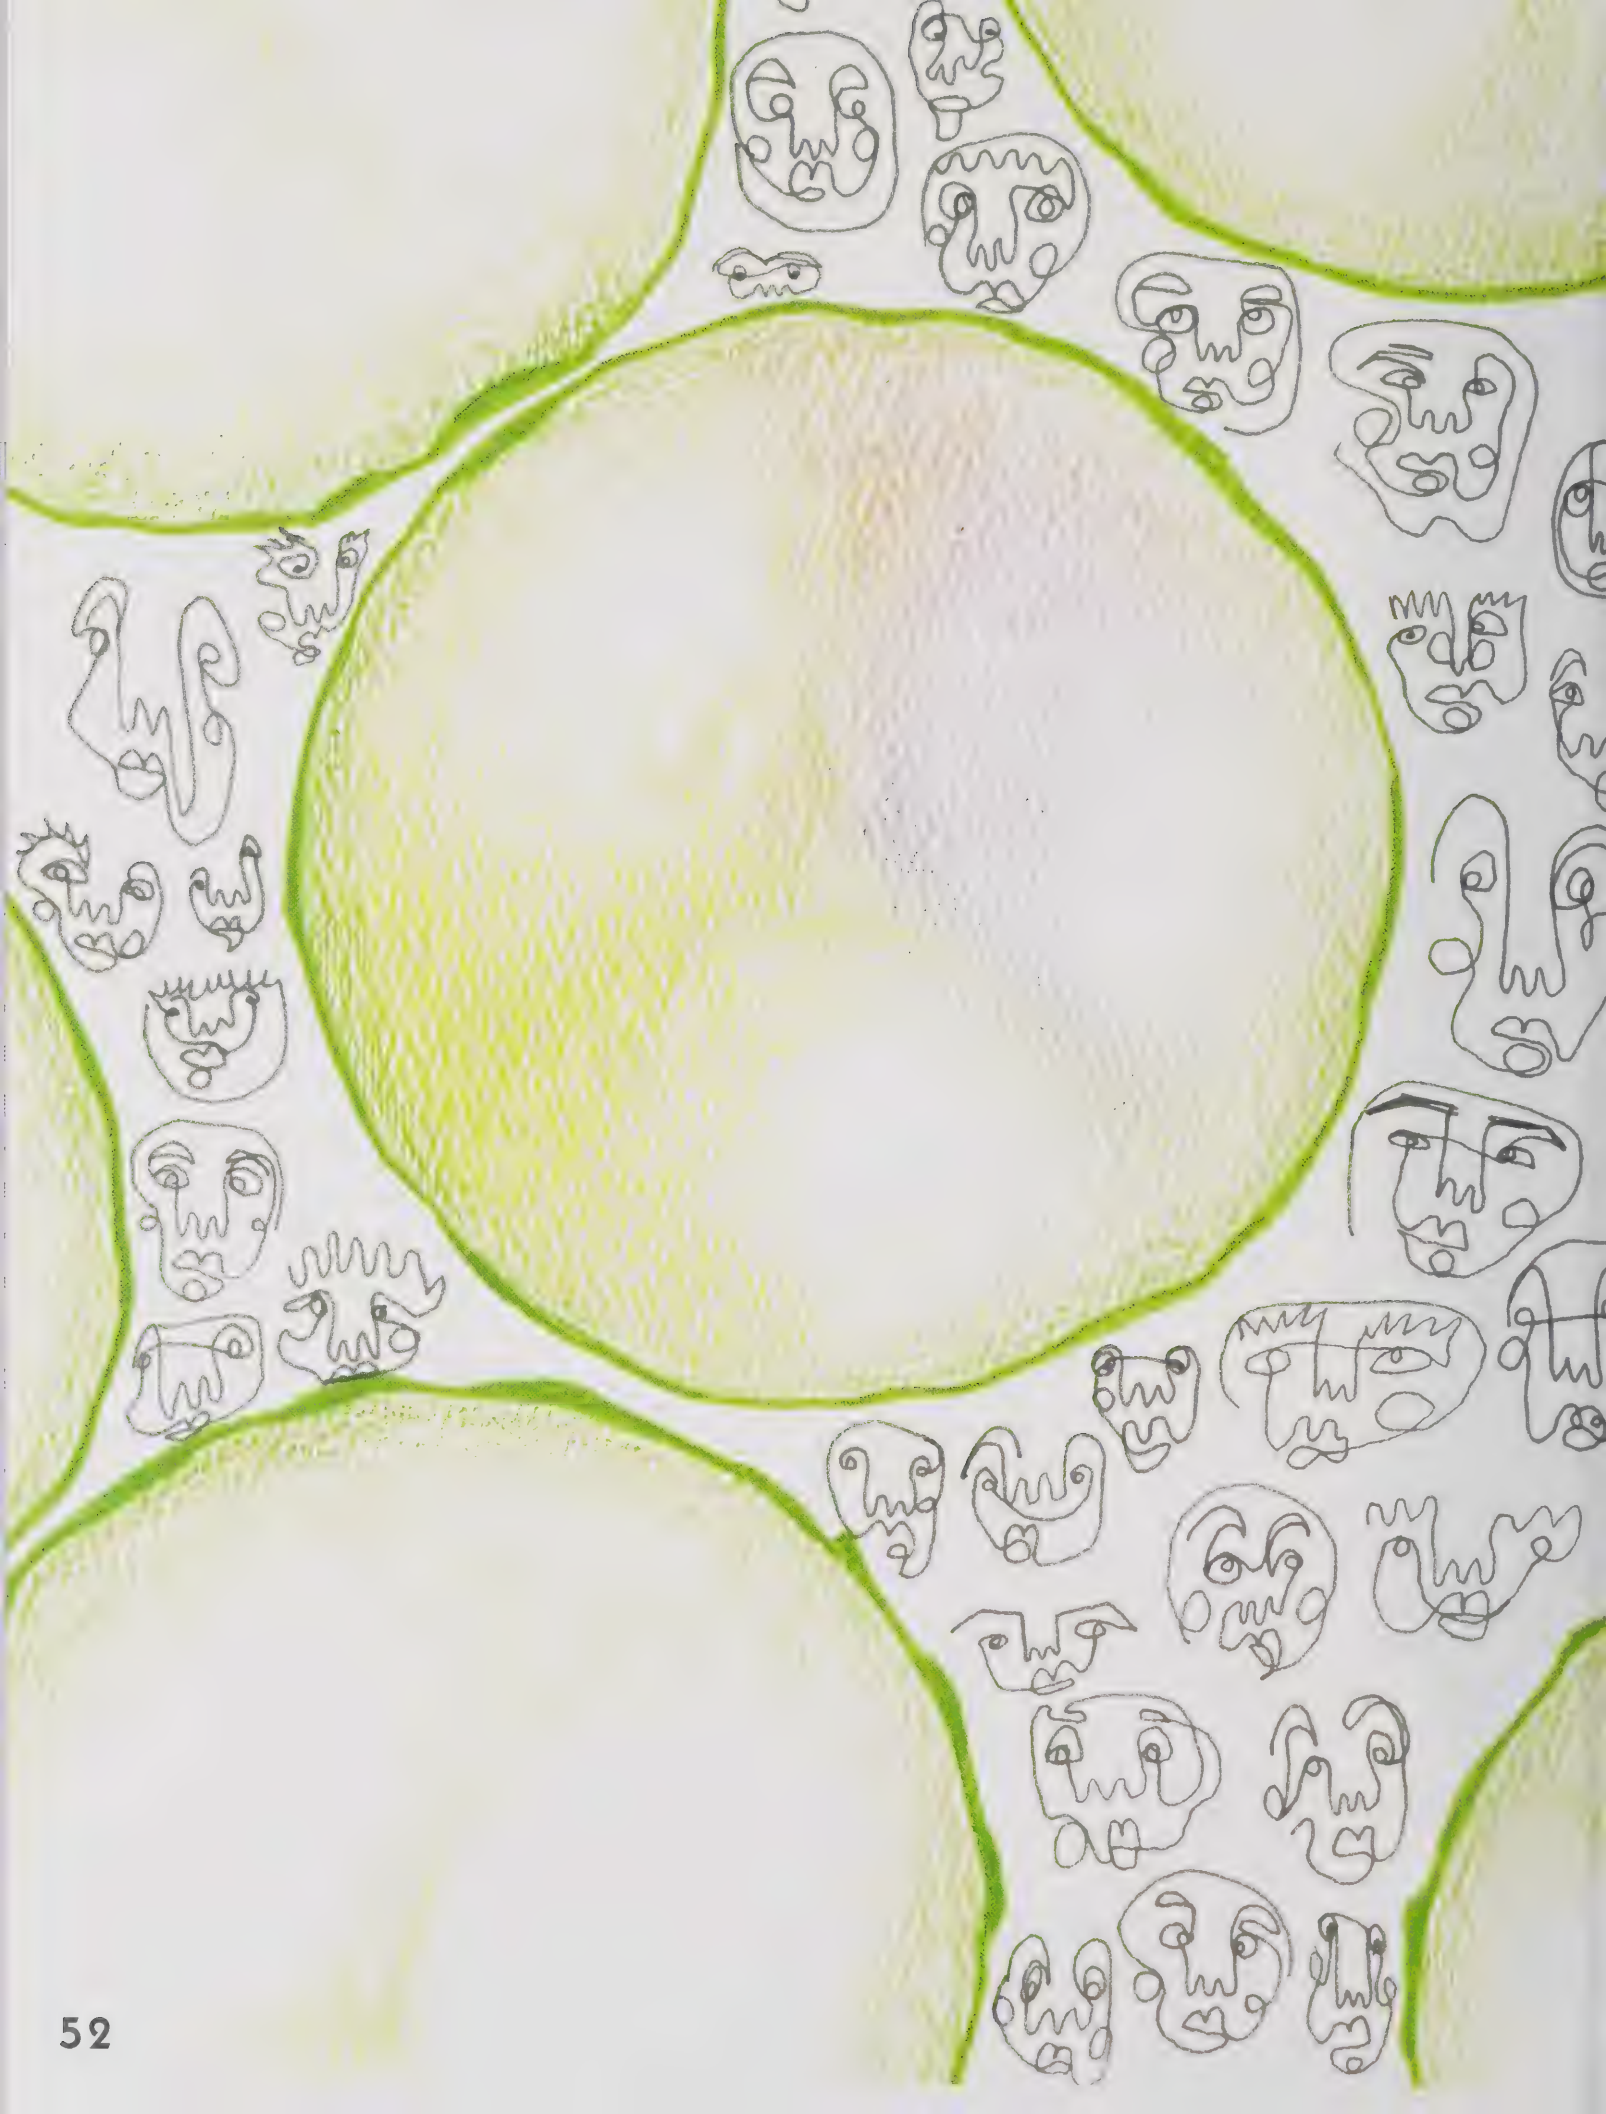
All the science teachers get spooky!

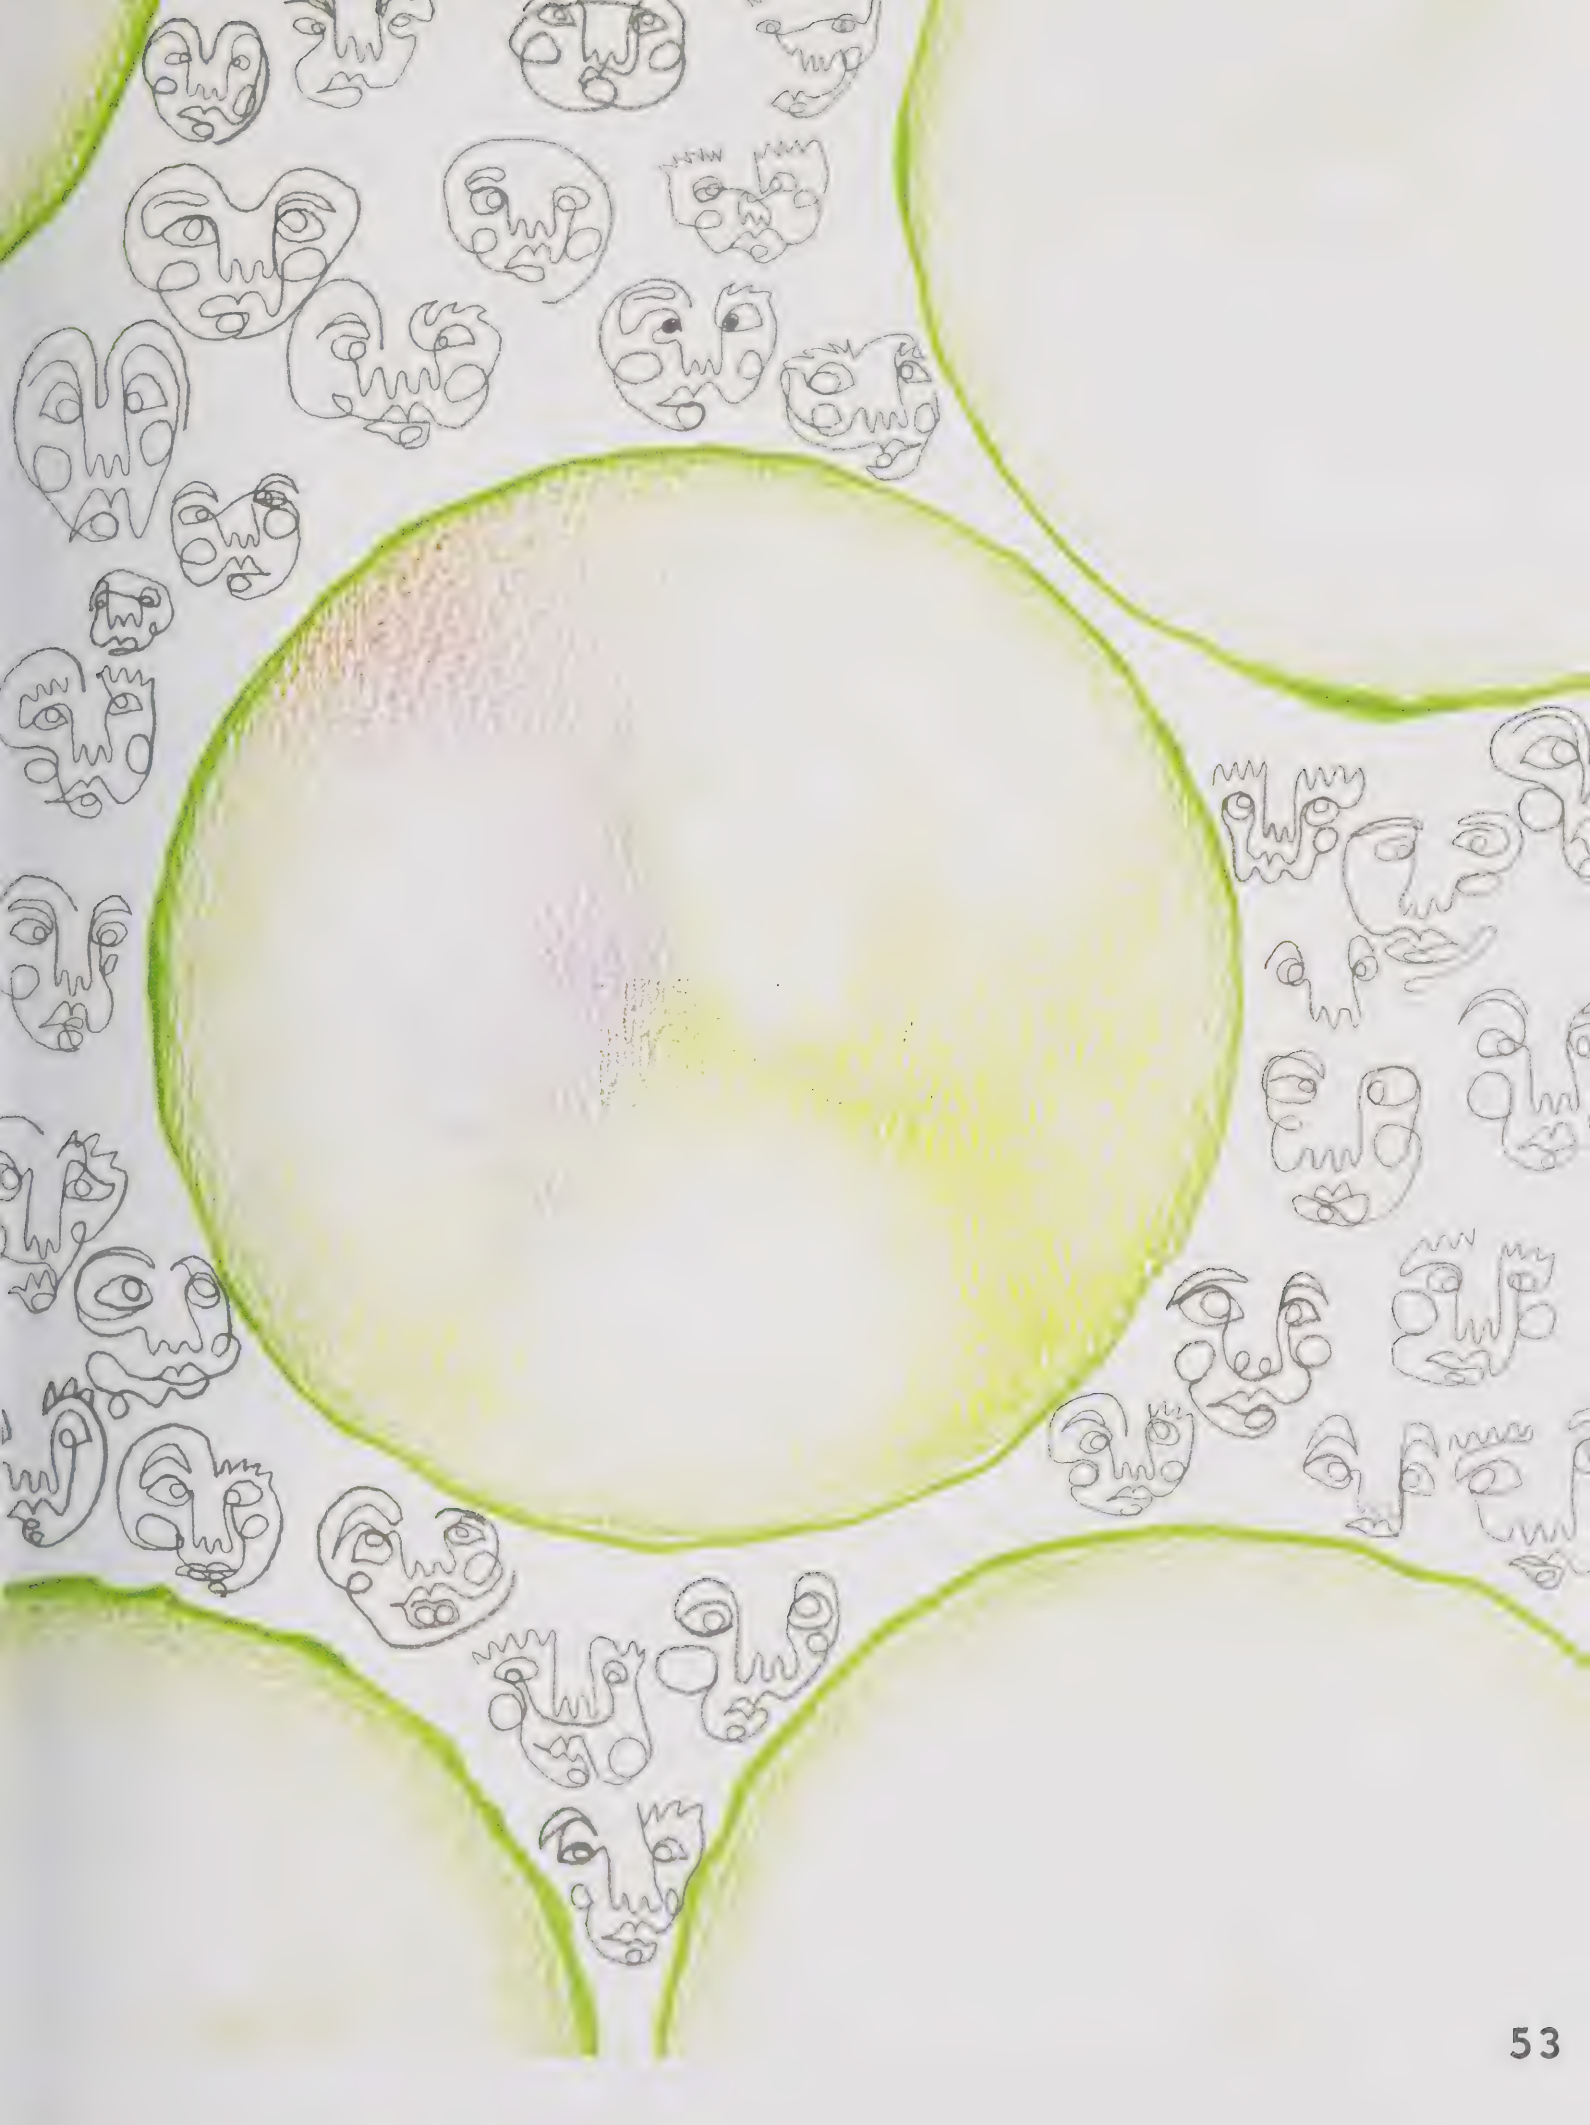
Nothing like a succesful performance of snow!

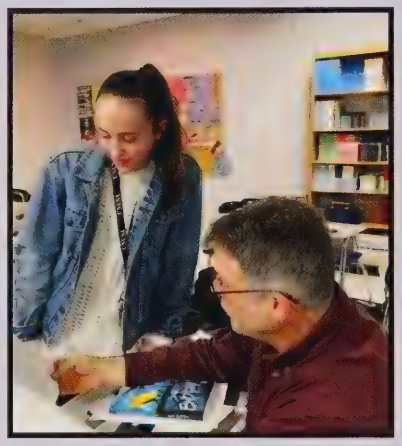


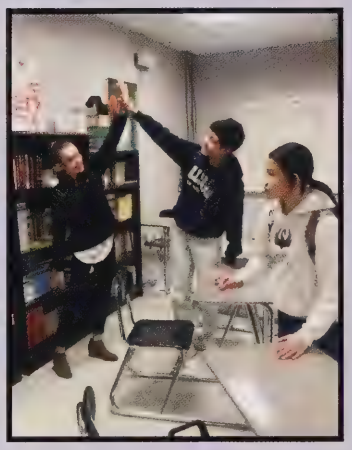
Shravya takes a quick break between classes.

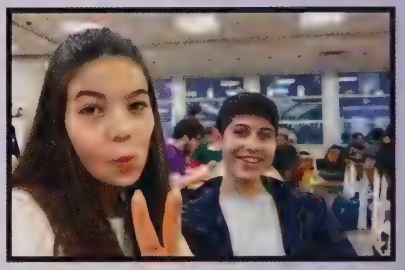
Lily Beth and Claire made sure to grab a homecoming pic.

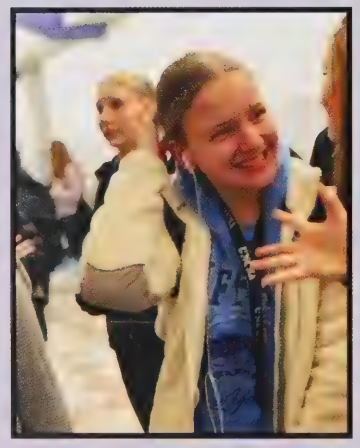


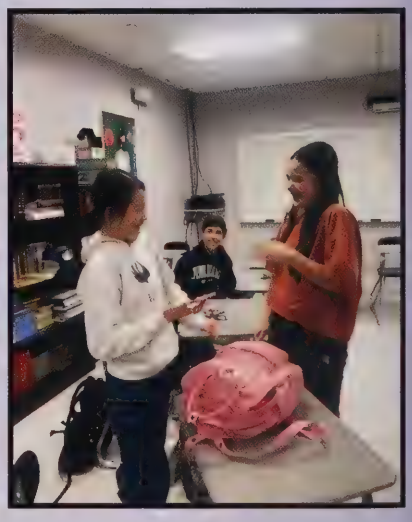


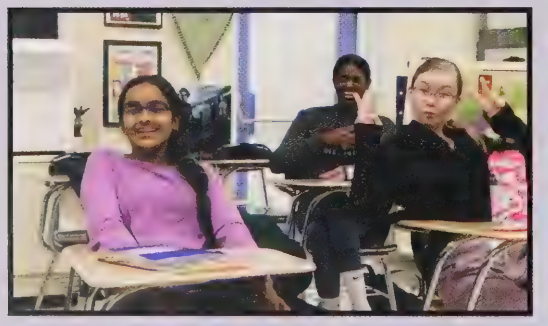


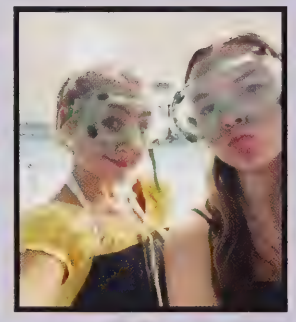


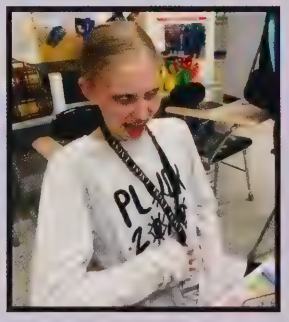


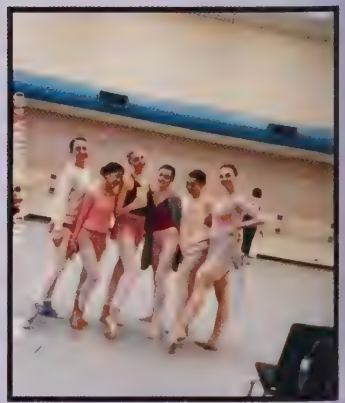




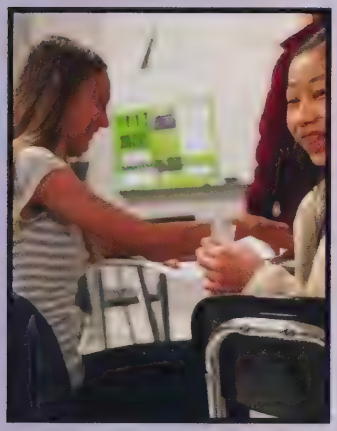




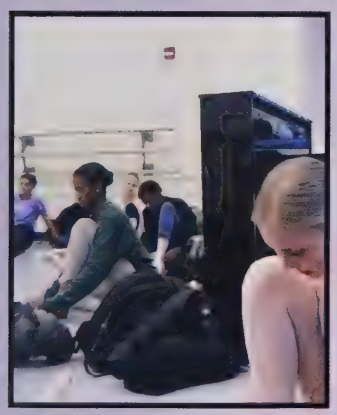


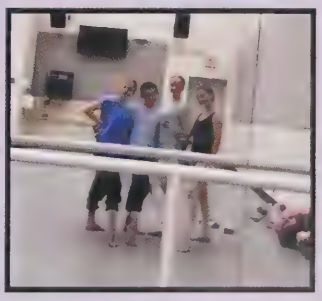


Freshmen



Transitioning to UNCSA as a freshman is a unique experience. Whether you have moved across the country, live in the dorms, or are local, your first year on campus has been one of new discoveries and pure excitement. We have all come from different cultural, societal, and religious backgrounds, and the one thing that has brought us together is art. Each of us has found something that we can no longer live without and we've decided to pursue it. As Ella Carbrey put it, "I can't imagine my life without dance now. I've been dancing since I was three, it's just part of my life now." Everyone has a different perspective coming in, and that has changed the way that we see the school. Whether it felt like home right away or an alien world, we have all come to find our place in this school, and our pattern in the kaleidoscope. We all could have gone to a school for just dancers, or just musicians. Instead, we chose to come to one of the few places where both dancers and musicians can hone their arts separately and then come together at the end of the day. UNCSA is scary when you first come, no doubt about it, but with so many like-minded people, it doesn't stay that way for long.





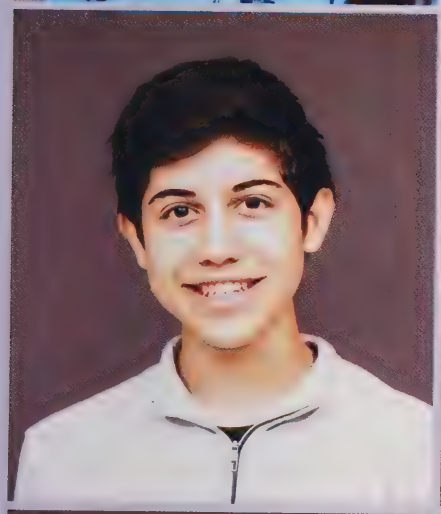
Montgomerie Belk
Ayla Bramblett
Ella Carbrey

Emma Cilke
Sean Darney
Skylar Eads

Eleanor Faub
Francesca Foster
Abigail Fox

Meg Frantz
Alexa Grady
Josh Hebert

Helena Hoermann
Sophie Kanzler
Grace Lee



Cristian Makhuli
Chloe Milling
Makenzie Nathan

Isabella Ownby
Katherine
Pearsall-Finch
Lana Quander

Olivia Renegar
Elizabeth Russell
Tatum Smith

Jeannie Ware
Ava Williams

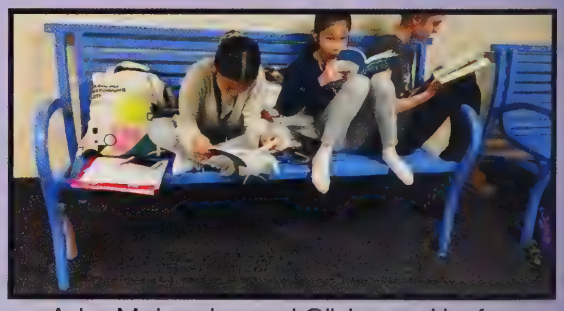
A group of freshmen on Pajama Day.

Grace and Sean high five.

Francie and Eleanor studying in the library.

"Art school makes me want to rip my hair out, but it's so worth it." -Grace Lee

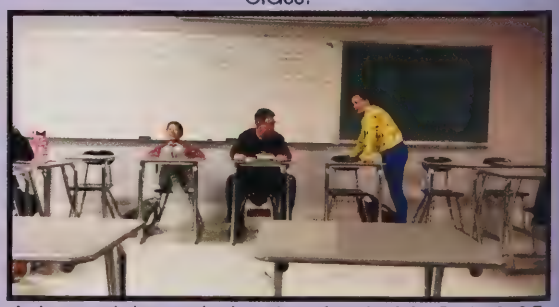
BL1 class on Valentine's Day.



Ayla, Makenzie, and Olivia read before class.

Mrs. Harvey's 11:20 science class celebrates a successful lab experiment.

Meg, Skylar, Chloe, and Jeannie at orientation week.

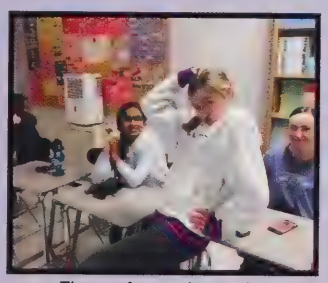


Ayla and Jeannie having fun in Mr. Bo's 2:35 English class.

Michael missed picture day, but we promise he was here.

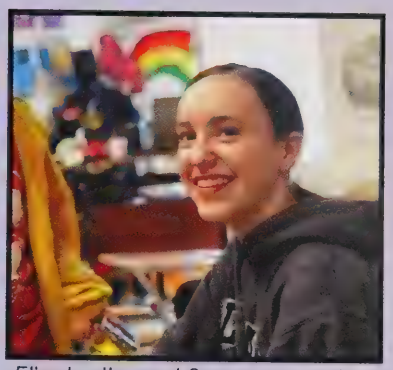
Laughing at the color run!

Francie and Eleanor!



Time for a break.

A group of freshmen impatiently waiting for Mr. Bo to open his door.



Elizabeth and Sean eagerly await the start of Mr. Smith's World History class.

The 11:20 world history class focuses on taking notes.

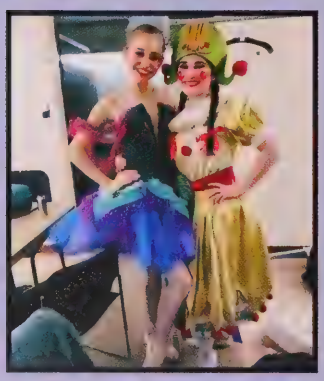
Waiting for Mr. Smith's class.

Ava and Jeannie work hard.

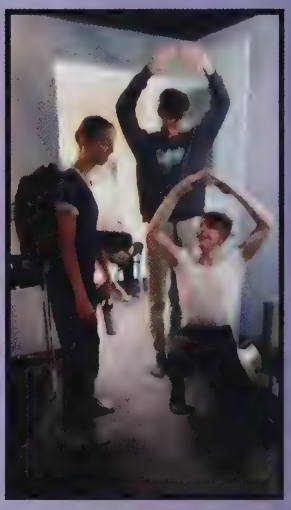
Ella, Sophie, and Tatum act shocked at some news.

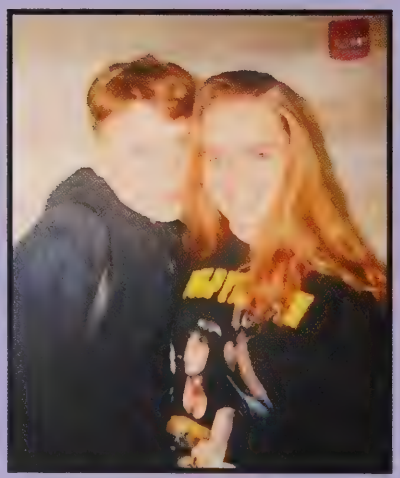
Some freshmen having fun at lunch with Mr. Smith.

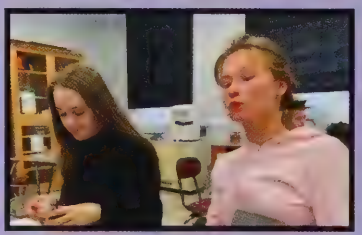
Sophomores



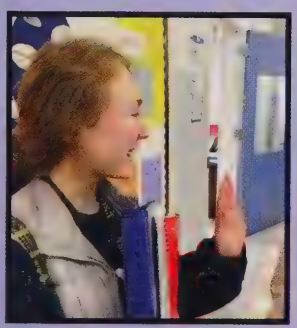
UNCSA is a very special place for the sophomore class. Every day we work together to develop a more intense understanding of our art. Unlike the upperclassmen, we only include musicians and dancers, and because of this, we are constantly building strong and everlasting bonds. Dance visually displays the emotions that musicians express when they play. And when working together, the two arts can create an immersive story. And that is just what we've done in our last year as underclassmen. We all come from a different place and have different pasts. Some have even travelled across the world to make UNCSA their home. It's these unique stories that come together to create the diverse bundle of energy that has turned into a tight knit family. Living the crazy lives of artists has given each and every one of us something to relate too. We all understand the late nights, the determination, and the hard work that it takes to keep up at UNCSA, but it's because of this understanding that we are able to challenge each other, and ultimately, learn and grow. In two years, we will all go our separate ways. But this year, and every experience in it, from homework crunches to performing alongside each other under the lights of the Stevens Center, will be forever uniting.

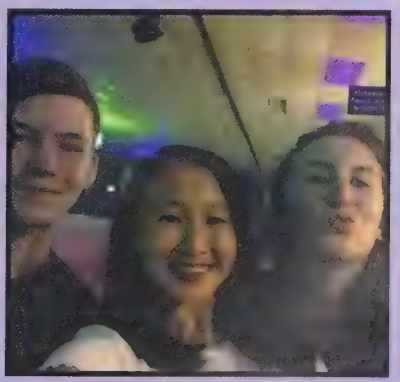






HOCO





Noah Allemeier
Grace Anthony
Thomas Austria

Narada Baba
Norris Blackburn
Eleanor Broughton

Benjamin Burson
Maddie Burt
AJ Canby

Laney Castelloe
Carolina Centenera
Hope Dalbec

Erin Davis
Alexis Dawson
Alicia Giaimo

Matilda Jenkins
Jack King
Sara Kwak

Samantha Ladner
Madeleine Limmer
Mariclaire Livingston

Kaitlyn McCoy
Audrey Nelson
Grace Nemeth

Mallarie Nix
Aidan O'Brien
Grace Park

Mina Piazza
Anabel Rattray
Gabriel Roush

Lydia Schneider
Bella Schott
Davin Shim

Trent Smart
Sophia Smith
Kayla Turner

Lucy Willcott

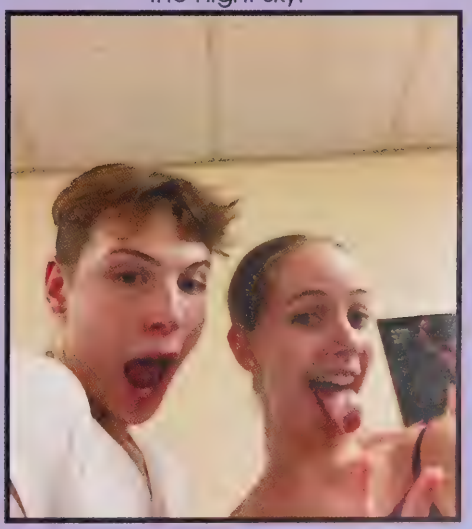
Grace, Klara, Eleanor, Grace, and Sophia at rehearsal for the Nutracker.

Sophomores passing time in Daniel's Plaza.

Hope and Laney hanging out under the night sky.

Matilda and Mariclaire studying in Mr. Bo's office.

Malcolm, Aidan, Gabriel, and Narada being weird in the studio.



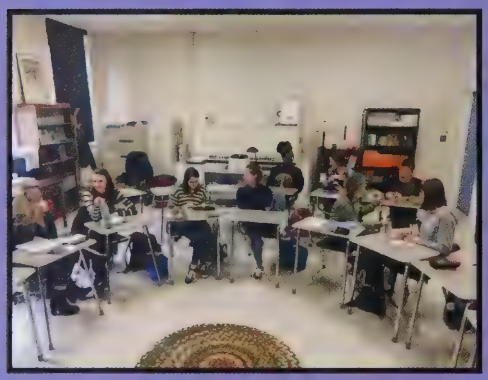
Aidan and Alicia catching a quick selfie.

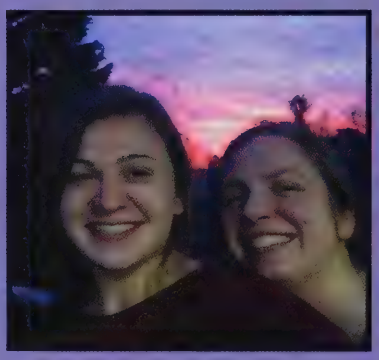
Siri and Audrey posing in their costumes.

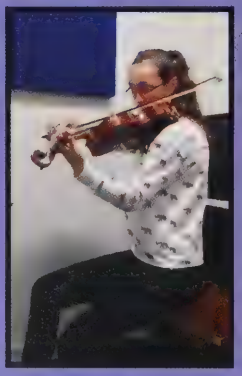
Alexis and Mina having a good time.

Erin and Mariclaire getting ready for the Opera.

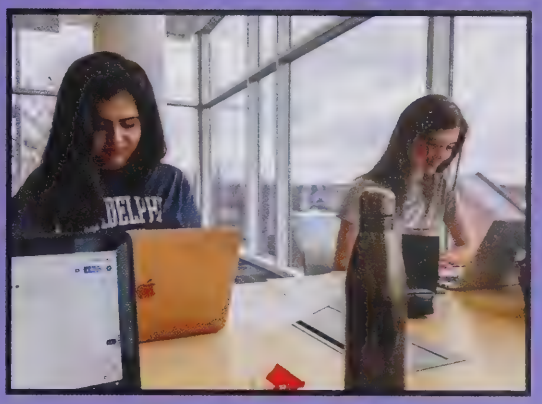
Klara and Kayla together outside.



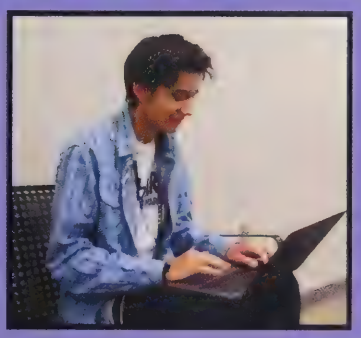




Juniors



This school year we doubled the size of our grade level, making room for new VAs, dancers, and musicians. All these students faced a hectic, chaotic, stressful, overwhelming, and even heinous (at times) year. However, the things that really got us through our busy schedules were the old and new friendships we made with the people around us, both in our art and in other disciplines. We all connected with one another through the challenges we faced in academic classes or through our other interests. Junior year has been a struggle, but it was a collective struggle that brought us all closer together. Remember that no matter the challenge, you can count on the people surrounding you. Senior year is almost here, and we will face it together!



Ezra Alderman
Christopher Balbuena
Emily Bealer

AC Berger
Heather Blake
Jessie Burdette

Helen Campbell
Rheann Chico
Isabel Clements

Jenny Colavito
Alannah Couch
Madison Dabravalskie

Sophie Dickerson
Alayna Fisher
Sarah Gerics

Audrey Graham
Kaylie Griffin
Elaine Guo

Amanda Harrell
Evan Harris
Melinda Harrison

Ian He
Charlie Herron
Thomas
Holladay-Munoz

Keira Holland
Grace Homer
Emma Hurtado

Sarah Jin
Amber Keller
Lorelei Lin

Mace Marley
Nicolas Mayers
Brynn McKay

Irma Nelson
Rosie Nelson
Katherine Nettles

Ariel Olaleye
Asia Parham
Ash Paris-Carter

Xia Raburn
Zoe Reynolds
Vivian Rountree

Claire Schiffer
Lilly Schroeder
Lily Beth Senkowski

Sadie Grace
Shelburne
Ruth Shumway
Sasha Silverman

Jayson Sloan
Hikaru Smith
Doriana Spurrell

Abigail Stinnett
Aron Stornaiuolo
Caitie Sweeney

Hami Trinh
Katherina Tsai
Phoebe Turvaville

Sydney Urmston
Ila Waller
Kira Wilkerson

Doriana just chilling out.

Hami modeling a beautiful creation.

Sydney, Heather, and Amanda hanging out.

Never a dull moment coming from the library cafe.

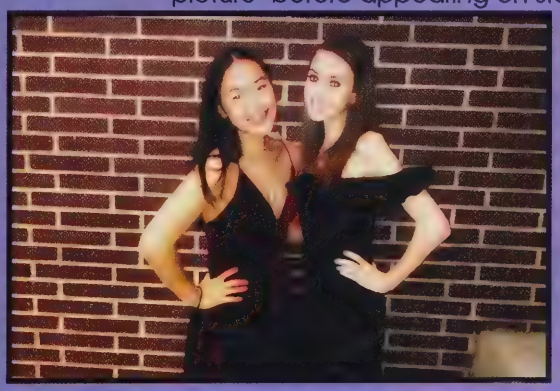
We are all in this together.

Lily Beth and Lilly looking fashionable at skate night.

Catherine, Rheann, and Caroline take a moment to snap a picture before appearing on stage.

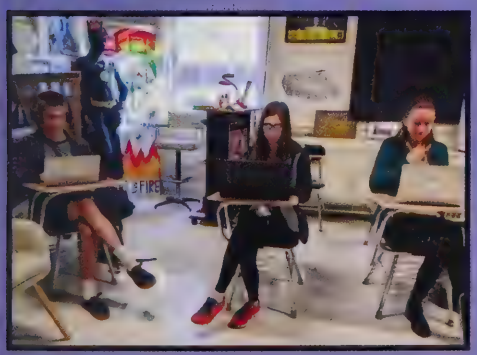
Vivian and Audrey glowing in the sun.

Amir praticing to perfection.



Claire and Sadie take some pre-homecoming pictures.

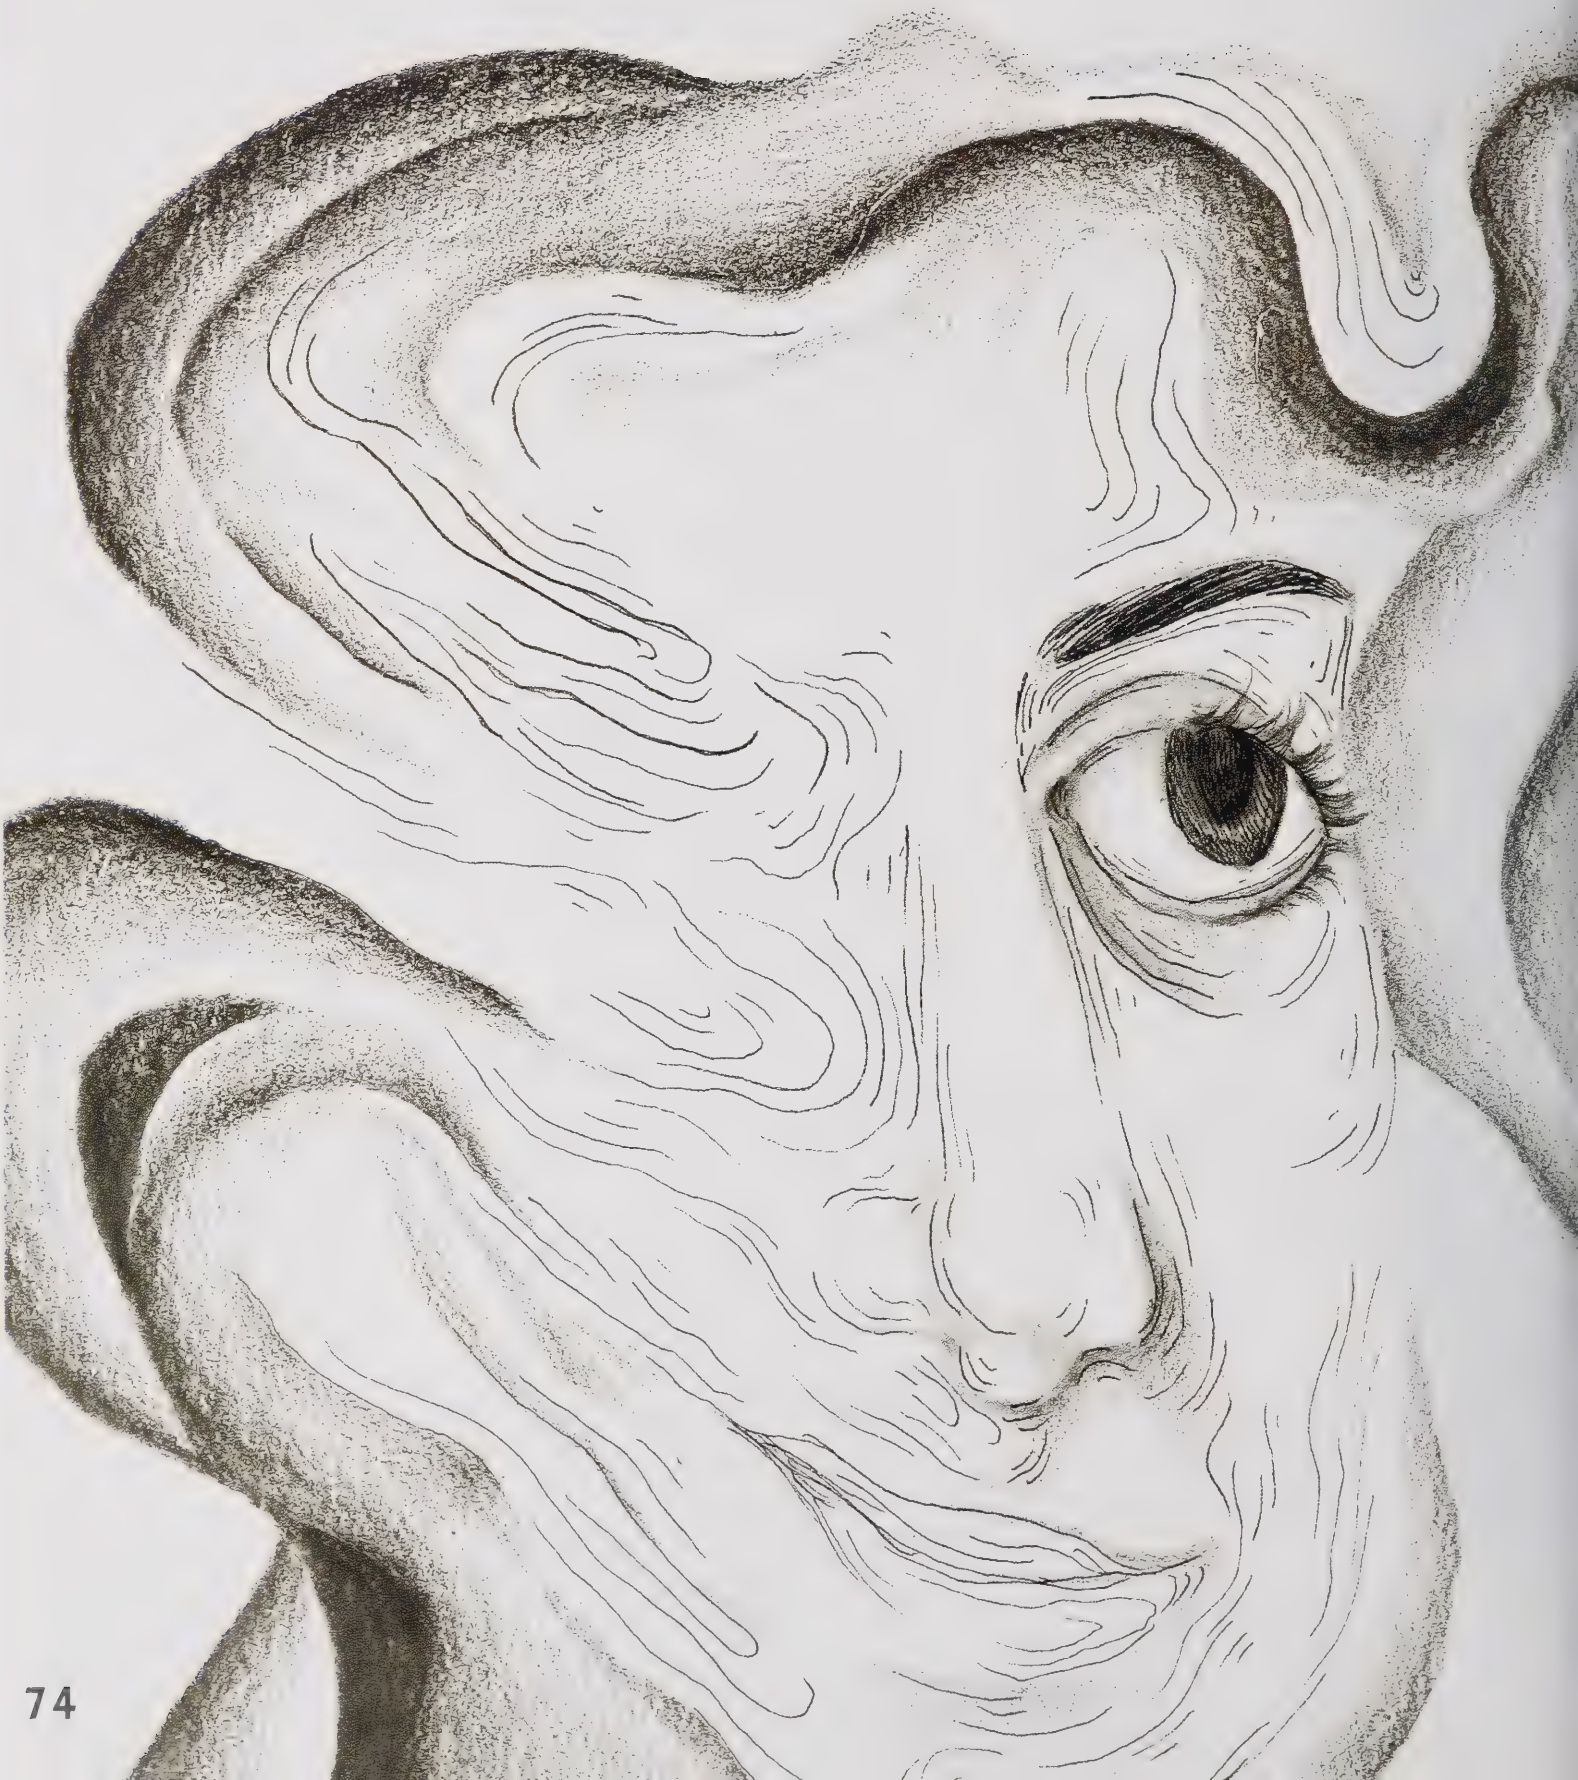
Abigal dances the hour away.

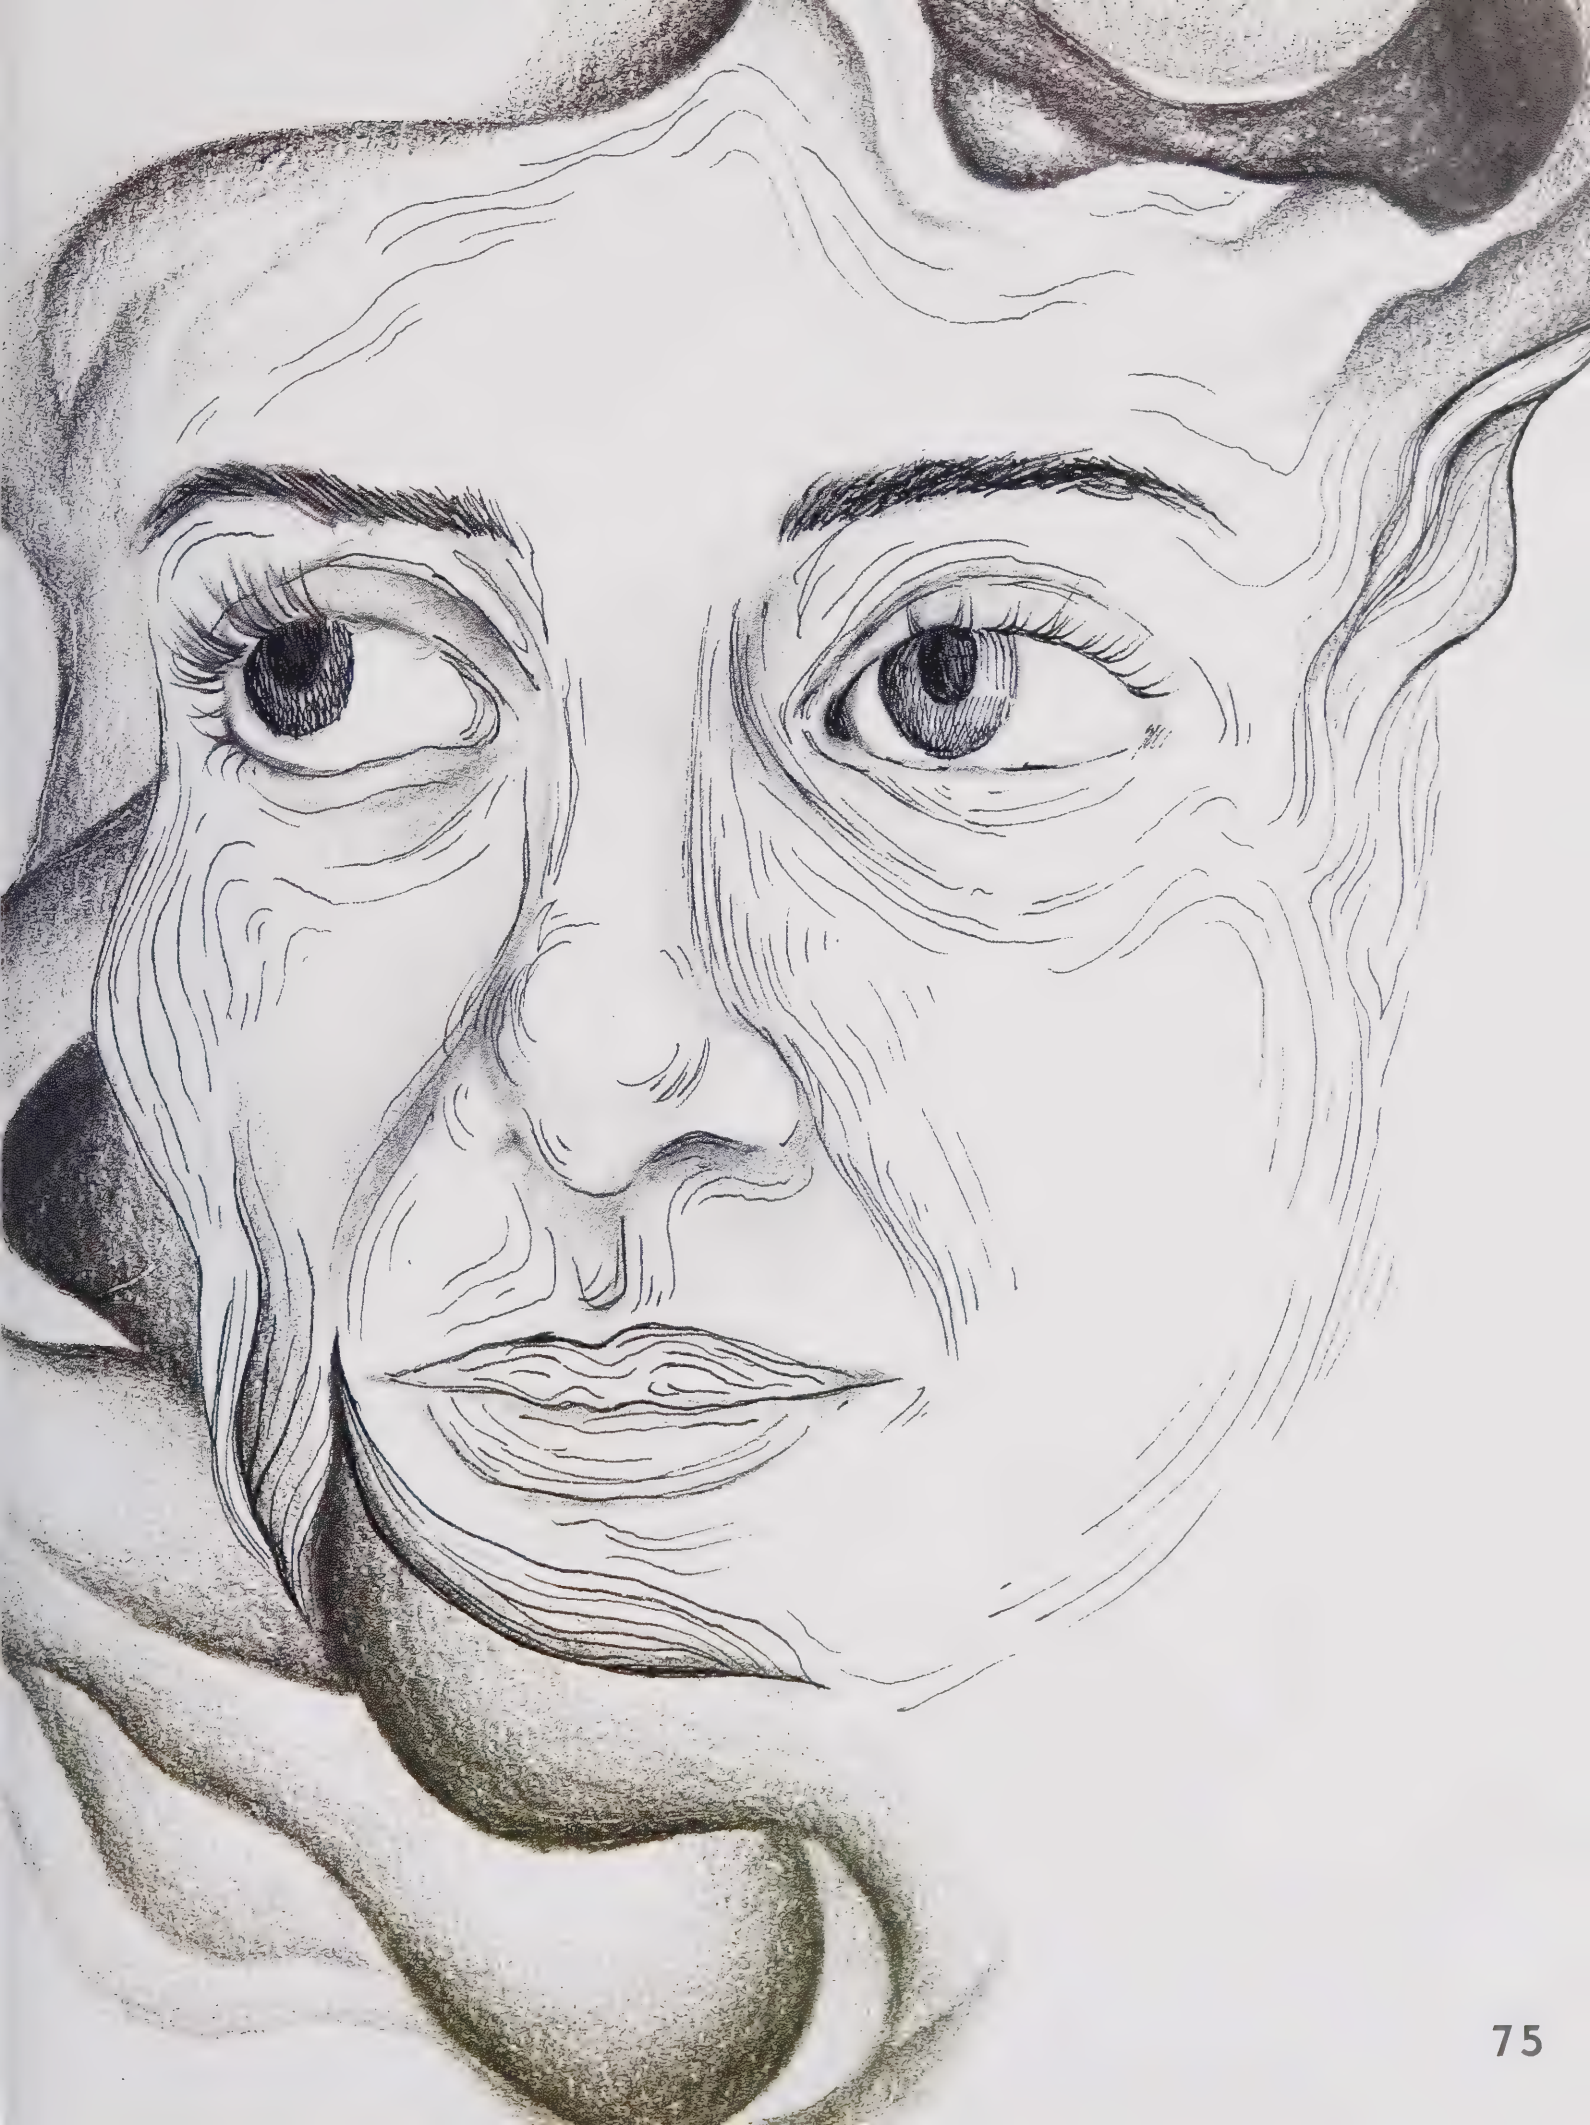


Nick, Helen, and Jessie work on the monthly newspaper.

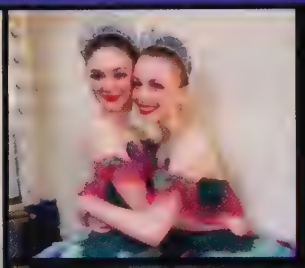
Zoe caught in the moment.

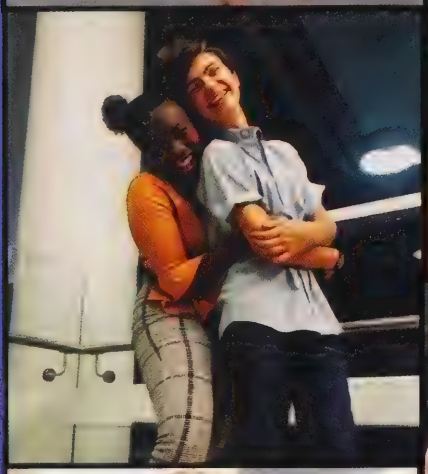
Sara and Marisa's moring routine.

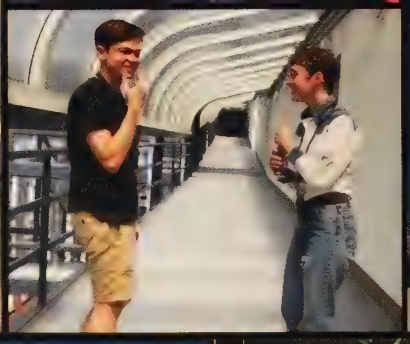


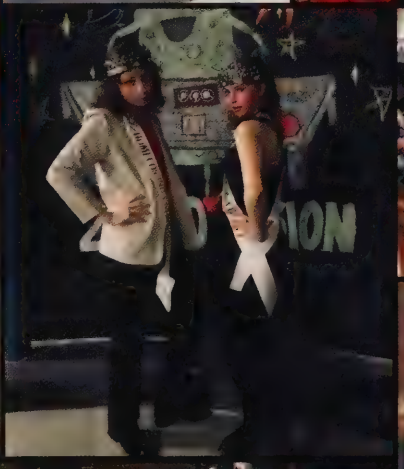


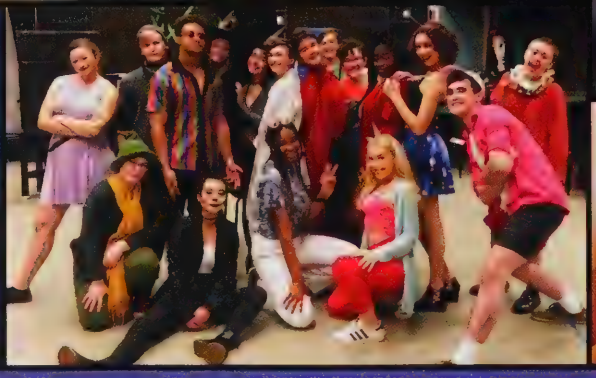
Seniors

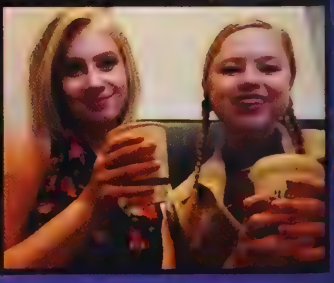


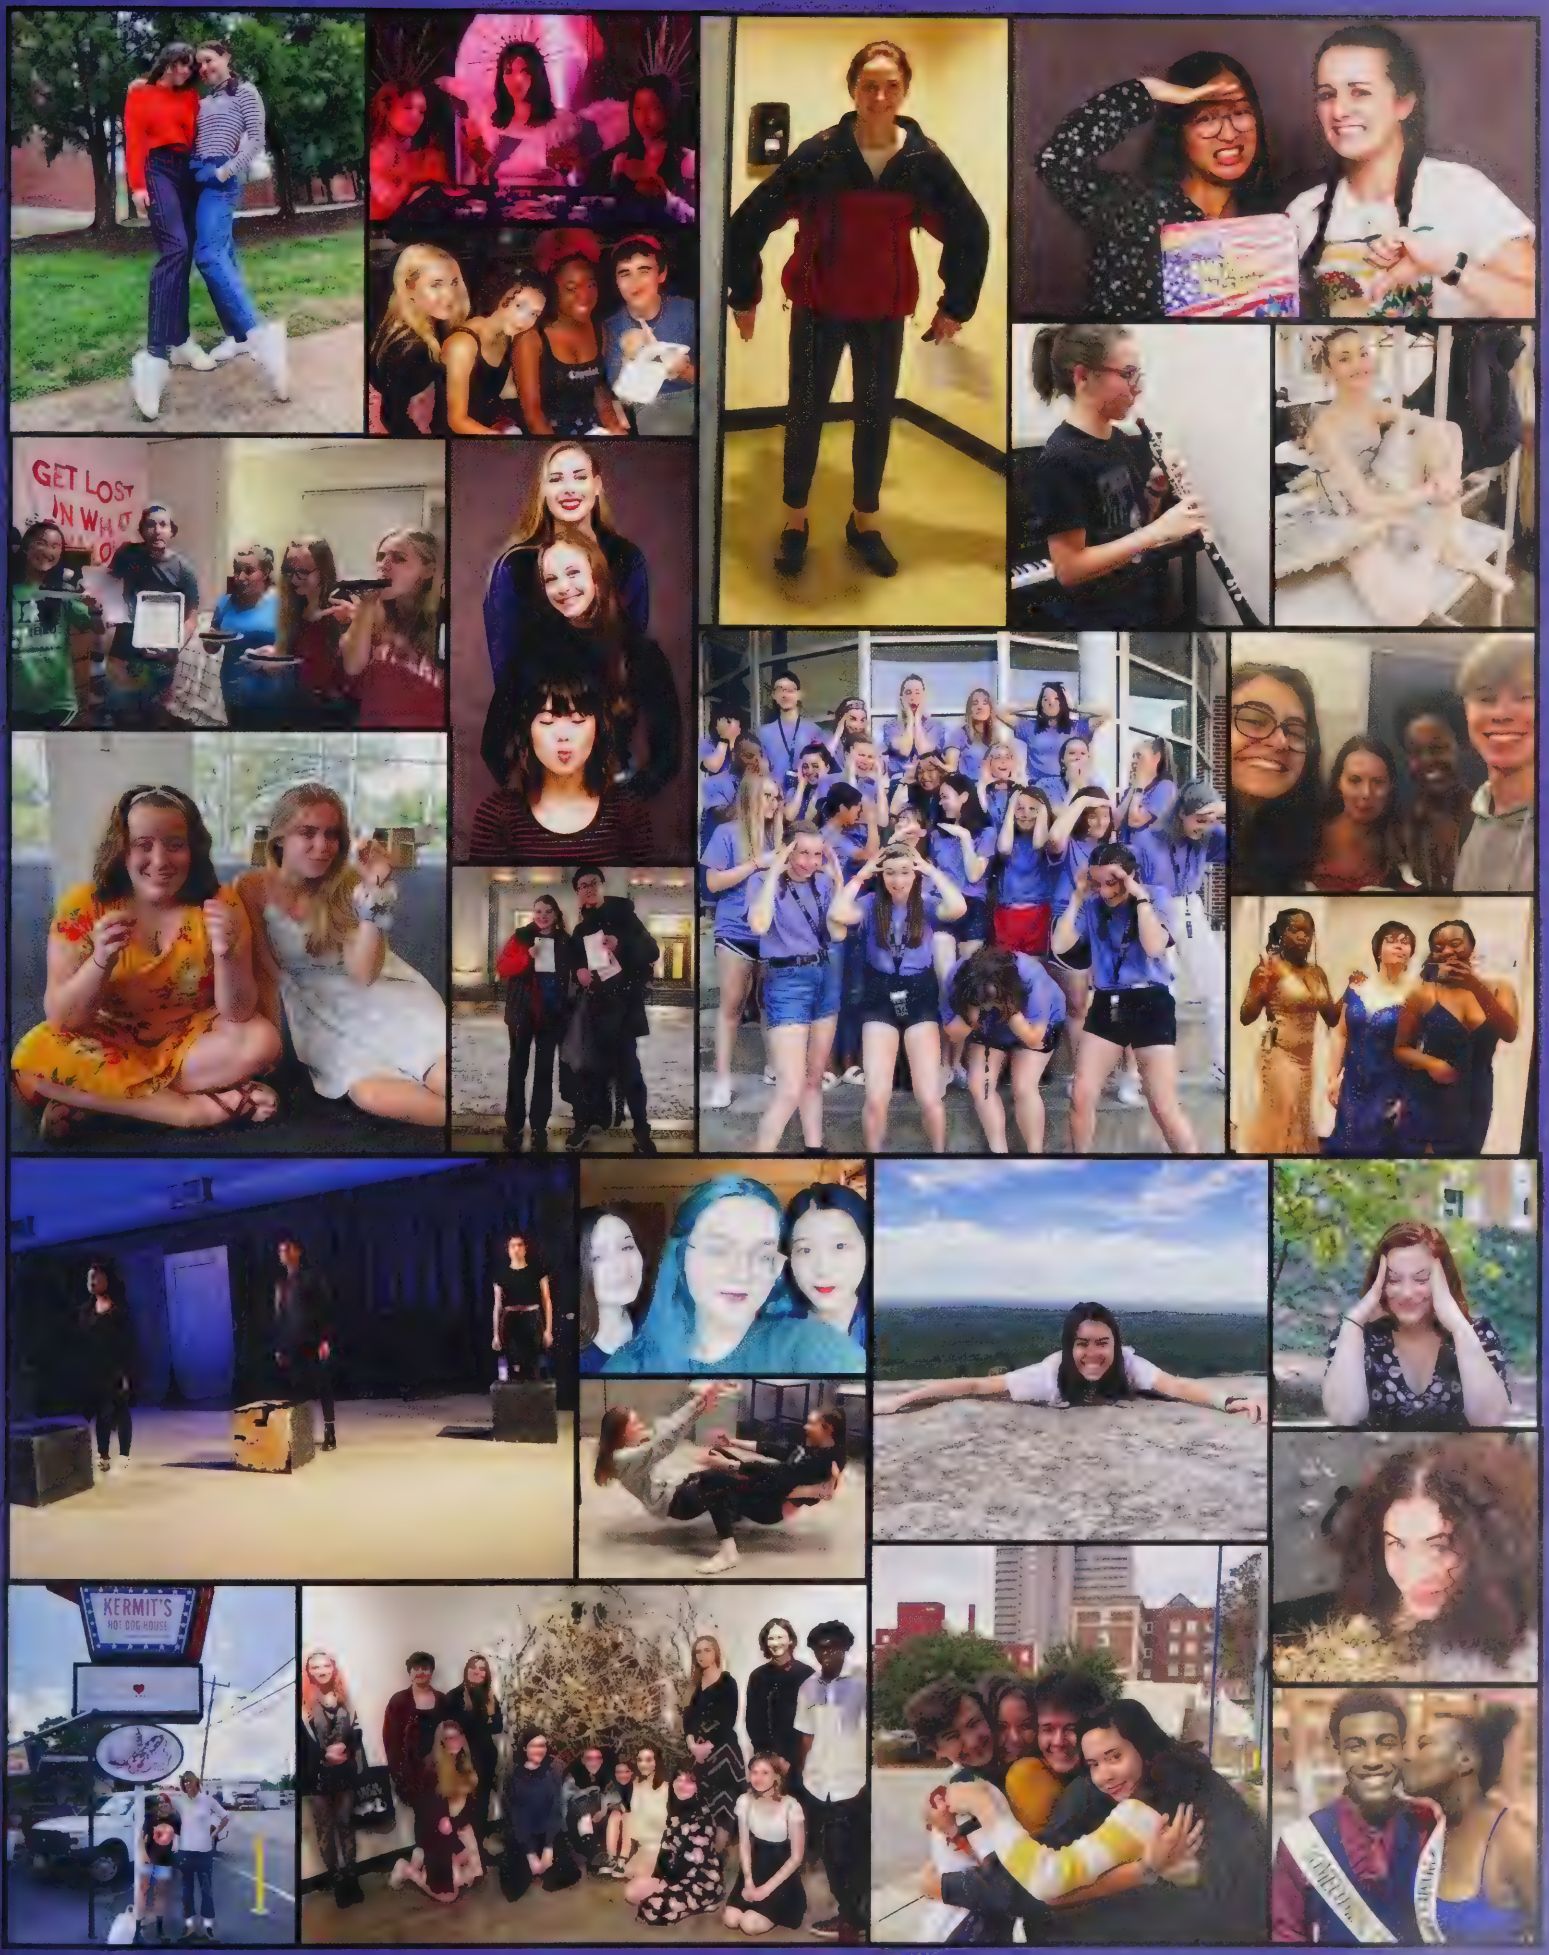












GET LOST
IN WHA
KERMIT'S
HOT DOG HOUSE

Macy Alday
Contemporary Dance
"Depth over distance."

Brianna Altman
Ballet
"Do your best, %$&@ the rest."

Maddie Ballard
Contemporary Dance
"Enjoy the best things in your life, cause you ain't gonna get to live it twice."
- Mac Miller

Lydia Bloomfield
Ballet
"It seems that a lot of people try to be interesting by having problems or starting conflicts. I'd rather be interesting because I created something beautiful."
- Humans of New York

Abigail Bohannon
Visual Arts

"You can change or stay the same, there are no rules to this thing. I hope you live a life you're proud of, and if you're not, I hope you have the courage to start all over again."
- F. Scott Fitzgerald

Erika Bradley
Flute

"This is gonna be one hell of a finsta post."

Meredith Brown
Contemporary Dance

"Dumela."
- Bobby Lange

Rileah Byrd
Drama

"I DID MY WAITING! 4 YEARS OF IT! IN HIGH SCHOOL!"
- Paraphrasing Sirius Black in Harry Potter

Lucy Calaway
Voice
"In bocca al lupo."

Jackson Calhoun
Ballet
"I started dance because I couldn't dance."

Eva Rose Cole
Voice
"Love all, trust a few, do wrong to none."
- William Shakespeare

Sierra Corcoran
Drama
"I thought I was going to [acting] school to be other people, but really, what I learned was to be myself."

Charlotte Crater

Violin

"Nothing stresses me out. Except having to seek the approval of my inferiors."
- Dwight Schrute

Maia Culbreath

Ballet

"Dear future self, always remember who got you where you are today."

Lane Dallape

Ballet

"Clane's World."

Grant Develle

Flute

"I'm a flutician creating my fluture in a flutio."

Johanna Di Norcia

Cello

"I realized late in life that my twin passions are music and people."
- Yo-Yo Ma

Mikayla Durham

Ballet

"It's up there Steve!!"

Haley Evans

Voice

"I don't know half of you half as well as I should like and I like less than half of you half as well as you deserve."
- J. R. R. Tolkien

Bella Exum

Contemporary Dance

"One thing I learned not too long ago, before we gotta go... is there will never be enough, never enough, never enough time, for us
So let's dance
Just Keep dancing
Just keep dancing along, along, along."

Jane Ferry
Visual Arts
"If you can't be better than your competition, just dress better."
- Anna Wintour

Grace Ficara
Drama
"Line?"

Monique Fogg
Drama
"Yes, I know I am tall. Thank you."

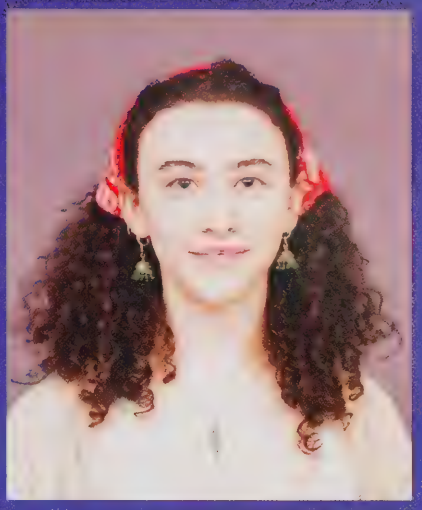
Rachel Fontenot
Contemporary Dance
"Never enough, never enough, never enough time."

Joshua Forbes
Viola
"I'm sad but at the same time I'm really happy that something could make me feel sad. It's like, it makes me feel alive,you know? It makes me feel human. And the only way I could feel this sad now is if I felt somethin' really good before. So I have to take the bad with the good, so I guess what I'm feelin' is like a beautiful sadness."

Isabel Frick
Contemporary Dance
"The queen stays queen. Adios."
- Sandra Diaz-Twine

Rachel Garrison
Piano
"I can't tell if it's a vitamin deficiency or depression, but I'm tired."

Jacob Genderson
Drama
"We're choosing senior quotes? Oh...um, let me think about that...well...ah...maybe...uh...I'm not sure...um..."



Maya Goldsmith
Visual Arts
"You can do hard things."
- Dedee Ephraim

Sara Gordon
Voice
"There isn't even a cabinet in here."
- Colin Mochrie

Ada Graham
Visual Arts
"yont usually turn eighteen butcept once"

Sara Green
Contemporary Dance
"My pleasure."
- Myself

Jack Greenberg
Drama
"When people tell you what to do, it is usually confusing and does not make sense. For example, people often say 'Be quiet' but they don't tell you how long to be quiet for."
- Christopher Boone

Leslie Harker
Voice
"And if you have a minute why don't we go talk about it somewhere only we know. This could be the end of everything so why don't we go somewhere only we know."
- Keane

Cat Harris
Contemporary Dance
"I can't hangout because I have work but I might quit my job so I'll let you know."
- Ashton Jones

Gary Harris
Drama
"Harder, Better, Faster, Stronger."

Zoe Healey
Drama
"Whether I shall turn out to be the hero of my own life, or whether that station will be held by anybody else, these pages must show."
- Charles Dickens

Molly Hefner
Contemporary Dance
"Senioritis > Appendicitis."

Anna Hendrick
Visual Arts
"They misunderestimated me."
- George W. Bush

Beth Henson
Harp
"The automatic assumption should be that Beth is not okay."

Elizabeth Hernandez-Gomez
Visual Arts
"I may not have gone where I intended to go, but I think I have ended up where I need to be."
- Douglas Adams

Joshua Hill
Drama

Jimmy Jackson-Cabaniss
Trumpet
"B♮ and Dress ♯"
- Ba-Dum-Tsssshhh

Ruiko Jacobs
Ballet
"To understand is to stand under which is to look up to which is a good way to understand."
- Corita Kent

Joseph Jarrett
Visual Arts

Monet Jowers
French Horn

Ruth Kelley
Violin
":)"

Grant Kennedy
Contemporary Dance
"And just like that..."

Ace Kim
Visual Arts
"Now dig on this."
- Peter Parker

Bella Lambert
Voice
"Eek! That was yummy."

Sophie Lehman
Contemporary Dance
"Get me a danimals on the rocks."
- Ace

Jiacheng Li
Piano
"Be vulnerable and take the change."
- James Albritten

Sara Lockett
Visual Arts
"Does anyone think global warming is a good thing? I love Lady Gaga. I think she's a really interesting artist."
- Britney Spears

Jadyn Loftin
Violin
"When you present luxury, luxury comes to you."

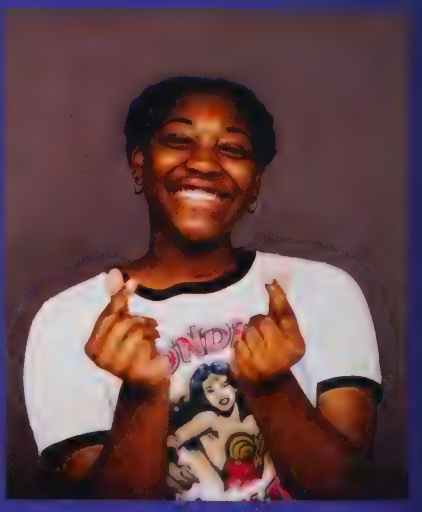
Julien Marcellin-Little
Composition
"We are all Julien."

Jasmine Marshall
Composition
"You just did something!"
- Sarah Jin

Karen Mason
Voice

Cora McAnulty
Visual Arts
"Don't quit until you're dead, and don't try to be happy because it'll never happen."
- Stacy McAnulty

Phoebe McFarland
Contemporary Dance
"I wish I could, but I don't want to."
- Phoebe Buffay



Chase McLean
Contemporary Dance
"There is no 'we' in ramen."
- Chase Orri

Daniel McNeill
Drama
"Keep the faith."

Abbey McWhirter
Ballet
"Welcome to the real world! It sucks. You're gonna love it!"
- Monica Geller

Alana Merrell
Visual Arts
"When I was a kid I inhaled frequently. That was the point."
- Barack Obama

Hailey Meyer
Drama
"Mom, what should my senior quote be?"

Oscar Mooney
Visual Arts

Marshall Moore
Visual Arts
"If given the task of swallowing two frogs, swallow the big one first."
- John Moore

Mack Moseley
Drama
"Have a great day! Or allow yourself to have whatever kind of day you're having."

Luna Murphy
Drama
"I don't know how many years on this Earth I got left. I'm gonna get real weird with it."
- Danny DeVito

Kayla Myers
Drama
"Love is love is love is love is love is love is love cannot be killed or swept aside."
- Lin-Manuel Miranda

Margaux Nicolas
Contemporary Dance
"I open my mouth and words come out. I am just as surprised as anyone else with the words I say."
- Fred Lennon (Dede)

Will O'Donoghue
Flute
"I'll probably figure it out."

Michael O'Neill
Visual Arts
"Everything is okay."
- Alex G

Peyton Paulette
Ballet

"I want to make myself so happy that others get happy just looking at me."
- Yogi Bhajan

Jeffrey Payton
Drama

"yeet."

Alexandra Pernie
Ballet

Lulu Price
Ballet

"Life is a bowl of soup, and I'm the fork."

Aiyana Radcliff
Drama
"Art should comfort the disturbed and disturb the comfortable."
- Cesar A. Cruz

Clara Rimes
Visual Arts
"Do I dare disturb the universe?"
- T. S. Eliot

Evelyn Robinson
Ballet
"I trip. I eat watermelon. I spill the watermelon. And I sometimes dance."

Eduardo Rosario-Nieves
Visual Arts
"Y'all hear sum? ,':·)"

David Schell
Drama
"Don't dream it, be it."

Elena Schulmeister-Antona
Violin
"I love Germany, it's vonderful here! I love z apple strudel."
- Kim Kardashian

Abigail Shorter
Drama
"Anyway, it's not a bad idea for you to want to become an artist, because if one has fire in one, and soul, one can't keep stifling them and — one would rather burn than suffocate. What's inside must get out."
- Van Gogh

Preston Simon
Drama
"This is for Rachel."

Cameron Sinclair
Visual Arts

Lina Sinsheimer
Percussion

"Lina, Imma need you to get your life together over there."
- Mrs. George, in the middle of Stats class

Page Smither
Ballet

"Youth is something I never wanna take for granted. I just want to smile and live life."
- Tyler, The Creator

Nicholas Steward
Guitar

Jade Stewart
Contemporary Dance
"Center stage is wherever I am."

Justin Taylor
Cello
"The pot of gold at the end of the rainbow is really just a bowl of cornflakes."

Cora Therber
Drama
"I am not paranoid. I'm right."
- Blair Waldorf

Daniela Thorne
Ballet
"Save our planet, the arts, and our future."

Bella Villa
Contemporary Dance
"Trust the wait. Embrace the uncertainty. Enjoy the beauty of becoming. When nothing is certain, anything is possible."

Alexis Ward
Guitar
"I hate - to go - and leave this pretty sight!"
- The Sound of Music

Harrison Wells
Tuba
"What level are you? I don't know like 5 probably."
- Jonah McKee

Grace White
Visual Arts
"Knock me down you know I'm coming right back."
- Big Time Rush

Caleb Wiler
Guitar

Cobi Williams
Percussion

"And just like that..."

Annie Winkelman
Oboe

"Of course it is happening inside your head, Harry, but why on earth should that mean that it is not real?"
- Albus Dumbledore

Baron Young
Bassoon

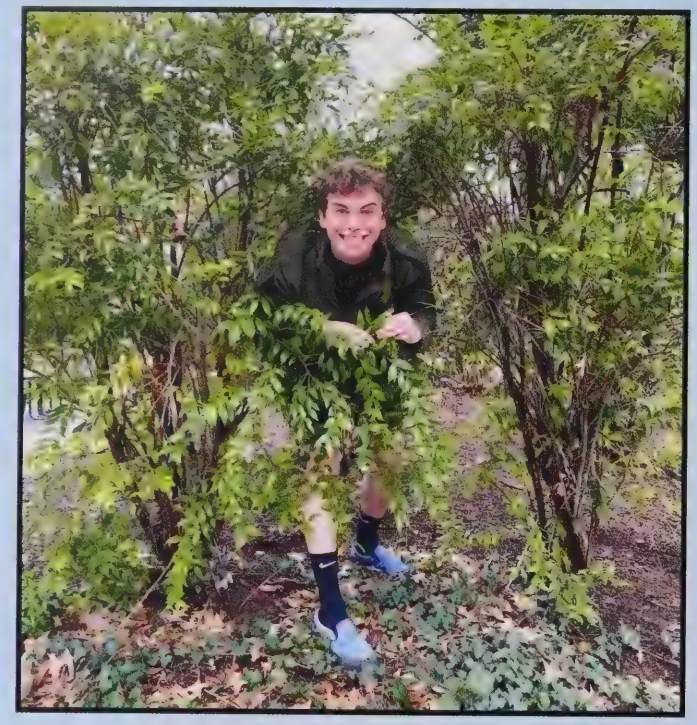
"I'm going to need more than a Dr. Pepper for this."
- L Morgan

Yaruo "Daisy" Zhou

Violin

"When something is delicious, it's zero calories."

Senior



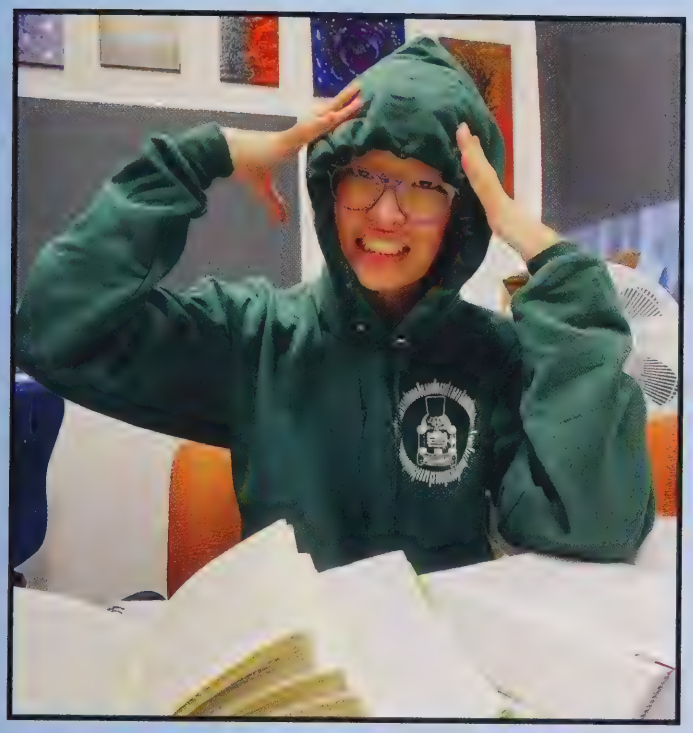
Most Likely to Go Off the Grid
Jake Genderson

Drinks the Most Coffee in a Day
Rae Garrison

Most Likely to Brighten Your Day
Meredith Brown

Most Likely to be Caught Sleeping in Class
Bella Exum

Superlatives



Worst Case of Senioritis
Lina Sinsheimer

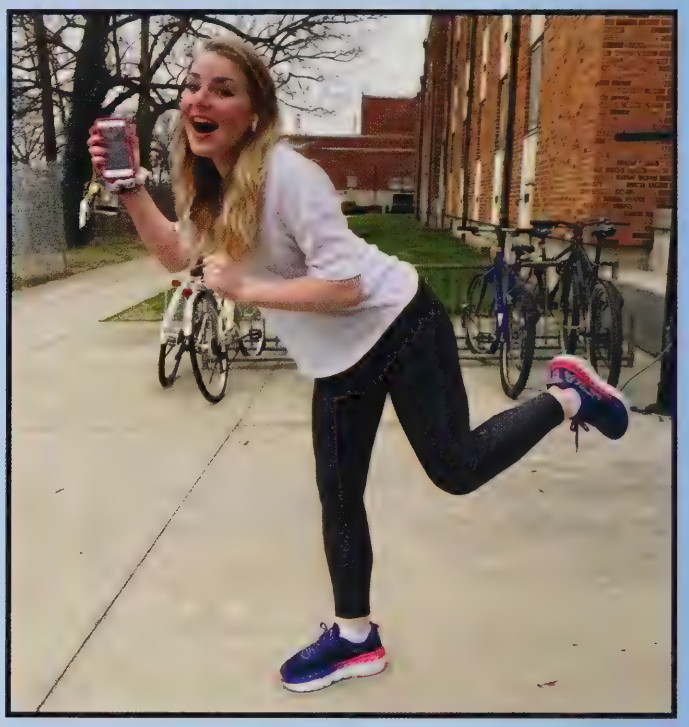
Best Dressed
Grant Kennedy

Best Roommates
Mack Moseley and Maya Goldsmitth

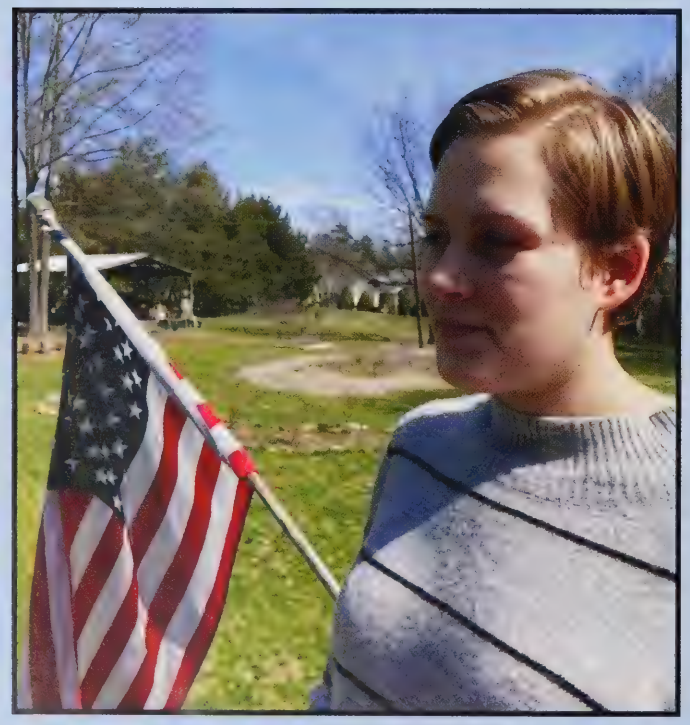
Most Likely to Plan Our 50 Year Reunion
Mikayla Durham

Senior

Never Seen Apart
Grace Ficara, Daniel McNeil, and Hailey Meyers



Most Likely to be Late to Graduation
Karen Mason



Most Likely to be President
Beth Henson

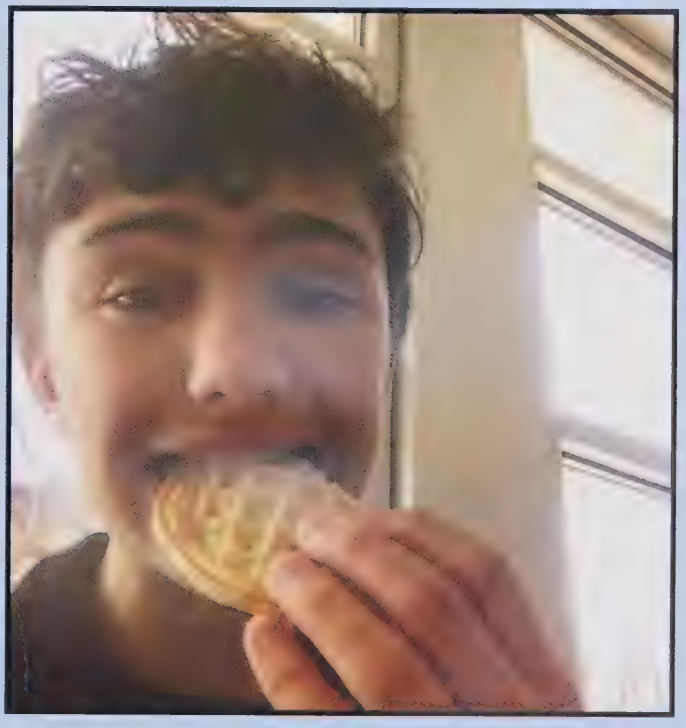
Best Laugh
Sara Gordon

Superlatives

Most Likely to Lose Their OneCard
Michaell O'Neill

Most Likely to Become Famous
Evelyn Robinson

Most Likely to Get an Infraction
Logan Phelps

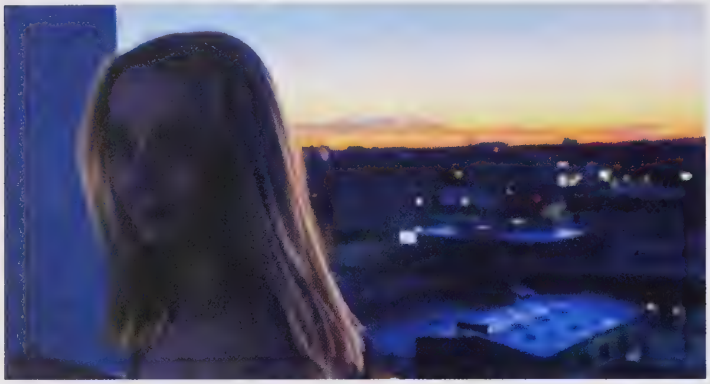


Best Cafeteria Hacker
David Schell

Maddie,

We have loved being part of your life journey. Watching you dance through the trials and joys of growing up and supporting you through all has been our pleasure. You have the strength and perseverance to accomplish anything that you set your heart on.

YOU ARE READY!

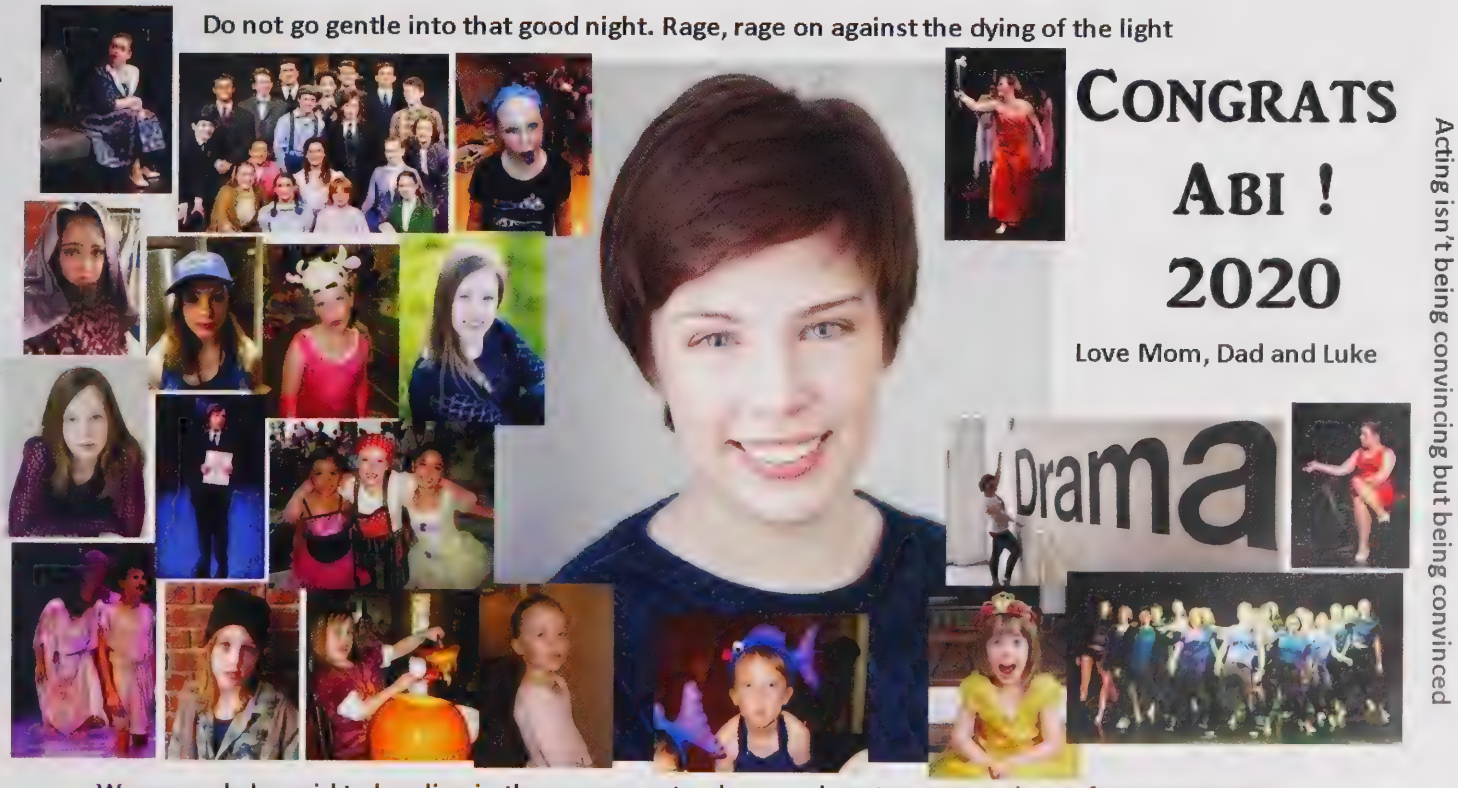


Love, Dad, Mom, Belle, & Lila

Jackson, We couldn't be prouder of the person you are!
We love you so much and will always be your biggest fans!
Mom, Dad, Lil & Myla

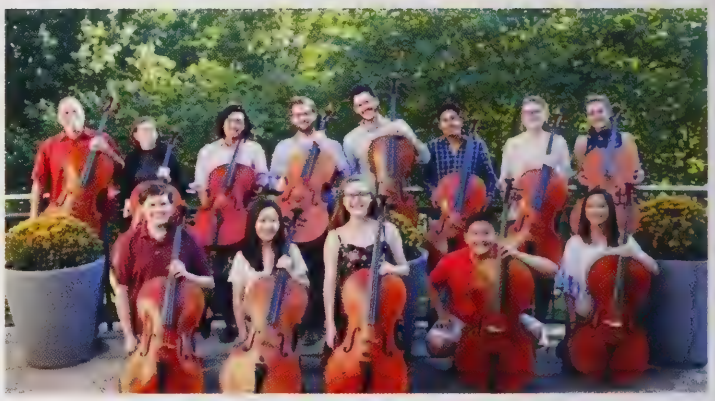
Congratulations to our baby girl, Rachel Fontenot!
Class of 2020

The LORD says, "I will guide you along the best pathway for your life. I will advise you and watch over you." -Psalm 32:8
We are so proud of you and the bright future that awaits you.
Love- Mom, Cliff, Rileigh, Fisher, Brooke, and Nicole



Do not go gentle into that good night. Rage, rage on against the dying of the light
CONGRATS ABI ! 2020
Love Mom, Dad and Luke
Drama
Dance is the hidden language of the soul of the body
Acting isn't being convincing but being convinced
We can only be said to be alive in those moments when our hearts are conscious of our treasures

Congratulations Madam President Johanna Di Norcia!



You left home at age 13 to pursue your dreams. We were not ready to let you go, but we knew deep down this was the right choice for you. We watched you time and again stretch beyond your comfort zone; we are so proud of the young lady you have become. Keep following your heart and let your star shine bright.

Love Mom, Dad and Izzy

CONGRATULATIONS!!
YOU DID IT!!
We are so proud of YOU!

We are with you all the way.

Love,

Dad, Mom, April, Karen, Ben and Grace

Congratulations Beth!

Beth, you are amazing!

You are loved for the little girl you were then,

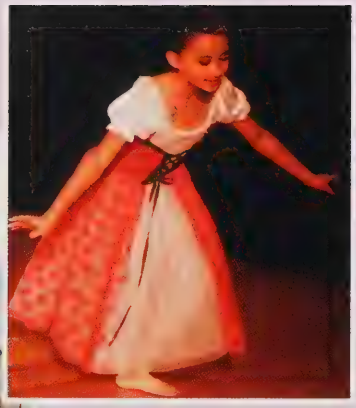
The special woman you are now,

And the awesome daughter and big sister you will always be.

May God richly bless you as you start this next chapter in your story!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Class of 2020

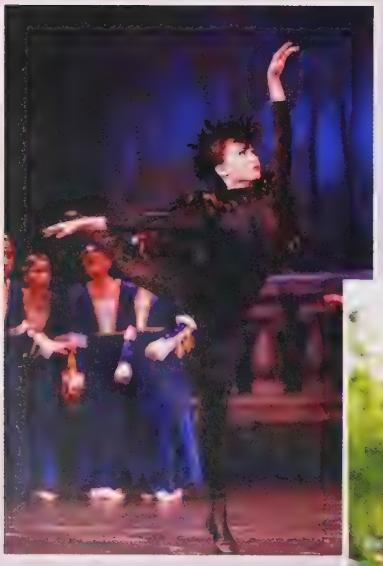


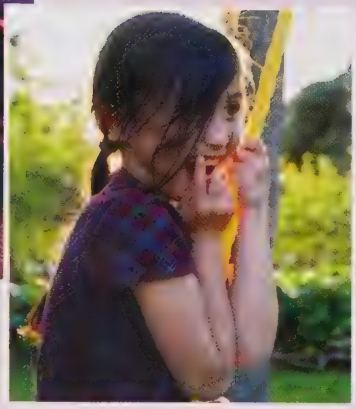
Maia

YOLO!

Always believe in yourself and know that anything is possible. Congratulations on all your hard work! Remember it's about the journey, not the destination. Embrace all of it because that's what has shaped you into the strong and amazing person & artist you are! The best is yet to come!

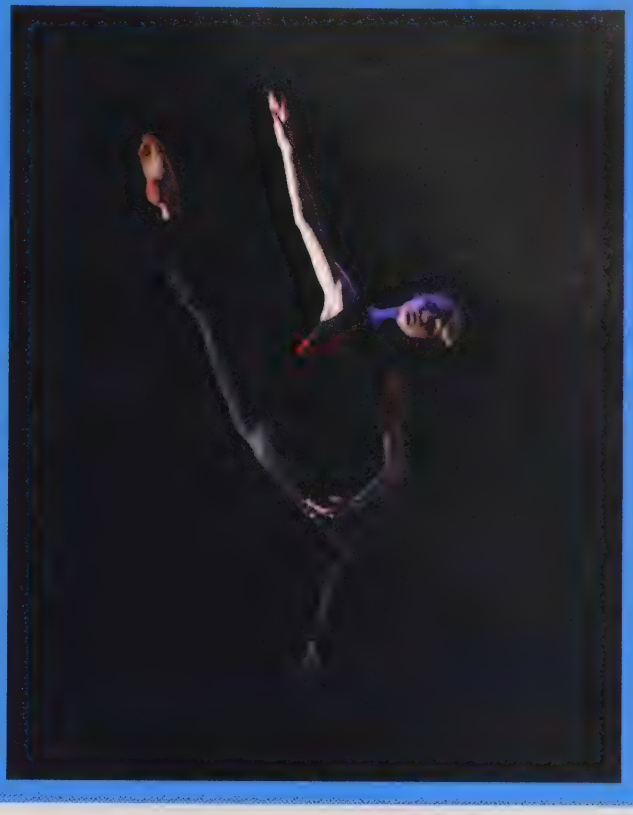
We love you!
Mom & Dad





CONGRATULATIONS son on completing this chapter of your journey. You are, and will always be, the best version of yourself and we are so blessed to call you ours. We love you more than words can express are excited to watch you navigate your way through the next few chapters in your life. We are with you every step of the way and will always believe in you. You are no longer a boy, but always our son. Love Always, Mom & Dad

CONGRATULATIONS GRANT CLASS OF 2020!



And so, your adventure begins.....

There are no words that can express how excited and proud we are of you! Keep reaching for your dreams! We are here for you always!

We LOVE you,
Mom and Dad

Joshua Brandon Hill
Class of 2020

Congratulations Joshua,
I am so very proud of you and all you have accomplished. I can't wait to see what your future holds.
"Dream Big and Work Hard"
Love you a Bushel & a Peck, Mom

Abbey Skye

Our dearest Abbey, It seems like just yesterday we were watching you twirl around the house, arms up over your head, a big bright smile on your face. While you will always be our baby ballerina, it has been a privilege to watch you grow into a fearless young woman and a courageous artist who is brave enough to share her gifts with the world. No matter what path you take, we know that your inner light will guide you well. We are so very proud of you and cannot wait to watch this journey of yours unfold. Go forth, be bold, be brave, be you.

Love, Mommy, Daddy, Owen, Ollie, Grandma, Papa, and Grammy

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are small matters compared to what lies within us." —Ralph Waldo Emerson

Molly Quinn Hefner

What a blessing it's been to see a bright-eyed dreamer turn into an amazing achiever!

May you always dream big,
follow your heart,
do what you love,
cherish moments--not things,
and no matter where your thrilling adventures lead you, may you never forget the way home, where you will be loved unconditionally--always and forever!

Dad, Mom, and Riley

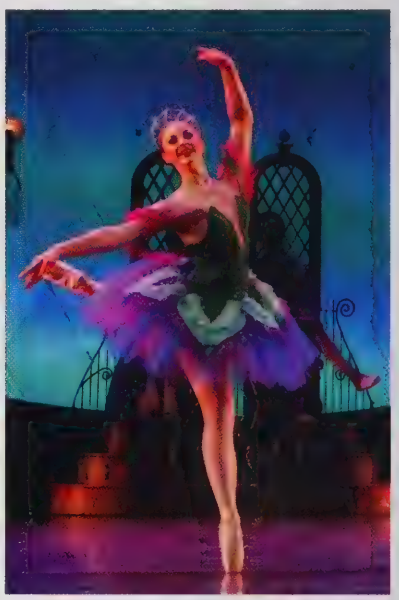
"Anything is possible if you've got the nerve." Ginny Weasley

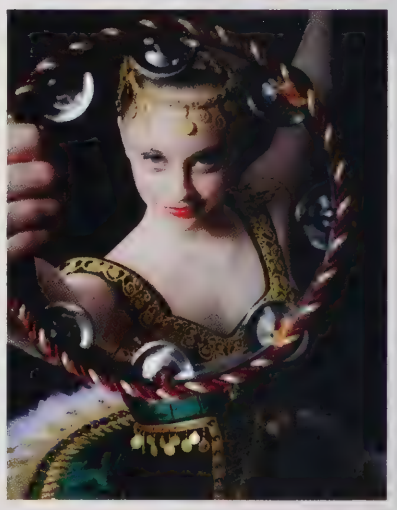
Peyton, you are such a brave young lady with integrity, giving your all to everything you set your mind to! It has given all of us such joy to be on this amazing journey with you, and we will be here as you embark on your future aspirations! We Love You!

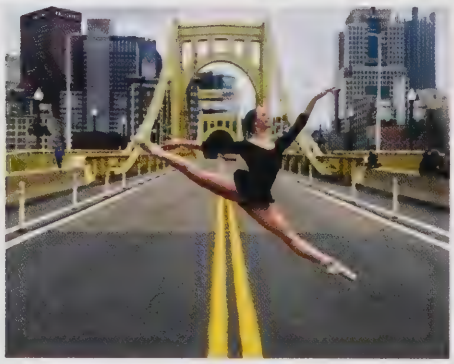
"Working hard is important, but there is something that matters even more: believing in yourself." Harry Potter

Lane Dallape

Celebrating you and all that you've accomplished!
You are the most kind hearted, dedicated, and hardest working girl we know and you have achieved so much.
We are so very proud of you and know that you have many great things waiting for you in your future!







We love you!
M, D, and T :-)

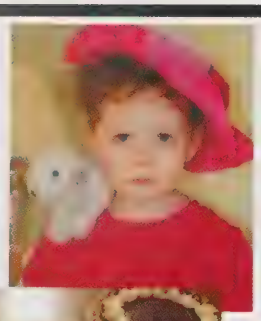
Cora McAnulty

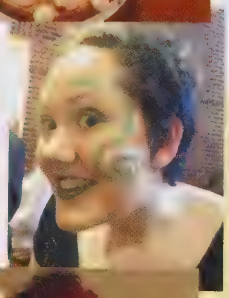
Our Dearest Cora,

We're incredibly proud of you and your accomplishments. From potty training to riding a bike (you can ride a bike, can't you?). From writing in cursive to texting. From coloring in the lines to creating charcoal reductions.

Now, as you say goodbye to high school, we dream that you will follow your passion and pursue a life that makes this world a better place. We dream that you will learn from your setbacks and never stop dreaming. And of course, we dream that someday you will pay your own cell phone bill.

Love you, Mom and Dad (and Lily and Henry too)

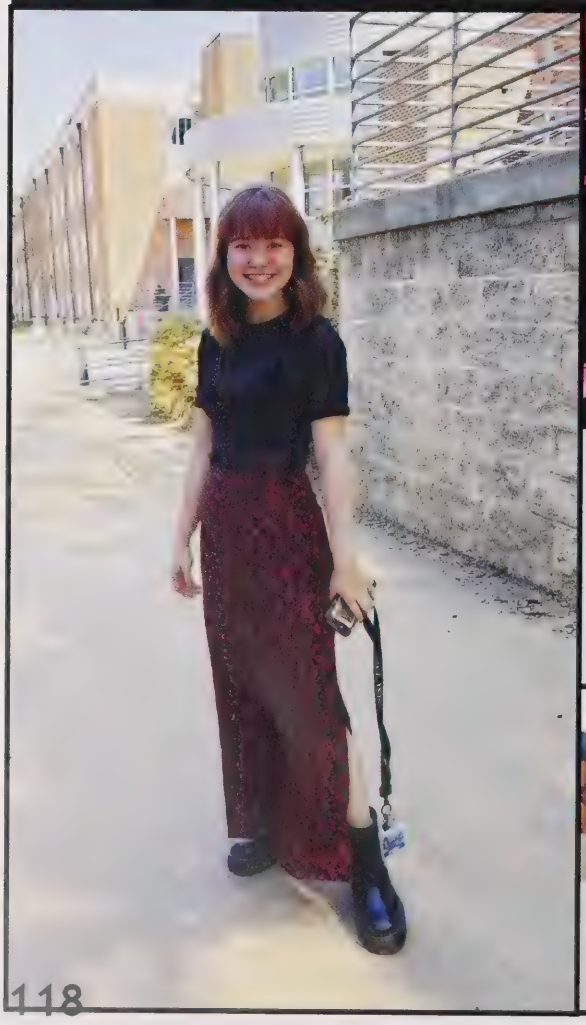




Congratulations Cora!

Wise. Funny. Talented. So many amazing things about you. We are proud of you. We love you!
Mom and Dad

UNCSA! It has been an honor to serve as your official sister moms for the past three years. We are incredibly proud of everyone at this school and all you will accomplish, and we hope you remember we're always here to provide love and support whenever needed!
- Beth and Lina



Abigail,
As you celebrate graduation-above all know that you are loved! We are so proud of you. Enjoy each step in your life journey. Always be true to yourself. We love you! Mom, Dad, Granny, Grandma and Granddad.

Eva Rose Caroline Cole

Class of 2020

"You are enough!"

Be fearless in pursuit of your dreams.

You are greatly loved!

Momma, Daddy, Mary Grace

Buddy & Baby

When I growe up
I will bea artist.
It will be fun.

And it has been! Congratulations Ace - We love you!

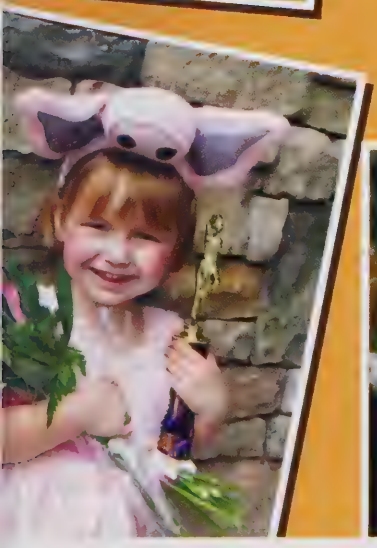
Mom, Dad, Garrett, Charlie, Kylo, Arya and Jerry

Congratulations, Margaux!

You are an amazing person with incredible talent, drive, smarts, creativity, and integrity. You know what you want and go for it - a rare quality and character strength. Never give up your passion for self-expression and advocacy. They are treasures for you and the world. We are infinitely proud of and thankful for you. "When you get the choice to sit it out or dance, I hope you dance." Roots and wings and infinite love, Mom & Dad

When I think of my sister I think of someone who will always be there for me even when I can't be there for myself. I think of someone who will forgive me when I hurt her and will occasionally bite her tongue when she can easily say I told you so. I think of someone who is strong and powerful, but carries herself with a radiating grace everywhere she goes. I think of how proud I am of my sister, and what she has accomplished, but I am most excited to see the amazing things what she will accomplish in the future. Love, Rémy

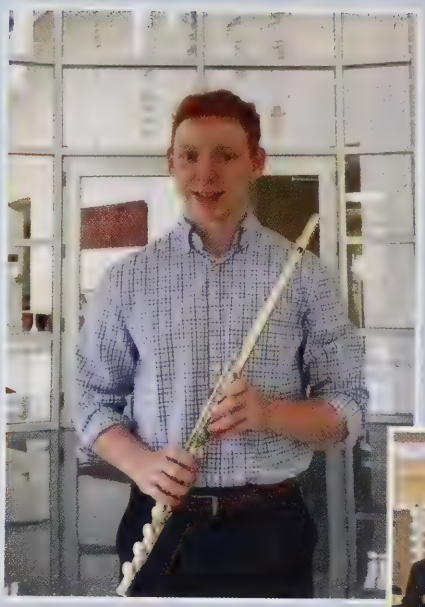
"J'accepte la grande aventure d'être moi"
Simone de Beauvoir



"I believe in kindness. And in mischief. And in singing. Especially when singing is not necessarily prescribed."
-Mary Oliver

We love you and are so proud of you. Reach for the stars and make them more beautiful with your song!
Love, Mom and Dad

Congratulations Will O'Donoghue!

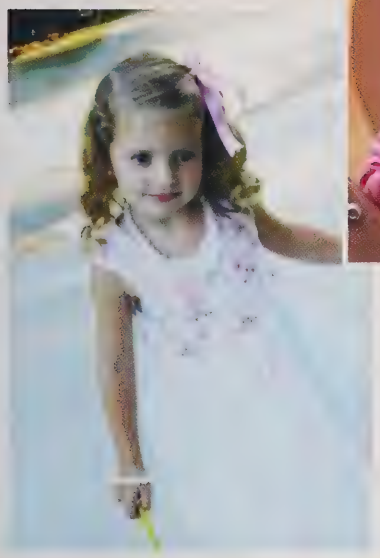


"Always remember you matter, you're important and you are loved, and you bring to this world things no one else can."
Charlie Mackesy

We love you,
Mom, Dad & Jack

Class of 2020
School of Music
Flute/Piccolo

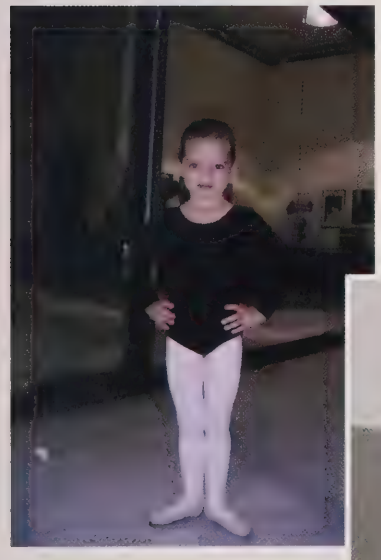
Elena, You're finally graduating! We're so proud of you!
Wir lieben Dich sehr! Love - Mom, Dad, Ami, Apo & Oskar

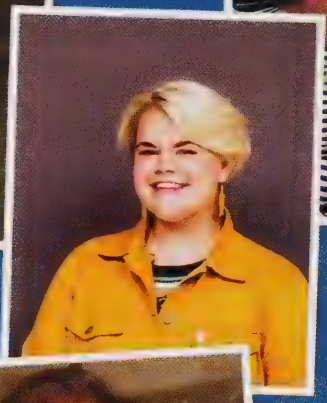


"Without courage, we cannot practice any other virtue with consistency. We can't be kind, true, merciful, generous, or honest."
Maya Angelo

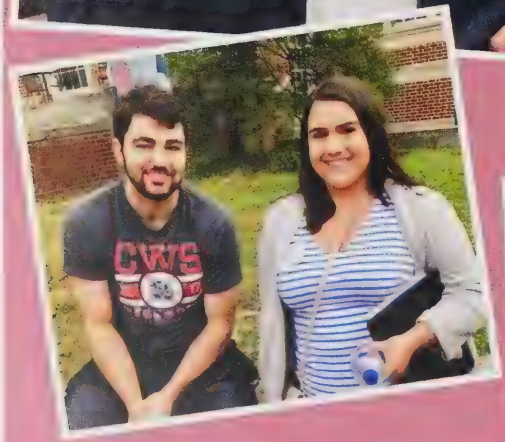
Daniela,

We are proud of your courage to make trails where paths can't be found. We are proud of your kindness and hard work. Keep believing in your dreams.
Congratulations, we love you!
Mamae, Papai and Aidan



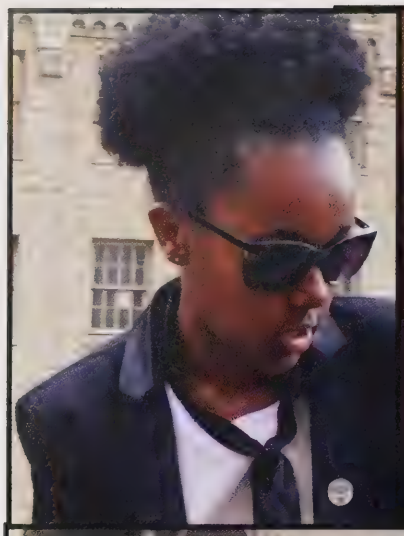


We are so proud of you, Marshall! You are the light of our lives, & it has been a privilege to watch you grow into the young man you are today. We look forward to watching you continue your amazing life adventure. Happy Graduation! We love you to the moon & back, Mom and Dad



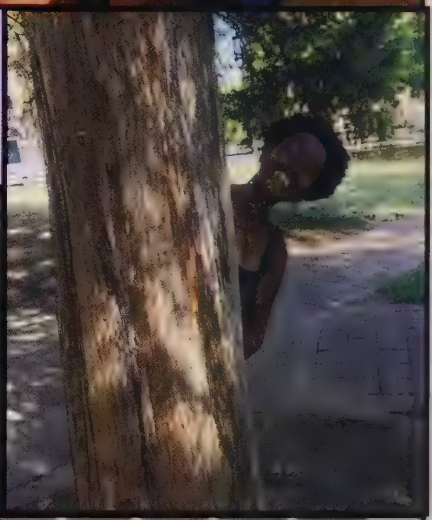
Congratulations, Lucy! We love you and are so proud of you! Love, Mom, Dad, Gray, & Charlotte.

Bella Boo
We love you beyond the moon and are so proud of you. Keep shining your light.
Love
Mama, Dad, Sawyer,
Mimi, Granddaddy & Porter
"If one has courage, nothing can dim the light which shines from within."
~Maya Angelou
EXUMPHOTO.COM

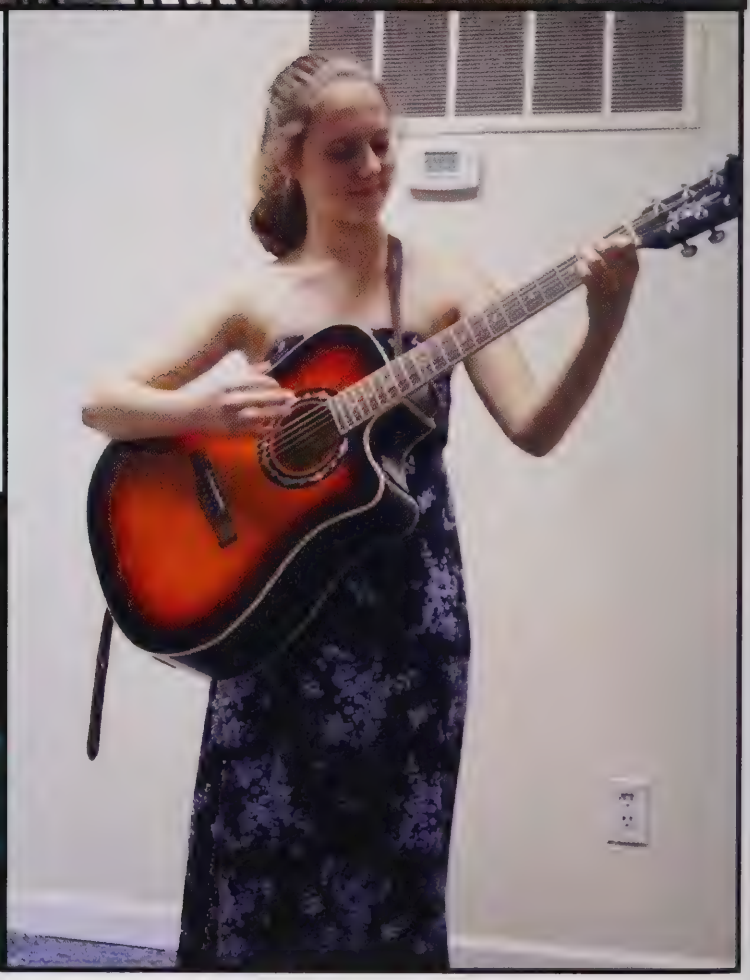


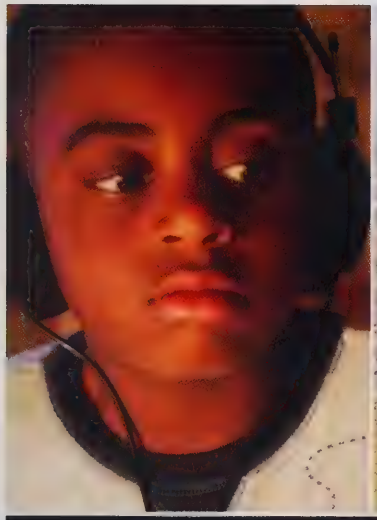
We are proud of you not only as a fine musician who has worked hard, but a decent, caring and vibrant human being.

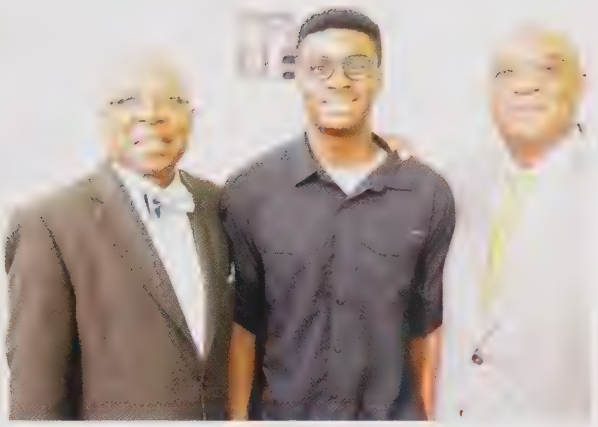
-Your family



Alexis, Right from when you were a baby til today, you have only given us reasons to hold our heads up in pride and joy. We are so lucky to have you in our life. Congratulations and best of luck for a successful career. Love, Mom and Dad





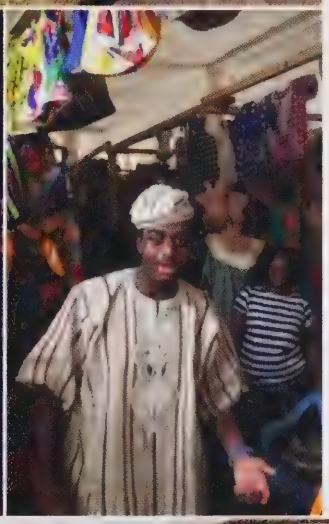


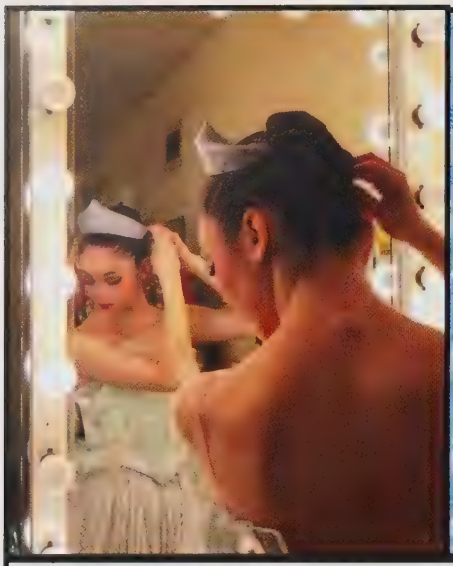
To our very own Joseph, the Dreamer.

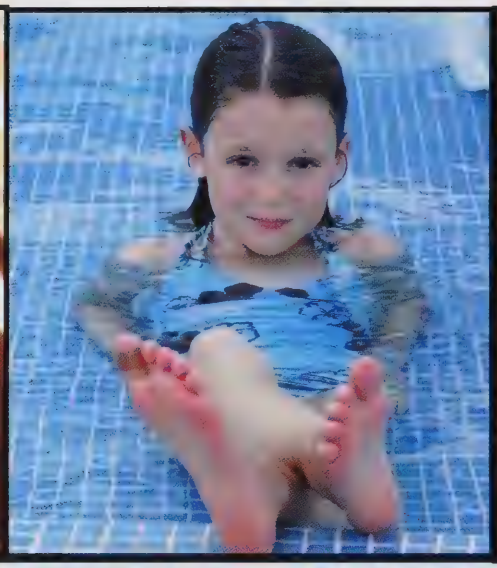
We love you and are so thankful that you are in our life every single day.

"Dream dreams, love loves, reach for the sky. You have failed only when you have failed to try."

Love,
Mom and Dad







Darling Liddy,

Louisa May Alcott said "Strong convictions precede great actions." From the day you were in kindergarten declaring "I don't make mistakes," to the incredible young woman that stands before us now, you have always had the courage of your convictions. Now take the wheel firmly with both hands, continue to be fearless in pursuing your dreams, and remember to enjoy the journey along the way.

Much Love,
Mum and Dad

I'm so so proud of you, Jane! You are such a special and talented young lady and I know you will go far in life. You are the light of my life, and I love you very much.
Love, Mom

HAILEY
GRACE
BROOKE
JAMIL
ELIZABETH
SARAH
OLIVIA
HELEN
ADA
JAKE
MEREDITH
EMMA AVA
PRESTON
HOPE
AMIR
ARI ARBOR
CAMERON
KELSIE
EVAN
ROMELLO
RUTH
EMMA
BILL
ALANNAH
MONIQUE
NATASHA
ARMAN
NOAH
SOPHIE
BRETT
GRACE
MADISON
DANIEL
CARTER

Abigail Bohannon! You definitely are the best dressed, don't let the haters bring you down. So happy I met you this year.

Cobi Williams makes me laugh every single day, and the room always gets brighter when he walks in.

Annie Winkelman manages to be insanely smart and an absolute ray of sunshine! She brightens my day every time I see her, and she is going to do amazing things.

Ash PC has an enchanting voice and I hope the world will get to hear their amazing music.

Cora McAnulty is so talented. She will be the next greatest artistic influence of our generation, mark my words.

David Schell has the sweetest personality and always cheers up your day when he walks in the room.

Cora Therber is the funniest, hardest working, and most dedicated artist. I admire their strong personality and their bluntness makes me laugh.

Alexis Ward, you see the world through such a beautiful lense, and your connection to and love of the outdoors has really shaped the way I view it. You are such a beautiful soul, and I feel so privileged to be your friend.

Heather Blake is incredibly talented and an actual ray of sunshine. Light of my life.

Davin Shim you're honestly a really funny guy, and you always make math class entertaining.

Erika Bradley I love you so much!

It's impossible not to be inspired when I see Evelyn Robinson dance. She has such an obvious love for and mastery of her craft.

There isn't anyone who works harder or is more organized than Irma Nelson, and that's on periodt!

Jane is one of the best roommates I've ever had. Seriously my best mode of support! I couldn't ask for anyone better in my life.

Jenny Colavito is so sweet, so gorgeous, and I really appreciate that at 8 AM she's always in a good mood, it makes my mornings better.

Amanda Harrell is genuinely, absolutely hilarious! She is such a sweet and caring person, and I am so excited to see her go so far in life.

Ben Burson has such a beautiful soul. He is grounded, accountable, and I appreciate his sense of humor.

Katherina Tsai: Best roomie ever! Thanks for saving my life this year! You always got my back! I love all of our late night sister chats and Katherina Ted talks. I can't wait to meet up with you in 10 years and hear about all the amazing things you've accomplished and about all your crazy college experiences!

Katherine Nettles (Kettles!) you are a powerhouse! You're working hard every time I see you, and it's always very inspiring.

Leslie Harker is the most creative and pure intentioned person I've ever met. It's inspiring to know someone honest enough to speak their mind.

Lina Sinsheimer will be the best diplomat the US has ever seen. She is the sweetest, most beautiful person whom I've had the honor to be friends with.

Cristian Makhuli: Dude you're crazy talented, and your performance in perf hour was literally one of the best ones we've ever had.

Ruth Kelley is so incredibly talented, yet also humble and kind. She has already taught me so much about life. I am grateful to know her.

Lulu Price is the definition of an angel. She is so sweet, has the cutest smile, and makes the world around her better just by existing.

Mariclaire Livingston: MC! You work so freaking hard without ever compromising! It's so inspiring! Also I love listening to music, eating rice crackers, and just laughing with you while we talk about life.

Without Mrs. George, I wouldn't have gotten through senior year. Thanks for the constant hugs and sarcastic comments.

Mrs. Willey is the frickin' bomb.com.

Nicholas Meyers has been a saving grace in newspaper all year. He's always ready to step up and help wherever he can, and his dedication is so appreciated. Also he is a genius.

To Alana Merrell: you're my best mate, you're absolutely fit, and I love you!

Rileah Byrd is awesome.

Long live the Perc Pals. Thank you for keeping me sane through these last few years.

Rosie Nelson is an amazing person with such a beautiful personality! My best cookie friend ;)

Ruth Shumway: Ok baddie! I see you! You literally conquer everything you do, and it's incredibly impressive.

Seeing Sara Gordon automatically makes my day better. I have never met someone who brings more joy and passion with them wherever they go. Bro you are my sunflower.

Sara Lockett, I am genuinely obsessed with you and your style.

Sydney Urmston is the most caring friend! She is always true to herself. She is so incredibly talented and gives the BEST hugs.

Haley Evans is so sweet and kind. When she writes the next great American novel we will all be reading it.

Thank you to the editors who stay late every day to work on this!

Marisa Bringewatt is super sweet.

Jojo DiNorcia is the sweetest person I've ever met. She's always so warm and welcoming and she's going to go so far!

Doriana Spurrell you're such a positive person! Your voice is beautiful, your guitar playing is lovely, and you as a human being are delightful!

Jiacheng Li has such a strong sense of initiative and passion for life. I love that he tries to make sure everyone feels appreciated.

Lucy Calaway is genuinely hilarious. I love having classes with her, and she never fails to make me smile.

Ezra Alderman is adorable.

Xia Raburn thank you for blessing the BRED class with Crawford! He truly has defined this year.

Mrs. Douglass is the reason I am who I am today. Seriously one of the most influential people in my life thus far. Without her, I wouldn't have realized my love for government.

Lydia Bloomfield is so funny and I really love being around her. She makes hard work not feel as hard, and is an absolute pleasure.

Grace Anthony has always been the sweetest person and I adore the way she always seems excited to talk to me.

Ian He is funny as hell and has a lot more insight into the world than people might assume.

I have so much respect for Rachel Fontenot.

Sara Kwak thank you for constantly offering me food. You are so generous.

I want to be Ms. Thomspon when I grow up. She is such an energetic, powerful, wonderful person and I am thankful for the impact she has made on my life.

I literally have a crush on everyone at this school... what a group of incredible people.

Grant Kennedy might be the most beautiful person I've ever met (inside and out).

Julien Marcellin-Little is the coolest.

Beth Henson is the most loving person you'll ever meet. She is so intelligent and warm. Her heart is so big and she's the best plant mom ever.

Mikayla Durham has this magnetism about her and makes genuine connections with everyone she meets.

Mr. Bo, thank you for the past four years. It has meant the world to me.

Cat Harris has grown the most out of everyone I've ever met.

Anna Hendrick: thank you for bringing the yearbook to life with your artist's vision and giving it the UNCSA flare it deserves!

Thank you for being in my life Brianna Altman, I love you!

Mrs. Yokeley puts such effort into making her classes fun and helpful, and the daily celebrations always make me happy!

Madeleine Limmer your accent is the best thing I've ever heard. You're also incredibly kind, motivated, and stunning.

Grace Lee you rock!

Wadsworth

Walsworth®